2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years, in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto.

W. W. HORNELL,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

1. Name of candidate ... ...

Arrangements will be made for systematic courses of lectures, tutorial classes, moot courts and exercises. Facility will also be given to students to read in the College Library. Babu Haradhan Nag, one of the Professors of the College, will be present in the Reading Room to assist the students in their studies in the Library.

The College fees will be Rs. 6 per month. An admission fee of Rs. 6 will be charged in the case of first admission to the College.

Sixteen scholarships of Rs. 10 a month, each tenable for one year, have been established. Five of these will be open to competition among students of the First-year Class, six among the students of the Second-year Class and five among the students of the Third-year Class. The scholarships in the First-year Class will be awarded towards the end of September, upon the results of the College test to be held at that time; those in the Second-year Class will be awarded upon the results of the Preliminary Examination in Law, and those in the Third-year Class upon the results of the Intermediate Examination in Law. All these scholarships take effect retrospectively from the beginning of the session. Twenty-four scholarships of Rs. 6 a month, tenable for one year, will also be awarded from the endowment established by the Maharaja Manindrachandra Nandy of Cossimbazar. Students who have graduated from the Krishnath College, Berhampur, will have a preferential claim to these scholarships. But no scholarship will be awarded to a student who has not satisfactorily acquitted himself at the University or College Examination, as the case may be.

Two scholarships of Rs. 32 a month, each tenable for two years, have been established, to be open to competition among students who have prosecuted their studies in the University Law College not less than a year. The award will be made upon the results of the Final Examination in Law and on condition that the recipients do prosecute a course of study for the M.L. Examination under the direction of the Principal.

Provision has been made for the residence of students who do not reside with their parents or bonâ-fide guardians approved by the Principal of the College. There is accommodation for the residence of 150 students in that portion of the College premises known as the Hardinge Hostel. For students in excess of this number, separate houses have been engaged, sufficient to accommodate another two hundred. A separate house has also been engaged for Muhammadan students. As accommodation in the Hardinge Hostel and in the attached messes is strictly limited, students are advised to apply before the 22nd June 1914.

Students are recommended in all cases to take their admission before the 6th July 1914.

To the College is attached an extensive Law Library containing numerous sets of Reports and Text-books. The Library is divided into two sections—(A) for reference, (B) for lending. Books in Section (A) may be consulted by students at any time from 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. Books in Section (B) may be borrowed by students; no deposit is required, if one volume is borrowed Those who deposit Rs. 5 are allowed to borrow two volumes at a time.

The College is held in the spacious apartments of the Darbhanga Buildings and ample provision has been made for Reading Rooms.

Courses of lectures will be delivered for the benefit of M.L. students. Except by special order, no one will be admitted to M.L. lectures who has not taken his Degree in Law from the University College.

All applications for admission are to be addressed to the Principal, University Law College, Senate House, Calcutta. Further information, as also a detailed programme of the work and rules for residence in the Hardinge Hostel, may be obtained on application to the Vice-Principal, University Law College, Senate House, Calcutta.

The Triennial Reports on the administration of the Registration Department, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Bengal for the years 1908, 1909 and 1910, and the Government Resolutions recorded thereon.

THIS Report on the administration of the Registration Department during the three years ending the 31st December 1913 relates to the area covered by the existing Presidency of Bengal as constituted on the 1st April 1912. Before that date, the post of Inspector-General of Registration in the old province of Bengal was held by Nawab Syed Mahomed, Khan Bahadur, I.S.O. In Eastern Bengal and Assam, Major W. M. Kennedy, I.A., was in charge of the Department up to the 3rd September 1911, when he was succeeded by Mr. J. Donald, I.C.S., who held charge until the dissolution of the province. On the constitution of the new Presidency, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur was appointed Inspector-General of Registration, and held charge for the rest of the triennial period under review.

2. The most important event of the period was the reorganisation of the Department necessitated by the territorial changes of 1912. The registration work in the five divisions, which now constitute the Presidency of Bengal, was much heavier than in the areas comprised in the new provinces of Bihar and Orissa and Assam. On the 1st April 1912, there were 290 registration offices in the former province of Bengal and 257 in Eastern Bengal and Assam. Of these offices no less than 381 were in the area constituting the new Presidency, while 129 were in Bihar and Orissa and 37 in Assam. The duties of the new Inspector-General in this Presidency were therefore much more onerous than those of his predecessors in either of the old provinces, while the Registration Department in the new Presidency, composed as it was of portions of two pre-existing provinces, had to face the further difficulty of co-ordinating the system of administration in force in its eastern and western portions. This co-ordination involved an examination not merely of the statutory rules and tables of fees prescribed under the Registration Act, but also of such questions as the recruitment, promotion and transfers of Sub-Registrars and other matters of administration, in regard to which the two former provinces had proceeded on widely divergent lines. Mr. Mukharji in his report has given a list of twenty questions of considerable complexity and importance, which have engaged attention during the last two years, and nearly all of which are directly due to the territorial re-adjustments of 1912.

3. The greater part of the work of co-ordination has now been completed. The statutory rules and table of fees have been made uniform throughout the Presidency. The cadre of the service has been fixed with the sanction of the Government of India, and the system of administration in the two parts of the province has been brought into line on all essential points. Among other important reforms effected, the following may be noted. The pay of probationers has been raised from Rs. 20 to Rs. 30 and a departmental examination has been introduced to test their knowledge and acquirements before confirmation. Funds have been allotted for improving the conditions of rural offices, which have long been recognised as notoriously bad, and a regular building programme has been initiated. The leave reserve of the Department has been increased from 8 to 12 per cent. in order to obviate the necessity of appointing outsiders or ministerial officers to officiate in temporary vacancies. The important office of the Registrar of Calcutta has been reorganised, and a separate whole-time officer has been appointed Registrar of Joint-Stock and Insurance Companies. Proposals which had long been pending in the old provinces for the improvement of the pay of the ministerial and menial establishments are now being matured. The administration of the Department is growing more complex, and throws an ever-increasing burden of work on District Officers, and it is therefore necessary to devise some scheme which will enable a more careful selection to be made of Rural Sub-Registrars for promotion to posts as District Sub-Registrars. Finally, a solution will have to be found of the difficult problem of dealing with the constantly-growing mass of registration records, and it will have to be decided whether they are to be provided for by periodical additions to district record-rooms, or whether arrangements should be made to transfer the old records to some central building.

4. The ordinary work of the Department has continued to expand during the triennial period. The number of offices has increased from 376 to 392. Compulsory registrations affecting immovable property increased by 7 per cent. and optional registration of the same kind by 15·3 per cent.

The total number of registrations under all heads was 4,394,921 in the period under review, as compared with 4,117,104 in the preceding triennium. The receipts of the Department during the past three years amounted to over Rs. 53 lakhs, and the expenditure to Rs. 29½ lakhs, leaving a surplus of 23½ lakhs. As compared with the previous triennium, the receipts increased by 9 per cent., the expenditure by 2·9 per cent., and the surplus by 17·7 per cent.

5. The increase in registration transactions is shared by all the Divisions In the Burdwan Division, registration increased steadily, though not largely, owing to the increase in leases of waste lands, sales, mortgages and money bonds. In Midnapore, the remarkable increase in leases in 1912 was due to the then impending cadastral survey and settlement operations. The decrease in the number of transactions affecting land in Calcutta in 1912 is ascribed to the removal of the Capital to Delhi and to the passing of the Calcutta Improvement Act, but there was an increase of 8 per cent. in 1913, when the number of registrations was little less than in 1911. The increase in the Dacca Division, and especially in the Dacca district, in transactions exceeding Rs. 100 in value is very marked, and the explanation that it is due largely to the increasing value of land is probably correct. In Chittagong and Rajshahi the causes ascribed for the increase are various and throw little light on the economic conditions of those Divisions.

6. The Governor in Council desires to take this opportunity of acknowledging the services of Nawab Syed Mahomed, Khan Bahadur, I.S.O., Major Kennedy and Mr. Donald who controlled the Registration Department in Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam during the first part of the period under review. His special thanks are due to the Hon'ble Mr. Mukharji, the present Inspector-General of Registration, for his strenuous labours in connection with the reorganisation and administration of the Department during a period of unusual stress and change.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution together with a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department for information, Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,
Secretary. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 8th June 1914.

Summary.—During the week under report light to moderate rain fell generally throughout the Province. Ploughing of fields for winter rice and weeding of jute and bhadoi paddy are in progress. The prospects of standing crops are fair. Cattle-disease is reported from fourteen districts. The average price of common rice has slightly risen as compared with that of the previous week.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA.

Regulations made by the Board of Examiners under rule 30 of the Rules applying to coal-mines made under section 20 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, for the conduct of examinations for managers' certificates of competency.

(1) No member of the Board of Examiners shall act as a local examiner, except in emergent cases.

(2) When possible, one or more members of the Board of Examiners shall attend every examination on at least one of the days.

(3) So for as is practicable, the local examiners shall be—

(a) An Inspector of Mines, who shall be Secretary to the local examiners.

(b) Two Mining Engineers or Colliery Managers who must be the holders of first-class certificates. Provided that a Mining Professor may be appointed instead of one of the Mining Engineers or Managers.

(4) The remuneration of each local examiner shall be Rs. 150 for each examination, and a capitation fee of Rs. 2 for each first-class candidate and Re. 1 for each second-class candidate examined, and travelling expenses and halting allowances on the first-class scale under Civil Service Regulations; but an Inspector of Mines, acting as a local examiner, shall not be entitled to any fee or remuneration whatsoever, beyond the travelling expenses and halting allowances due to him in his official capacity.

(5) The subjects for examination shall be—

(a) Arithmetic and handwriting.

(b) Practical and theoretical coal-mining, including surface and underground arrangements, sinking, timbering, ventilation, gases met with in coal-mines, a knowledge of plans, surveying and levelling, and of the various instruments used in mining. Questions may also be asked upon geology, sanitation, hydraulics, explosives, safety-lamps and similar subjects. The candidates may also be required to show how to arrange the ventilation and haulage of a mine on a given plan.

(c) Practical mechanics, including steam, steam-engines, steam-boilers, pumps and strength of materials; and questions may be asked upon electricity and compressed air as applied to coal-mining.

(d) The Indian Mines Act, 1901, and rules made under the Act.

(6) The examinations shall be both written and oral, and the subjects and conditions shall be the same for candidates for both classes of certificates; but the examination questions shall be made suitable for each class of certificate.

The examiners shall have power to eliminate the oral examination in the case of candidates who do not reach a standard in the written examination to be prescribed by the Board of Examiners.

(7) The following shall be the maximum number of marks given for each subject:—

SUBJECT.	FIRST CLASS			SECOND CLASS.
	Papers.	Viva voce.	Total.	Papers.	Viva voce.	Total.
(a) Arithmetic and handwriting ...	50	...	50	50	...	50
(b) Mining	160	60	220	140	80	220
(c) Mechanics	110	40	150	100	50	150
(d) Indian Mines Act	60	20	80	50	30	80
Total ...	380	120	500	340	160	500

(8) No candidate who fails to obtain 66 per cent. of the total number of marks, or 33 per cent. in either of the subjects of mining or mechanics, shall be passed by the examiners, and if a candidate fails to obtain 33 per cent. of the marks given for either of the subjects of arithmetic and handwriting or the Indian Mines Act, any marks he may have obtained in such subjects shall not be included when the total is determined.

(9) Before each examination each candidate shall declare whether he presents himself for a first-or second-class certificate. No candidate for a second-class certificate shall be eligible at that examination for a first-class certificate, but a candidate for a first-class certificate, who does not reach the necessary standard, may, nevertheless, at the discretion of the local examiners, be recommended to the Board of Examiners for a second-class certificate, if, in their opinion, he has done sufficiently well to deserve it.

(10) The Secretary to the local examiners shall report, by registered post, the result of the examination, giving the number of marks obtained by each candidate in each subject, to the President of the Board of Examiners within one month of the close of the examination.

(11) The questions which the local examiners intend to put in the examination papers shall be submitted in draft to the Board of Examiners, for approval, at least six weeks before the date of the examination. Answers to questions on arithmetic and those involving calculations and all plottings and levellings must be submitted to the Board of Examiners along with the question papers.

(12) At least one examination shall be held annually in one of the Bengal or Bihar and Orissa coal-fields; and in other parts of India examinations will be held whenever, in the opinion of the Board of Examiners, the number of candidates in a coal-mining centre justifies the holding of an examination.

(13) No candidate will be allowed to take part in the examination until he has produced an authorization from the Board of Examiners.

(14) Every candidate must sign his name at the top of every page of the paper on which he gives the answers to the questions. He must also sign a register in the presence of the examiners.

(15) The number of the question must be given in bold figures before the answer to each question.

(16) The calculations and work by which a result is obtained must be clearly shown in immediate connection with the answer to each question.

(17) Answers must be strictly confined to the questions asked.

(18) Sketches may be made to make answers clear.

(19) When sketches are asked for, it should be understood that, unless otherwise stated, free-hand sketches, with dimensions, are all that is necessary, and candidates should not spend time in making finished drawings.

(20) Any candidate speaking to any other candidate during the examination, or using any book, notes or private paper, or acting in any manner which the examiners consider improper will be liable to be disqualified at their discretion. The Board of Examiners may in such a case use their discretion as to allowing the candidate to sit at any future examination.

(21) When a candidate has completed the answers to the questions, or when the time allowed for answering the questions has elapsed, or he has been disqualified, he must hand the paper of questions and his answers to the examiners, and at once leave the examination-room.

(22) A time-table will be supplied to each candidate at the commencement of the first day's examination.

(23) The oral examination will be held at a subsequent date. Only those candidates who obtain a certain degree of proficiency in the written examination will be examined orally. Due notice of time and place will be sent to each candidate required by the examiners for oral examination.

(24) The number of marks given for each question will be shown in brackets at the end of the question.

(25) Ink and paper will be provided, and no paper other than the official paper provided may be used. Candidates must bring their own pens and pencils, drawing pens and drawing instruments, including a protractor.

All previous regulations are hereby cancelled.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

EXAMINATIONS.

Simla, the 6th June 1914.

No. 80.—The following amended rules* for the encouragement of the study of oriental languages which the Government of India have been pleased to make in supersession of all previous rules are published for general information. These rules will come into force from the date of this Notification. Changes in text-books, however, will come into force from 1st April 1915.

* These rules do not in any way affect the departmental examinations or language examinations which officers have to pass under the orders of Local Governments.

I.—These rules are applicable, subject to the modifications stated below, to :—

(i) Officers of the Indian Civil Service.

(ii) Military officers in permanent civil employ.

(iii) Officers of the Political Department, including military officers in permanent political employ.

(iv) Members of the Burma Commission.

(v) Officers of the Indian Educational Service.

(vi) Officers of the Imperial Branch of the Indian Police Service.

(vii) Chaplains.

(x) Officers of the Imperial Forest Service.

Officers of the Political Department, including military officers in permanent political employ, will be eligible, under the rules obtaining in the adjoining presidency or province, for rewards for passing examinations in the vernacular languages spoken in the agency or province in which they are serving.

The following restrictions will apply to officers of the Indian Educational Service, viz., that a professor of any language cannot obtain a reward in that language, and that no officer will be permitted to receive rewards for passing by a given standard in more than two vernacular and two classical languages.

Chaplains are only eligible for rewards for passing examinations in the vernacular languages of the province in which they are serving, and no rewards will be given to such officers for passing in Arabic, Sanskrit or Persian. The examination of chaplains by the Higher Standard is regulated by the military rules, but in the case of chaplains serving in the North-West Frontier Province or Baluchistan, who may, under these rules, appear in the examinations in Pushtu and Baluchi, respectively, the examination is governed by the rules published with the Foreign Department Notification No. 1476-G., dated the 25th June 1909. The scale of rewards admissible to these officers for passing by the Higher Standard is laid down in paragraph 376 of the Army Regulations, India, Volume I, with the exception that no rewards will be given for Arabic, Sanskrit or Persian.

Officers of the Indian Agricultural Service, the Indian Civil Veterinary Department and the Imperial Forest Service are only eligible for rewards for passing the Proficiency and High Proficiency examinations in any vernacular language of the province in which they are serving. Officers of the Imperial Forest Service in Burma will continue to be eligible also for rewards for passing the Degree of Honour examination in Burmese.

II.—Candidates may present themselves for examination only in the languages recognised in the province in which they are serving. The languages recognised in each province, the standards of examination and the III.—No officer will be permitted to present himself for examination by two standards of the same language simultaneously, and there shall be an interval of at least one year between the Higher Standard and High Proficiency tests and also between the Proficiency and High Proficiency tests, and an interval of at least two years between the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour tests in the same language. A candidate may compete for the higher examinations in any language without first undergoing any inferior test, but if he passes in the higher test, he will not be permitted to go up afterwards and pass the lower test. He may, however, present himself for examination in more than one language on the same day, but in this case he will be required to perform the exercises within the time allotted for one.

An officer who has passed the Degree of Honour in any language may be allowed to appear again in the same test in that language under the conditions prescribed in rule XV.

IV.—No officer will ordinarily be permitted to appear more than twice as a candidate at the same examination; but if a special recommendation be made by the examiners a candidate will be allowed to appear a third time.

V.—No officer will be permitted to earn a reward for passing an examination by the Higher Standard or the Proficiency Standard after the expiration of ten years or the High Proficiency Standard after the expiration of fifteen years, counted from the date of his first arrival in India, provided that in the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, where there are several vernaculars, the Local Governments may, in exceptional cases, extend the time-limit in the case of the Proficiency and High Proficiency examinations in the vernaculars. In the case of an examination for the Degree of Honour standard there shall be no limit of time and an officer will be permitted to earn a reward by passing this examination at any time within the period of his service.

VI.—Officers may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiry of the periods specified in rule V, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the State. In such cases, it will be within the competence of Local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination, when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service.

In the case of military officers in permanent civil or political employ, the limit of time specified in rule V within which an officer can earn a reward for the Higher Standard, the Proficiency and the High Proficiency examinations, respectively, may, for special reasons, be extended by the Local Government, Resident or Agent to the Governor-General under whose orders the officer is serving.

In its application to police officers the period of time specified in rule V will be reckoned in the case of officers appointed after an examination held in this country from the date of appointment in India, the date of first arrival in India holding good for officers selected in England.

In the case of an officer of the Indian Educational Service or a Chaplain the period of time will be counted from the date of his first appointment to the Educational or Ecclesiastical Departments, respectively.

VII. Officers who are natives of India are not eligible for rewards for passing in the vernacular of the district in which they were born or educated. The Local Government shall determine in each case what languages come within this definition.

VIII.—Examinations will be held quarterly on the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year by the Board of Examiners at Calcutta.

In Madras, the examinations will be held half-yearly in January and July by the Board of Examiners, with the exception that candidates for the examinations in Arabic will be examined at present either at Calcutta or at Bombay.

In Bombay, examinations by the Proficiency, High Proficiency and Degree of Honour standard in all languages will be held quarterly by the Civil and Military Examination Committee, simultaneously with the examination of military officers, on the first Monday in January, April, July and October. Examination by the Higher Standard will be held monthly on the first Monday. The Committee will also hold special meetings whenever directed to do so, either by His Excellency the Governor or the Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces, Bombay, for the examination of any candidate or candidates who cannot attend during the regular monthly or quarterly sittings.

Examinations in Burmese and Pali will be held yearly in November at Rangoon by the Central Examination Committee.

When the first Monday in a month or a quarter is a gazetted holiday, the examination will be held on the following Monday or, if that is also a gazetted holiday, on the next working day thereafter.

NOTE.—The term gazetted holiday should be held to mean—

(1) Holidays prescribed or notified under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881;

(2) Holidays on which, by Government Notification in the Gazette, any public office is ordered to be closed for the transaction of public business without reserve or qualification.

In addition to the quarterly examinations held at Calcutta, the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta, will conduct examinations, for candidates other than officers serving in the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, twice annually at Lucknow and Lahore in March and in September or October, as necessity may arise, as follows :—

Lucknow	...	Urdu.—Proficiency and High Proficiency. Persian.—Higher Standard. Hindi.—Proficiency and High Proficiency.
Lahore	...	Urdu.—Proficiency and High Proficiency. Persian.—Higher Standard and High Proficiency. Hindi.—Proficiency and High Proficiency.

The exact dates of the examinations and the places at which they will be held will be notified to intending candidates on application to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta.

Officers desirous of attending examinations for which they are eligible must apply for leave to do so to the Commissioners of Divisions or Heads of the Departments in which they are serving at least three months before the date of examination. In the case of officers serving in Coorg, the application should be made to the Chief Commissioner. Officers attached immediately to the Government of India must apply to the Department of Education through the Department of the Government of India under which they are serving. The application must be accompanied by a certificate from the Accounts Officer under whose audit control the applicant is serving, of his eligibility under rule V to appear at the examination, and should be forwarded in sufficient time to reach the Board of Examiners or the Examination Committee concerned in the case of High Proficiency and Degree of Honour at least six weeks, and in the case of other examinations at least one month before the date of examination.

An officer who has been granted permission to appear for an examination but decides not to avail himself of it should intimate his decision to the Board of Examiners or the Examination Committee concerned at least ten days before the date of the examination.

IX-(A.)—The following are the subjects of examination for the Higher Standard in Sanskrit :—

(a) Construing, with readiness and accuracy, from the prescribed text-book—the "Riju Pátha," Parts I, II and III, by Iswar Chandra Vidyáságar.

(b) Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into Sanskrit.

(c) Reading manuscripts fairly and translating them readily and correctly. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters generally employed.

(d) Vivâ voce translation into Sanskrit of a paper of English sentences.

Grammar recommended :—

Max Müller's Sanskrit Grammar edited by Macdonell.

(B).—The following are the subjects of examination for the Higher Standard in Persian :—

(a) Construing, with readiness and accuracy, from the prescribed text-book—the "Hadīqa-yi-Fasāhat" (containing selections from the "Tārīkh-i-Sāsānīyān", the "Safar Nāma-i-Shāh-i-Īrān", and the "Narrative of Mr. Hortestet"—translated by I'timād-us-Sultana).

(b) Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into Persian.

(c) Reading manuscripts fairly and translating them readily and correctly. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil or military authorities, from letters passing in the ordinary course of business or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters generally employed.

(d) Vivâ voce translation into Persian of a paper of English sentences and conversing in examiner's presence with a native of Persia, with fluency and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar and idiom as to be at once intelligible.

Grammar recommended, one or both of the following :—

Modern Persian Conversation Grammar, with key.—By the Revd. W. St. Clair-Tisdall.

Modern Persian Colloquial Grammar.—By Dr. Fritz Rosen.

(C).—The following are the subjects of examination for the Higher Standard in Arabic :—

(a) Translation from English into Arabic (written).

NOTE.—This translation should be marked with the vowel points.

(b) Vivâ voce translation into Arabic of a letter on a simple subject.

(c) Vivâ voce examination in the prescribed text-book—(Ar-Rauzat-uz-Zakīyah, omitting pages 39 to 69, 129 to 143, 189 to 219 and 309 to end).

(d) Reading and translating Arabic manuscripts of moderate difficulty selected as in rule IX [B] (c) above.

(e) Conversation of a simple character in Arabic with an Arab.

Grammars recommended :—

Thatcher's Arabic Grammar with Key.
Birdwood's Arabic Reading Book.
Tien's Manual of Colloquial Arabic.

(D).—The following are the subjects of examination for the Higher Standard in Pali :—

(a) Construing, with readiness and accuracy, from the undermentioned books—

(i) Anderson's Pâli Reader up to page 60.

(ii) The Dathavamsa—(Pâli Text Society's edition).

(b) Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into Pâli.

(c) Vivâ voce translation into Pâli of a paper of English sentences.

(d) Grammar and Philology: a paper of questions based upon the "Practical Grammar of Pâli" (by Duroiselle), omitting derivation and prosody and the "Hand-book of Pâli" (by Frankfurter) will be set in these subjects.

Candidates to be successful in any of the above examinations by the Higher Standard must obtain 50 per cent. of the marks in the aggregate and not less than 60 per cent. of the marks in conversation and 35 per cent. of the marks in each of the other subjects.

X.—The following are the subjects for the Proficiency examination :—

(a) Written translation from English into the vernacular.

(b) Written translation into English of passages from the prescribed text-books, and also from other books or newspapers.

(c) An easy paper in Grammar.

(d) Reading and translating vernacular manuscripts of moderate difficulty.

(e) Conversation with a native of the country, including a paper of short idiomatic sentences in English to be translated into the vernacular orally at sight.

35 per cent. in (a), (b), (c) and (d), 60 per cent. in (e), and 60 per cent in the aggregate are required to pass.

NOTE.—A knowledge of the distribution and characteristics of the main dialects included in the generic term "Hindi" according to the classification by Dr. Grierson in the Linguistic Survey of India will be required from candidates for examination in Hindi.

XI.—The following are the subjects for the High Proficiency examination :—

(a) Translating vivâ voce with readiness and accuracy from the prescribed text-books and answering questions arising out of the passages in which the candidate is examined.

NOTE.—In Persian, half the passages for translation will be selected from the prescribed text-books and half from other works.

(b) Written translation into English of a previously-unseen passage in narrative style selected from the current literature of the day.

NOTE.—This rule does not apply to Sanskrit and Pâli. The passages set for translation from Arabic and Persian into English will not necessarily be in narrative style.

(c) Written translation, with accuracy of idiom and neatness of expression, into the language in which the examination is held of an English paper in narrative style.

NOTE.—The translations into Arabic should be marked with the vowel points.

(d) Written translation of a paper of idiomatic sentences in English into the language.

NOTE.—The translations into Arabic should be marked with the vowel points.

(e) Conversation in the language (except in Sanskrit and Pâli) with a native of the country. In this portion of the test the candidate will be expected to converse freely and fluently on general subjects.

NOTE.—In the case of Arabic and Persian, the candidates must exhibit a competent knowledge of the modern spoken idiom. Candidates in Arabic will be required to converse with an Arab, speaking, as far as possible, pure Arabic. In the case of Persian, the conversation may be with a native of Shiraz, Teheran or Gilan.

(f) Reading and translating at sight manuscripts in the language.

NOTE.—This rule does not apply to Pâli.

(g) Vivâ voce translation at sight into the language of a paper in English placed before the candidate. This translation, as it is made, will be written by a munshi as dictated by the candidate, who will be permitted to correct his translation when completed upon its being read out to him by the examiner. The time occupied in this exercise will be taken into account in awarding marks.

(h) A paper of grammatical questions.

NOTE.—This rule does not apply to Pâli.

(i) Grammar and Philology—a paper of questions based upon "The Handbook of Pâli" (by Frankfurter), "Minayeff's Pâli Grammar" and "Senart's Kaccayana and the Practical Grammar of Pâli" will be set in these subjects.

NOTE.—This rule applies to Pâli only.

Candidates to be successful in any of the examinations by the High Proficiency Standard are required to obtain not less than 60 per cent. of the marks in the aggregate and not less than 60 per cent. in conversation and 35 per cent. in each of the other subjects.

XII.—The following are the subjects for the Degree of Honour examination :—

(a) A written examination in the prescribed books, the papers set in which will include questions in grammar (including philology) and prosody.

NOTE.—In Persian half the passages for translation will be selected from the prescribed text-books and half from other works.

(b) Written translation into English of difficult unseen passages in prose.

NOTE.—The passages will, in all languages, except Sanskrit and Pâli, be selected from the current literature of the day.

(c) Written translation into English of difficult unseen passages in verse.

(d) Translating into the language a difficult passage (or passages) in English with such accuracy, elegance and idiomatic excellence as shall show eminent proficiency in the language.

NOTE.—The translations into Arabic should be marked with the vowel points.

(e) Conversation with a native of the country. The candidate will be expected to speak fluently and accurately. There will be no examination in conversation in Sanskrit or Pâli.

NOTE.—In the case of Arabic, the candidate will be expected to converse with an Arab speaking, as far as possible, pure Arabic. In the case of Persian, the conversation may be with a native of Shiraz, Teheran or Gilan.

(f) Reading and translating at sight difficult manuscripts in the language.

NOTE.—This rule does not apply to Pali.

(g) Vivâ voce translation at sight into the language of a paper in English placed before the candidate. This translation, as it is made, will be written by a munshi as dictated by the candidate, who will be permitted to correct his translation when completed upon its being read out to him by the examiner. The time occupied in this exercise will be taken into account in awarding marks.

(h) A short composition in the language in the form of a letter or an essay on one of three or four given subjects.

(i) A paper on comparative philology, with special reference to Sanskrit, Pâli and Burmese.

NOTE.—This rule applies to Pâli only.

(j) A paper on grammar and prosody.

NOTE.—This rule applies to Pâli only.

XIII.—The Degree of Honour examination will be of a searching nature, and the exercises, both oral and written, must be performed with such excellence as distinctly to establish a claim to eminent proficiency.

XIV.—In the case of Persian, Arabic, Sanskrit and Pâli, the Degree of Honour examination will comprise papers on the following subjects:—

(a) Language Test (as in rule XII);

(b) History and Religion;

(c) History of Literature.

Candidates will be required to obtain the usual pass marks in each paper

XV.—Successful candidates for the Degree of Honour will be arranged in two divisions according to the number of marks obtained. For the first division, 80 per cent. of the marks must be obtained in the aggregate and not less than 60 per cent. in any one paper; for the second division, 60 per cent. must be obtained in all subjects, and not less than 45 per cent. in any one paper. The full reward and diploma will be granted only to candidates passing in the first division and their names only will be published in the Gazettes of India, Madras, Bombay and Bengal, as the case may be. Candidates passing in the second division will be granted half the reward fixed for the first division.

A candidate who has passed the Degree of Honour in any language in the first division may appear again in the same test in that language after an interval of five years and if he passes in the first division, receive half the reward prescribed for that division. A candidate who has passed in the second division may appear again in the same test in that language after an interval of two years and if he passes in the first division, receive half the original reward prescribed for the first division, as well as the diploma.

Examination leave of absence.

The following extracts from the Civil Service Regulations are given for purposes of easy reference :—

279. In cases not specially provided for in this section permission to appear at an optional examination prescribed by Government in any of the oriental languages carries with it the grant of joining time (excluding the time allowed for preparation) to and from the place of examination, besides leave for the day or days of examination.

280. (a) A candidate for the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour examinations in all vernacular languages, may, at the descretion of the local Government, be granted study leave up to three months before the examination.

(b) A candidate for a reward by the Higher Standard or High Proficiency in Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian or Pali may be allowed leave for a period not exceeding three months if he undertakes to spend it in study under professional tuition at any place approved by the local Government.

(c) An officer who is a candidate for the Degree of Honour in Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian or Pali may be allowed either leave for a period not exceeding three months under clause (b), or if he leaves India for study, leave for six months to Persia for Persian, or for six months to Arabia, Mesopotamia, Egypt, or Syria for Arabic, or for six months to any place approved by the local Government for Sanskrit or Pali. Officers of the Political Department of the Government of India may be granted this leave even when they are candidates only for the Higher Standard or High Proficiency test in Arabic or Persian.

NOTE.—Leave under clauses (a), (b) or (c) is not admissible more than once ; nor can such leave be combined.

(d) Leave under this article may be combined with privilege leave, provided that privilege leave prefixed to leave under clause (c) must be spent in, or in travelling to, one of the countries mentioned in the clause.

(e) An officer on leave under this article has a lien on his appointment, substantive or officiating, and is entitled to leave allowances, as if he were on privilege leave, for an aggregate maximum period of twelve months.

NOTE.—[An officer serving in a department in which regular vacations are allowed is entitled, during examination leave, to a leave allowance equal to the salary which he would receive if he were on duty in the appointment on which he has a lien.]

NOTE.—[Leave granted under article 280 covers the whole period of absence from regular duty including the day or days of examination and the time spent in proceeding to and from the place of examination. The leave cannot be taken in instalments.]

282. Except as provided in article 280, no kind of leave except furlough on medical certificate may be granted in continuation of examination leave.

111. Condition of vehicle.
112. Stowing of explosives.
113. Method of stowing of explosives.
114. Method of stowing of high explosives.
115. Locking of vehicles.

Delivery.

116. Delivery to consignee.
117. Disposal when consignee fails to take delivery.
118. Protection of explosives pending removal.

Power to open packages.

RULES.

119. Opening of suspected packages.
120. Disposal of opened packages.

Precautions to be observed during loading and unloading.

121. Time of loading and unloading.
122. Loading and unloading to be continuous.
123. Place of loading and unloading.
124. Loading and unloading of Government explosives.
125. Maximum number of vehicles to be dealt with at a time.
126. Time of transhipment.

Marshalling and shunting.

127. Maximum number of vehicles to be hauled in one train.
128. Precaution in the case of high explosives.
129. Position of vehicles in the train.
130. Shunting.
131. Limit of speed in shunting.
132. Superintendence in shunting.

Brakes.

133. Brakes.

Conveyance by passenger train.

134. Conveyance of explosives by passenger train.
135. Conveyance of explosives by mixed train.

Exemptions.

136. Saving as to cartridges for small-arms.

3. SCHEDULE III.—PRESCRIBED FORMS.

4. SCHEDULE IV.—METHODS OF PACKING.

5. TABLE OF DISTANCES.

RULES UNDER THE INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884, FOR THE MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION, SALE, TRANSPORT AND IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short Title

1. These Rules may be called the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914.

Supersession previous notifications; and savings

2. All previous notifications made by the Governor-General in Council under the said sections are hereby superseded, but all licenses or duplicates granted or renewed, all fees imposed or levied and all powers conferred by or under any notification so superseded, shall, so far as they are consistent herewith, be deemed to have been respectively granted, renewed, imposed, levied or conferred hereunder.

General exemptions.

3. Nothing in these rules shall apply—

(i) to the manufacture, possession, sale, packing, transport or importation of toy fireworks, such as paper caps for toy pistols, under such conditions and in such quantities as the Local Government, or, in the case of transport by rail, the Railway Board, on the recommendation of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, may from time to time determine;

(ii) to the manufacture, possession or sale of gunpowder in any of the Agency Tracts in the Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Godavari Districts of the Presidency of Madras;

(iii) to the possession or transport of any explosive in any port in which special rules made by the Local Government under the Act are for the time being in force in so far as they are expressly superseded by, or are inconsistent with, such special rules;

(iv) to the packing, transport or importation of capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, when packed, transported or imported in the same consignment with arms covered by a license granted under the Indian Arms Act, 1878;

of 1878

(a) the manufacture, possession and sale of tri-nitro-toluol, or

(b) the transport and importation of the same when it is packed in staunch and substantial barrels or in cases constructed of wood not less than one inch in thickness.*

Definitions

4. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

of 1884.

(1) "The Act" means the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

(2) "Ammunition" means any explosive when the same is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise adapted or prepared, so as to form—

(a) a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting, or

(b) a safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or

(c) a tube for firing explosives, or

(d) a percussion-cap, detonator, fog-signal, shell, torpedo, war-rocket, or any other contrivance other than a firework.

*Further exemptions are made by section 14 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, which runs as follows:—

Saving for manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation by Government.

"Nothing in this Act shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of this Act, or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer, under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, in the course of his employment or duty as such." XX of 1869

(3) "Authorised explosive" means an explosive included in a list of authorised explosives prepared by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India and in force for the time being.

(4) "Chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

(5) "Detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains fulminate in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case would communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

(6) "District authority" means—

(i) in a Presidency town, or its suburbs, or in Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police;

(ii) elsewhere, the Magistrate of the district.

(7) "Fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whatever, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion-caps or any other appliance for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

(8) "Gunpowder" means gunpowder ordinarily so called.

(9) "Nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder, which is formed by the mechanical mixture of nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance:

and includes such explosives as—

Ammonai,	Westfallite.

(10) "Nitro-compound" means any chemical compound which is possessed of explosive properties or is capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, and is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid), or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid, upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

(11) "Small-arm nitro-compound" means a nitro-compound adapted and intended exclusively for use in cartridges for small-arms.

(12) "Safety cartridge"—

(i) means a cartridge for small-arms, the case of which can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which is so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges; and

(ii) includes a rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridge, if it is as described in clause (i) whether it is for use with a machine-gun having chambers identical with those of rifles or with a machine-gun having special chambers:

Provided that the diameter of the cartridge in either case (i) or case (ii) does not exceed one inch.

(13) "Safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuze would not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

(14) "Testing authority" means the Chemical Examiner or such other officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

CHAPTER II.

SSIFICATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

5. (1) For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :— Classes of explosives

Class 1	...	...	...	Gunpowder.
Class 2	...	...	...	Nitrate-mixture.
Class 3	...	...	...	Nitro-compound.
Class 4	...	...	...	Chlorate-mixture.
Class 5	...	...	...	Fulminate.
Class 6	...	...	...	Ammunition.
Class 7	...	...	...	Firework.

(2) When any explosive falls within more than one of the said classes, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of such classes.

6. Nitro-compounds shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :— Division of nitro-compounds.

(a) Division 1, comprising—

Ballistite,	Dynamite,
Blasting gelatine,	Gelatine dynamite,
Carbonite,	Gelignite,
Cordite,	Nitro-glycerine, and

Stonite, and

(ii) any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound ; and

(b) Division 2, comprising—

Amberite No. 2,	Gun-cotton,
Ammonite,	Picric powder,
Bellite,	Roburite,
Coopal's powder,	Schultz's powder, and
E. C. sporting powder,	Tonite (or cotton powder),

(ii) any nitro-compound, as hereinbefore defined, which is not comprised in Division 1.

7. Chlorate-mixtures shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :— Division of chlorate-mixtures

(a) Division 1, comprising—

(i) such explosives, as—

Permonite, and Polarite, and

(ii) any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound, and

(b) Division 2, comprising—

(i) such explosives, as—

Cheddite, and Steelite, and

(ii) any chlorate-mixture, as hereinbefore defined, which is not comprised in Division 1.

Division of fulminates

8. Fulminates shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :—

(a) Division 1, comprising such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of those substances, such as are used in percussion-caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of compounds of phosphorus, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with sulphuret, with or without carbonaceous matter; and

(b) Division 2, comprising such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

Division of ammunition

9. Ammunition shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :—

(a) Division 1, comprising exclusively—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog-signals, and Percussion-caps; and

(b) Division 2, comprising any ammunition, as hereinbefore defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, other than safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, other than safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives, and War-rockets, which do not contain their own means of ignition; and

(c) Division 3, comprising any ammunition, as hereinbefore defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells, and Tubes for firing explosives, containing their own means of ignition.

Explanations.—The expression "ammunition containing its own means of ignition" means ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to or forming part of the ammunition, which is adapted to explode or fire the ammunition by friction or percussion.

The expression "percussion-cap" does not include a detonator.

Division of fireworks.

10. Fireworks shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :—

(a) Division 1, comprising firework compositions, that is to say,—

(i) any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in any of the foregoing definitions,

(ii) any star, and

(iii) (except as declared in the proviso to this rule) any coloured fire composition; and

(b) Division 2, comprising manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of Class 1, 2, 3, 4 or 6 and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case, containing not more than one pound of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework" and not a "firework composition."

CHAPTER III.

IMPORTATION.

When license to import is requisite

11. No explosive shall be imported into British India by land or sea—

(i) unless it is an authorised explosive,

(ii) except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license granted under these rules:

Provided that nothing in sub-clause (ii) of this rule shall apply to—

(a) an explosive conveyed or landed under rule 21 or rule 22.

(b) any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined by the Indian Arms Act, 1878, imported by any person lawfully entitled under that Act or the rules thereunder for the time being in force to possess such explosive, in such quantities as may be prescribed by that Act or the rules thereunder for the time being in force, or (when no quantities are prescribed) in reasonable quantities for his own private use:

Further provided that when an explosive is so imported, the Collector of Customs or any other officer empowered by the Local Government in this behalf may at any time detain such explosive until he receives the orders of the Local Government thereon.

Ports at which importation by sea is permitted.

12. An explosive shall not be imported by sea except into the ports of—

Calcutta (including Moyapur and Diamond Harbour),

Rangoon,	Calicut,
Madras,	Karachi, and
Bombay,	Aden:

Provided that—

(i) crackers may be imported into the ports of Negapatam and Moulmein;

(ii) an explosive which has passed the test (if any) prescribed by these rules at Rangoon, Madras or Bombay, may be re-imported—

(a) from Rangoon into the ports of Akyab, Moulmein, Sandoway, Kyaukpyu, Tavoy, Mergui and Victoria Point,

(b) from Madras into the ports of Tuticorin, Cochin, Bimlipatam, Coconada, Negapatam, Mangalore, Gopalpur, Vizagapatam, Pamban and Masulipatam, or

(c) from Bombay into the ports of Cochin and Mangalore, and

(iii) an explosive required for blasting purposes which has passed the test prescribed by the rules for the time being in force made by the Governor of the Straits Settlements in Council under the Explosives Ordinance, 1899, or such other law for the time being in force in those Settlements may be imported from Penang into the port of Victoria Point.

Importation of explosives from Portuguese India

13. No explosives, other than those required bonâ fide for blasting purposes, shall be imported from Portuguese India.

Testing of explosives.

Testing of imported explosives

14. No license for the importation of an explosive shall be granted unless such explosive is certified by the testing authority to have passed the test (if any) prescribed by rule 16 for such explosives.

Explosives exempted from testing.

15. No test shall be necessary—

(i) in the case of gunpowder, ammunition (Division 1), fulminates and fireworks; or

(ii) in the case of a nitrate-mixture:

Provided that—

(a) the Local Government or the licensing authority may direct that any nitrate-mixture shall be subjected to such analysis by such officer as the Local Government may prescribe; and

(b) where an analysis has been prescribed under sub-clause (a), such nitrate-mixture is certified by the officer appointed as aforesaid to have passed such analysis.

Nature of test prescribed

16. Any explosive not specified in rule 15 shall be subject to the test set forth in Schedule I as applicable to such explosive.

Exemption of re-imported explosives from testing

17. (1) When an explosive required by rule 16 to be tested—

(a) has been tested at any of the ports at which importation by sea is permitted under rule 12 and has been imported thence, or

(b) is re-imported or imported under and in accordance with provisos (ii) and (iii) to rule 12, such explosive shall be exempted fromany fresh test under these rules, provided that it is accompanied by—

(i) a certificate of such testing, and

(ii) (in the case of a nitro-compound or a chlorate-mixture) a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate that the explosive is of standard purity, and (in the case of dynamite or any nitro-glycerine compound) that there are no signs of liquefaction or of exuded nitro-glycerine.

(2) The certificate referred to in sub-clause (ii) of clause (1)—

(a) shall bear the signature of one of the officers mentioned in clause (2) of rule 106 or, if the explosives are imported from Penang, of the officer authorised in this behalf by the Government of the Straits Settlements, and

(b) shall ordinarily be valid for six months after date: provided that, in the case of dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds which are not used as propellants as defined in rule 73,

(i) such certificate shall lapse on the 31st July, and (ii) a fresh certificate may be demanded for each consignment imported between the 1st April and the 31st July (both inclusive).

Procedure on arrival ship in port

18. On the arrival, in any port at which the importation of explosives is lawful, of a ship having on board an explosive, such officer as the Chief Customs Officer of the port may authorise in this behalf shall, as soon as may be, proceed on board, and if analysis or testing is required by these rules, obtain samples of the explosive; and the master of the ship shall give to such officer, without charge, such samples as he may require.

Despatch of samples to the testing authority.

19. The officer taking samples of the explosive under rule 18 shall affix to each such sample the name of the ship and of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary and shall forward the same to the testing authority.

20. The testing authority shall test or analyse the samples (as the case may be) and shall without delay forward to the licensing authority (through the Chief Customs Officer) a report under his signature certifying whether the explosive has satisfied the prescribed test or analysis.

Testing of samples by the testing authority.

Importation in anticipation of the grant of a license to import.

21. Any authorised explosive may—

Importation by sea in anticipation of the grant of a license.

(a) if it is certified by the manufacturer to be of British manufacture, or

(b) (not being of British manufacture) if it is imported from the United Kingdom and is covered by a certificate granted by one of His Majesty's Inspectors of Explosives in the United Kingdom showing that it has passed the United Kingdom tests; or be imported by sea and landed, in anticipation of the grant of a license to import, at any port at which the landing of such explosive is permitted under rule 12 in accordance with such regulations as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf.

(c) (not being of British manufacture) if the Governor-General in Council, being satisfied that it has been manufactured under adequate official supervision, permits;

22. Any authorised explosive may be imported into British India by land in anticipation of the grant of a license to import if it is certified by the manufacturer to be of British manufacture.

Importation by land in anticipation of the grant of a license.

23. No explosive shall be imported or landed under rule 21 or 22 until the consignee has given notice of his intention to import such explosive to the Chief Customs Officer or the District authority in whose jurisdiction the place or magazine appointed under rule 24 is situated, and has given to such officer an undertaking (without security or with such security as that officer deems sufficient) that he will, in the event of the explosive failing to pass the prescribed test or analysis, comply with such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may issue.

Requirements to be fulfilled by importer and consignee prior to importation.

24. An explosive imported or landed under rules 21 and 22 shall, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Local Government, be conveyed to and stored in a place set apart by the Local Government for this purpose or any private magazine declared by the Local Government to be suitable therefor:

Disposal of explosives imported.

Provided that explosives not of British manufacture shall not be transported by rail until a license to import such explosives has been granted.

25. The person owning or being in charge of the magazine to which the explosive imported by land has been conveyed under rule 24 shall, if analysis or testing of the explosive is required by these rules, forthwith deliver without charge to such officer or person as may be appointed by the Local Government in this behalf such samples as he may require.

Delivery of samples by owner or person in charge of the magazine and the testing of such samples.

The samples shall be tested or analysed in accordance with the procedure laid down in rules 19 and 20, the report of the testing officer being forwarded to the licensing authority through the officer or person from whom he received the samples.

26. The explosive shall not be removed or distributed from the place or magazine to which it has been conveyed under rule 24, until a license has been granted for its importation and until the person in charge of the magazine has received notice from the licensing authority that it may be so removed or distributed.

Distribution prohibited till license is granted.

CHAPTER IV.

TRANSPORT.

When license to transport is requisite.

27. Explosives required bonâ fide for blasting purposes shall not be transported except under and in accordance with a license granted under these rules:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall apply to—

(i) the transport by the holder of a license in Form E of any of the explosives covered by his license, and of safety fuzes for blasting in such quantities as he may require for his private use,

(ii) the transport of explosives which are covered by a license for their importation and are being transported in accordance with such license from the port or other place of import to the place of destination.

(iii) the transport of explosives from the port or other place of import under rule 24 to the places indicated in that rule.

Licenses for the general transport of explosives for blasting.

Application for license for general transport.

28. An application for a license in Form 2 (for the general transport of explosives for blasting purposes) shall be in writing and shall state particulars as to the place from which, and the place or places to which, it is desired to transport explosives.

Procedure in granting a license for general transport.

29. When the place or places to which explosives are to be transported is or are outside the local limits of the authority of the licensing officer, a copy of the license shall be forthwith sent to the District authority in whose jurisdiction such place is situated.

Procedure in transporting explosives under license for general transport

30. Every consignment of explosives transported under a license in Form 2 shall be accompanied by a pass issued by the licensee in the form prescribed in Form 2; and such pass shall (if the consignment be despatched by rail) be attached to the way-bill or invoice, as the case may be.

Procedure in issuing passes.

31. A copy of every pass issued under rule 30 shall forthwith be sent—

(i) to the licensing authority; and

(ii) when the place to which the consignment is sent is outside the local limits of the authority of the licensing officer, to the officer indicated in rule 29.

CHAPTER V.

MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION AND SALE.

Manufacture.

32. An explosive shall not be manufactured except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license granted under these rules for such manufacture:

When license to manufacture is requisite.

Provided that no license under this rule to manufacture shall be necessary—

(a) for the making of a small quantity of an explosive for the purpose of chemical experiment and not for practical use or for sale; or

(b) for the filling for private use, and not for sale, of any safety cartridges to the amount allowed by these rules to be possessed for private use; or

(c) in the case of any person who, holding a license under these rules to possess an explosive—

(i) fills with the said explosive, for sale or otherwise, cartridges for small-arms; or

(ii) by filling cartridges, making charges, or drying, sifting, fitting or otherwise, adapts or prepares the said explosive for use exclusively in his mine or quarry or in some excavation or work carried on by him or under his control.

33. The following conditions shall be observed by every person filling cartridges for small-arms under clause (c) (i) of the proviso to rule 32:—

Conditions to be observed by persons filling cartridges.

(a) there shall not be in the room in which such filling is being carried on more than five pounds of gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound or such quantity of any other explosive as is prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf unless it is made up into safety cartridges;

(b) no work unconnected with the making of cartridges shall be carried on in the said room while such filling is being carried on;

(c) there shall not be in the said room, while such filling is being carried on, any fire or any artificial light, except a light of such construction, position and character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion;

(d) if filling is done on magazine premises, the said room shall be detached from the magazine, but shall be situated in the immediate neighbourhood thereof and at such distance therefrom as may be specified on the license by the authority granting the same; and

(e) the licensée shall give notice to the authority which granted his license that he intends to carry on such filling of cartridges as is allowed by this rule.

34. The following conditions shall be observed by every person adapting or preparing explosives under clause (c) (ii) of the proviso to rule 32:—

Conditions to be observed by persons adapting or preparing cartridges.

(a) there shall not be in the workshop in which such adaptation or preparation is carried on more than one hundred pounds of gunpowder, or such quantity of any other explosive as is prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf;

(b) no work unconnected with such adaptation or preparation shall be carried on in the said workshop while such adaptation or preparation is being carried on;

(c) the said workshop shall be detached from the magazine or licensed premises, but shall be situated in the immediate neighbourhood thereof and at such distance therefrom as may be specified on the license by the authority granting the same;

(d) an explosive of one description shall not be converted into an explosive of another description, and an explosive shall not be unmade or resolved into its ingredients; and

(e) the licensee shall give notice to the authority which granted his license that he intends to carry on such adaptation or preparation as is allowed by this rule.

Possession.

When license to possess is requisite.

35. An explosive shall not be possessed except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license granted under these rules for possession:

Provided that no license under these rules shall be necessary for the possession—

(a) of any explosive by a carrier or other person for the purpose of transport, when the same is being kept or transported in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VIII regulating the transport of such explosive; or

(b) of any explosive on board any ship in fulfilment of the requirements of the Merchant Shipping Acts, or of any order or regulation thereunder for the time being in force; or

(c) by any person who is lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or the rules for the time being in force thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined in that Act, of such explosives in such quantities as may be prescribed by the said Act or rules, or, when no quantities are so prescribed, in reasonable quantities for his own private use; or

(d) by any person, of explosives under and in accordance with the conditions of a permit granted under rule 68, rule 69, rule 70 or rule 71; or

(e) (elsewhere than in Burma) by any person, of manufactured fireworks in any quantity—

(i) in a municipality, not exceeding fifty pounds,

(ii) elsewhere, not exceeding two hundred pounds,

when the same are obtained and intended by such person for immediate use and not for sale and are possessed by him for a period not exceeding fourteen days, and when they are kept in a substantial receptacle which is exclusively appropriated to the keeping of explosives and is closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to the explosives; or

(f) by any person for his own private use and not for sale, of—

(i) gunpowder in any quantity not exceeding thirty pounds; or

(ii) safety cartridges made with gunpowder and containing in all not more than one hundred and fifty pounds of gunpowder; or

(iii) cartridges (non-safety) for small-arms, made with gunpowder and containing in all not more than five pounds of gunpowder;

(iv) cartridges for cannon or blasting, made with gunpowder, and not containing their own means of ignition, and containing in all not more than thirty pounds of gunpowder; or

(v) cartridges for small-arms, made with small-arm nitro-compound and containing in all not more than ten pounds of small-arm nitro-compound; or

(vi) a small-arm nitro-compound in any quantity not exceeding ten pounds; or

(vii) percussion-caps; or

(viii) safety fuzes for blasting; or

Provided that the quantity of explosive kept by any person under clause (f) shall be in substitution of the like quantity by weight of any other explosive which might otherwise be so kept by him and, that the quantity of such other explosive shall be reduced accordingly; and, further, that, if the explosive so kept for private use under this clause is in any other form than that of cartridges for small-arms, the explosive of which the quantity is so to be reduced shall be some explosive other than safety cartridges made with gunpowder.

Saving of general prohibition under the Act.

36. Nothing in rule 32 or rule 35 shall be deemed to authorise the manufacture or possession of an explosive in contravention of any prohibition notified under section 6 of the Act, and for the time being in force.

Sale.

When license for sale is requisite.

37. An explosive shall not be sold except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license granted under these rules for such sale;

Provided that this rule shall not apply to the sale by any person of an explosive which he is lawfully entitled to possess for his own private use to any person who is lawfully entitled to possess the same.

CHAPTER VI.

MAGAZINES.

Procedure in applying for license in Form J.

38. An applicant for a license to possess explosives (other than an explosive of the 5th Fulminate class) in, and to sell explosives from, a magazine (other than a floating magazine) shall submit to the District authority an application in Form G in Schedule III, and shall comply with the conditions embodied therein.

Issue of notices to objectors to the site of the magazine.

39. Upon receipt of the said application the District authority shall forthwith cause notice to be published of such application and of the time and place at which he will be prepared to hear it, and calling upon any person objecting to the establishment of the magazine on the proposed site to give notice of such objection to him and to the applicant not less than seven clear days before the day fixed for hearing the application, together with his name, address and calling, and a short statement of the grounds of his objection.

The day of hearing the application shall be a day following soon after the expiration of the period of one month referred to in rule 41.

Notices to local authorities.

40. Where the site of the proposed magazine lies within, or within one mile of the limits of, the jurisdiction of any municipal or port authority, the applicant shall prepare, for service on such authority, a notice of the application and of the said day of hearing.

Publication and service of notices.

41. The notice under rule 39 shall be published and the notice under rule 40 served, at the expense of the applicant, by the District authority not less than one month before the said day of hearing.

Inquiry into objections.

42. On the day fixed for the hearing, or any day to which such hearing may be adjourned from time to time, the District authority shall hear any objections preferred in accordance with rule 39 and by any authority referred to in rule 40, and shall make such inquiry as he may deem necessary.

Report on completion of inquiry.

43. On completion of the inquiry the District authority shall forward the application (accompanied by a draft license in Form J of Schedule III) to the Chief Inspector of Explosives, together with a report standing whether he—

(a) disapproves of the proposed site for the magazine, or

(b) approves of the proposed site either unconditionally or subject to any such restrictions or precautions as he considers necessary.

Procedure to be observed by the Chief Inspector of Explosives on receipt of report.

44. The Chief Inspector of Explosives shall forward to the applicant a statement in Form H in Schedule III, showing the distances which should, in his opinion, be kept clear round the magazine. Such distances should ordinarily be those specified in the table annexed to these rules.

Submission of application to the licensing authority.

45. The said Form H shall be returned, with the third column duly filled in, by the applicant to the Chief Inspector of Explosives, who shall submit it to the licensing authority with his recommendations and with the draft license and a statement in Form I showing the distances which, after considering any representation made by the applicant when returning Form H to him, he considers should be kept clear round the magazine.

Grant of license.

46. The licensing authority may thereupon grant the license as applied for with such modifications or restrictions (if any) as may be deemed proper, or may reject the application.

Procedure on grant of license.

47. A copy of every license granted under rule 46 shall be forwarded to the Chief Inspector of Explosives, and the original license shall be forwarded to the District authority if the license has not been granted by him.

Endorsement of license.

48. The District authority, when satisfied that all the conditions prescribed in the license in regard to the magazine have been complied with, shall forthwith endorse the license, and unless and until so endorsed the license shall not come into force.

If it is decided not to endorse a license the District authority shall forthwith inform the Chief Inspector of Explosives and the licensing authority (if the license has not been granted by the District authority).

CHAPTER VIA

LICENSES AND PERMITS.

Grant of licenses.

Forms of licenses, licensing authorities and fees.

49. (1) Licenses for the importation, transport, manufacture, possession and sale of an explosive may be granted by the licensing authorities set forth in Schedule II in the forms, for the purposes, subject to the conditions and on payment of the fees specified therein.

Validity of license.

(2) Licenses granted in accordance with the provisions of these rules shall be valid for such period as is specified in column 7 of Schedule II.

Conditions under which licenses are held.

50. (1) Every license granted under these rules shall be deemed to be granted subject to the conditions contained therein.

(2) Such conditions shall comprise all those specified in the prescribed form and—

(a) (in the case of a license in Form J or Form K) such further conditions as the licensing authority may impose, or

(b) (in the case of a license in Form I) such further conditions as the licensing authority may think necessary in respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery and conveyance of the explosive, and expedient for the public safety or in the interest of the State.

(3) Such conditions shall, in the case of a license granted by the Governor-General in Council to manufacture any explosive in any quantity, include all the conditions prescribed under these rules and in the forms of license for possessing such explosive in such quantity:

Provided that, notwithstanding anything contained in clause (2) or clause (3), the Local Government or the Governor-General in Council, as the case may be, may, on the recommendation of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, dispense with any of the conditions specified in the prescribed form of a license.

Amendment of licenses.

Amendment of licenses.

51. (1) Provided that these rules are otherwise complied with, every license granted under them may be amended by the authority granting such license.

(2) A licensee who desires to have his license amended shall submit it to the District authority with an application stating the nature of the amendment and the reasons for it. The District authority, in cases in which the original license was not granted by him, shall forward the license and the application with his recommendation to the licensing authority direct, or, if the license to be amended is in Form J or Form K, through the Chief Inspector of Explosives:

Provided that the Chief Inspector of Explosives shall be consulted before a license in Form J originally granted by the District authority is amended.

(3) No fee shall be charged for the amendment of a license.

Renewal of licenses.

Renewal of licenses issued by the Governor-General in Council.

52. The Local Government may, from time to time, renew, on the same or on altered conditions, any license granted by the Governor-General in Council for the manufacture of explosives:

Provided as follows:—

(i) no such renewal shall admit of the manufacture of any explosive other than that specified in the original license;

(ii) every such renewal shall first be approved by an Inspector of Explosives; and (iii) every such renewal shall be for a period not exceeding one year.

Renewal of licenses in Form J.

53. (1) The authority granting a license in Form J may renew such license on the same or altered conditions.

(2) A licensee who desires such renewal shall, within the period specified in rule 46, submit the license to the Chief Inspector of Explosives with a written application stating the quantity and description of explosives for the storage of which he desires the license to be renewed.

(3) On receipt of such application the Chief Inspector of Explosives shall if there is any proposed variation in the particulars of the license, and if he considers it necessary to do so, send to the applicant a statement in Form H in Schedule III hereto annexed, showing the distances which should, in his opinion, be kept clear round the magazine.

(4) The procedure prescribed in rules 45 to 48 shall then be followed, so far as it is applicable.

Renewal of licenses not provided for in rule 52 or rule 53

54. Every license for the manufacture, possession or sale of explosives not provided for in rule 52 or rule 53 may, unless the circumstances have so changed that the grant of a new license either would not be authorised under the Act and these rules, or is deemed objectionable by the licensing authority, be renewed on application made within the period specified in rule 56.

Renewal of license for general transport for blasting explosives

55. Every license for the general transport of explosives may be renewed by the authority granting such license.

Time for making application for the renewal of a license.

56. Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made at a date not less than thirty days before the date on which the original license expires, and if the application is so made, the magazine or premises shall be held to be duly licensed or the transport license shall held to be duly granted until such date as the licensing authority issues the renewed license or until an intimation that the renewal of the license is refused has been communicated to the applicant.

Fee chargeable on renewal of license

57. The fee chargeable for renewing any license shall be the fee originally chargeable under these rules on such license.

Expiration of licenses.

Procedure on expiration or forfeiture of license.

58. A person licensed to manufacture, possess or sell any explosive shall, on the expiration or forfeiture of his license, forthwith give notice to the District authority of the description and quantity of explosives in his possession, and shall comply with any directions which the said District authority may think fit to give in regard to the possession or transport of the same.

Issue of temporary license when original has expired or been forfeited.

59. (1) On receiving a notice under rule 58 the said District authority may grant for a term not exceeding three months from the date of such expiration or forfeiture, as the case may be, a temporary license for the possession or sale of the actual stock of explosives which is held at the time of the issue of such license.

(2) The fee chargeable on such license shall bear the same proportion to the fee charged on the expired or forfeited license as the period covered by the temporary license bears to a full year.

Death, etc., of license

60. (1) When any person holding a license under these rules dies, or is adjudicated an insolvent, or is otherwise disqualified by operation of law from continuing the business in respect of which the license was granted, any person carrying on such business shall forthwith apply to the proper licensing authority for the grant of a new license in his own name for the unexpired portion of the original license.

(2) No person applying for a license under clause (1) shall, during such time as is reasonably necessary for making his application, and during the pendency thereof, be liable to any penalty under the Act or these rules for carrying on the business and acting under the license, so that he otherwise conforms with the provisions of the Act and these rules.

(3) The fee chargeable on such new license shall be one rupee :

Provided that no fee shall be charged on a new license in Form 2 or Form E of Schedule III.

Forfeiture of licenses.

Liability of license to forfeiture.

61. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited by the licensing authority on breach of any of the conditions contained therein, and also by the Local Government if at any time the continuance of the license in the hands of the licensee is deemed objectionable.

General Provisions as to licenses.

62. (1) Every person holding a license, or acting under a license, granted under these rules shall be bound to produce the same, or an authenticated copy kept at the magazine or place to which the license applies, when called upon to do so by an Inspector of Explosives, or any Magistrate, or any Police Officer not below the rank of a Police Officer in charge of a police-station; and

Production of licenses or passes on demand.

(2) Any person in charge of a consignment of blasting materials under cover of a pass, issued by a holder of a license in Form 2 of Schedule III, shall be bound to produce such pass when called upon to do so by any of the officers aforesaid.

(3) Copies of any license may, for the purposes of this rule, be authenticated free of charge by any of the officers aforesaid or by the authority which granted the license.

63. Any authority granting a license under these rules may, if such authority thinks fit, direct by an order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license granted by the like authority under the Indian Arms Act, 1878.

Validity of license under the Arms Act.

of 1878.]

64. When a license granted under these rules is lost or destroyed through no fault of the licensee, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of eight annas.

Duplicate license in case of loss of license

65. All fees chargeable under these rules shall be collected by impressed stamps:

Mode of payment of fees.

Provided that, when such fees have been made over to any local authority they shall be collected in such manner as the local authority may from time to time direct.

66. Every authority empowered to grant, amend or renew a license may, in its discretion, Discretion of authority empowered to grant, amend or renew licenses.

(a) refuse to grant, amend or renew such license, or

(b) refer the application for orders to the Government (if any) to which it is subordinate.

67. All subordinate authorities acting under this chapter shall perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

Executive control over licensing authorities.

Permits for temporary possession of explosives to be granted free of cost.

68. (1) A permit may be granted to the holder of a license in Form J or Form K, to store in his magazine, subject to the conditions of his license (except in this respect) and for a period not exceeding one month, any quantity of explosives in excess of that entered in his license.

Permit for temporary storage of explosives in a magazine in excess of licensed quantities

(2) Such permit shall be granted by the authority who issued the license and only when it is proved to his satisfaction that the excess storage is due to unforeseen circumstances.

69. Elsewhere than in Burma a permit may be granted to any person to possess, in a municipality, manufactured fireworks in any quantity exceeding fifty pounds but not exceeding two hundred pounds and for any period not exceeding fourteen days, provided that such fireworks are obtained and intended by such person for immediate use and not for sale and are kept in a substantial receptacle which is exclusively appropriated to the keeping of explosives and is closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to them.

Permit for temporary possession of fireworks by non-licensees elsewhere than in Burma.

Such permit shall be granted by a Magistrate of the first class or Police Officer not below the rank of Assistant or Deputy Superintendent of Police.

70. In Burma, a permit may be granted to any person to possess manufactured fireworks in any quantity not exceeding two hundred pounds and for any period not exceeding fourteen days, provided such fireworks are obtained and intended by such person for immediate use and not for sale and are kept in a substantial receptacle which is exclusively appropriated to the keeping of explosives and is closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to them.

Permit for temporary possession of fireworks by non-licensees in Burma.

Such permit shall be granted by a Magistrate of the first class or a Police Officer not below the rank of a District Superintendent of Police.

Permit to possess fireworks in excess of licensed quantities.

71. A permit may be granted to a holder of a license in Form A, Form B, Form C or Form D to possess, subject to the conditions in his license (except in this respect), any quantity of manufactured fireworks not exceeding one thousand pounds—by any Magistrate of the first class or any Police Officer not below the rank of an Assistant or Deputy Superintendent of Police ;

(a) in the Presidency of Madras—

(b) in the Presidency of Bombay—

for a period of seven days—

by a Magistrate of the first class or (in the City of Bombay) by the Commissioner of Police ;

(c) in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh—

for a period of seven days—

by the District Magistrate.

CHAPTER VIII.

PRECAUTIONS TO BE OBSERVED IN TRANSPORTING EXPLOSIVES.

Part I.—General.

Packing and Marking.

Prohibition of consignment or conveyance of improperly packed explosives.

72. No explosive shall be tendered for conveyance or conveyed unless packed and marked in accordance with the provisions of rules 73 to 77, or (in the case of explosives conveyed under rule 24) in accordance with the rules in force in the United Kingdom at the time of embarkation.

Packing of explosives

73. Whatever be the nature of the explosive and to whatever class it belongs, the following general rules shall be observed :—

(1) The interior of every package shall be free from grit and otherwise clean.

(2) Save as is provided in Schedule IV, there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any package unless the same is covered with suitable material so as effectually to prevent the exposure of such iron or steel.

(3) Every package, when actually used for the packing of one explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive or any other article or substance:

Provided that this rule shall not prevent the packing of inner packages containing a propellant in an outer package with inner packages containing gunpowder or other propellant:

Provided also that with ammunition (Division 1) there may be packed in the same package any article which is not of an inflammable or explosive nature, or liable to cause fire or explosion.

(1) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prohibit the use of an additional package, whether inner or outer : providet that such additional package shall not be of such character as shall have been prohibited in writing by the Chief Inspector of Explosives.

Explanation.—Unless the context otherwise requires—the expression "outer package" means a box, barrel, case or cylinder of wood, metal or other solid material, of such strength, construction and character, that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, nor become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed and will not allow any explosive to escape.

the expression "inner package" means a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent any explosive from escaping.

the expression "propellant" means an authorised explosive of the nitro-compound class adapted and intended exclusively for use as a propelling charge in cannon or small-arms.

Packing of authorised explosives.

74. The method of packing authorised explosives of various classes, respectively, and the maximum amounts which may be packed in any one package shall be those indicated in Schedule IV.

Packing of explosives which are not authorised.

75. Explosives which are not authorised explosives shall be packed subject to such special precautions as may be prescribed by the Chief Inspector of Explosives.

Labelling and marking of packages

76. (1) On the outermost package there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark, the word "Explosive," the name of the explosive, the number of the class and of the division to which it belongs, and the name of the manufacturer or sender.

(2) In the case of a nitro-compound or of a chlorate-mixture there shall be added the date of manufacture or issue from the factory, or such sign indicating such date as may be approved by the Chief Inspector of Explosives :

Provided that—

(a) in the case of cartridges or charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting or other like purpose, which do not contain their own means of ignition, the marking shall be as for the explosive when not so made up,

(b) in the case of ammunition (Division 1) (safety fuzes excepted), there shall be added the words "Not liable to explode in bulk;"

(c) in the case of pin-fire cartridges for pistols, there shall be added the words "Pin-fire cartridges;" and

(d) in the case of safety fuzes or gunpowder, the word "Explosive" and the number of the class and division may be omitted.

(3) Where an outer package contains more than one explosive, the marking above required shall be affixed separately in respect of each explosive so contained.

Relaxation of packing rules.

77. To meet special cases the Chief Inspector of Explosives may, by order in writing, subject to such conditions (if any) as he may think fit to impose, relax any of the conditions imposed by rules 73 to 76.

Consignment.

Despatch of explosives to carrier.

78. (1) No person shall forward to any warehouseman or carrier any explosive unless he has given notice to such warehouseman or carrier of his intention to forward such explosive and has received an intimation from such warehouseman or carrier that he is prepared to receive such consignment.

(2) Such notice shall state—

(a) the name and quantity of the explosive to be conveyed, and
(b) the name and address of the consignee.

Receipt of explosives by carrier

79. No warehouseman or carrier shall send such an intimation as is specified in rule 78 unless he is prepared to receive it, and

(a) forthwith to despatch such explosive, or

(b) to deposit it in an authorised magazine or at a place at which some person is licensed to possess such explosive in such quantity.

Precautions to be observed in loading and unloading explosives.

Loading and unloading to be by daylight.

80. No explosive shall be loaded on, or unloaded from, any carriage or vessel between sunset and sunrise.

Prohibition of naked lights, etc.

81. During the loading or unloading of an explosive no person shall, nor shall any person be allowed to, bring into, have or use in, dangerous proximity to such explosive any fire or any article or liquid or substance which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion (such as, charcoal, matches or petroleum) or (unless the use of a light is unvoidable) any light:

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of loading or unloading is unavoidable a light may be used if it be of such construction and character and in such position as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion.

Prohibition of smoking.

82. During the loading or unloading of an explosive no person shall smoke, nor shall be allowed to smoke, on, in or dangerously near to the carriage or vessel containing such explosive.

Prohibition of nailed boots, etc

83. During the loading or unloading of an explosive no person wearing boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips, shall handle, nor shall be allowed to handle, such explosive.

Method of handling explosives.

84. In the loading or unloading of an explosive the casks or packages containing the explosive shall be passed from hand to hand and shall not be rolled along, and they shall not be thrown down or dropped but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

Loading.

85. (1) Explosives shall be conveyed whenever possible in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a vessel having a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosives from communication of fire, and

Protection of explosives in transit

(2) When they cannot be so conveyed, they shall be completely covered with a painted cloth, tarpaulin or other suitable material so as effectually to protect the explosives from communication of fire.

86. The quantity of explosives conveyed in any one carriage or vessel shall not exceed two thousand pounds:

Maximum consignments allowed

Provided that where the explosives are conveyed under the conditions set forth in clause (1) of rule 85, the quantity of explosives may exceed two thousand pounds, but shall not exceed ten tons in any one carriage on a railway or two tons in any one other carriage or twenty tons in any one vessel.

87. No explosive, which contains its own means of ignition, shall be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive not of the same class and division, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

Explosives of different kinds to be kept apart

88. Due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise and by careful stowing to secure any explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in the carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion, and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

Dangers from fire and water to be guarded against

89. All iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the pacakage containing any explosive is or may come in contact, shall be effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth or other suitable material.

Protection from naked iron or steel

Conveyance.

90. No explosive shall be conveyed in any carriage or vessel plying for or carrying public passengers.

Explosives not to be sent by public carriage or vessel

91. The carriage or vessel conveying an explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons.

Carriage or vessel to be in charge of competent person or persons

92. No person who is intoxicated shall, nor shall he be permitted to, have charge of, or be in, on or attending to, any carriage or vessel conveying explosives.

Intoxicated person not to have charge of carriage or vessel

93. The person in charge of a carriage or vessel conveying an explosive shall not drive, conduct or manœuvre such carriage or vessel in a dangerous or negligent manner.

Driving or navigation to be careful

94. If the quantity of explosive conveyed in the carriage or vessel exceeds one hundred pounds the person or persons in charge of such carriage or vessel shall not stop or delay at any place for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, nor stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended by public danger.

Prohibition delay in transit

95. No person shall, during the conveyence of an explosive, do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which is liable to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance.

Avoidance of danger by fire, etc

96. No explosive shall be carried otherwise than by rail across any railway bridge across which reasonable facilities for the conveyance thereof by rail are afforded by the Railway Administration:

Explosives not to be carried across railway bridges

Provided that nothing in this rule shall apply to—

(a) ammunition, Class 6, Division 1, in any quantity; or

(b) any quantity of gunpowder, or of a nitro-compound or of ammunition, Class 6, Divisions 2 and 3, not exceeding five pounds; or

(c) any quantity of fire-works not exceeding ten pounds.

Exemptions and savings.

97. Nothing in rules 80 to 89 shall apply to ammunition (Division 1): provided that all due precautions shall be taken to prevent explosion.

Saving as to the conveyance of ammunition

Saving as to the conveyance of small consignments.

98. Nothing in rules 78, 79 and 90 shall apply to the conveyance of—

(a) any quantity not exceeding five pounds of any explosive other than a fulminate or ammunition (Division 3) or fire-works (Division 1);

(b) detonators not exceeding two hundred in number and not containing in the aggregate more than three ounces of fulminate:

Provided that—

(i) previous notice shall be given to the person in charge of the carriage or vessel in which the explosive is intended to be conveyed;

(ii) all due precautions shall be taken to prevent accidents by fire or explosion;

(iii) no other explosive shall be carried in the same compartment; and also

(iv) (in the case of detonators) the consignment shall be covered by a certificate, signed by the consignor, that the quantity of fulminate in the consignment does not exceed the amount specified in sub-clause (b).

Saving as to conveyance by railway.

99. Nothing in rules 78, 79, 90, 91 and 94 shall apply to the conveyance of any explosive by railway.

Saving of liability of carrier and owner and master of a ship for breach of these rules when consignee, etc, is in fault.

100. Where a carrier, or the owner or the master of a vessel, is prevented from complying with these rules by the wilful act, neglect or default of the consignor or consignee of the explosive, or other person, or by the improper refusal of the consignee or other person to accept delivery of the explosive, such consignor, consignee or other person who is guilty of such wilful act, neglect, default or refusal shall be liable to the same penalty to which the carrier, owner or master is liable for a breach of these rules, and his conviction shall exempt the carrier, owner or master from any penalty under these rules.

Part II.—Railways.

Consignment.

Conveyance by railway

101. Rules 102 to 136 shall apply to the transport of explosives by railway.

Certain explosives not to be consigned.

102. No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent or forwarded to or upon any railway of the said Railway Administration.

Certificate of packing.

103. The consignor shall certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the rules in force in the United Kingdom or in British India.

Notice of the consignment

104. No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive unless—

(1) he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing (which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours) of his intention to send such consignment, and stating—

(a) the true name, description, quantity and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and

(b) his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and—

(2) he has had an intimation in writing from an authorised officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

Receipt of consignment.

105. Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the fowarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint.

Certificate in case of nitro-compounds and chlorates

106. The consignor shall (in the case of nitro-compounds and chlorate-mixtures)—

(1) Cause the outer packages to be marked with the date of manufacture, and

(2) attached to the consignment note a certificate, or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate (so describing the packages as to render their identification certain) signed by the Chief Inspector of Explosives or an Inspector of Explosives, or, if the certificate is granted at the time when the explosive is imported, by the Chemical Examiner or Analyser—

(a) that the explosive is of standard purity, and

(b) that (if the explosive be dynamite or any nitro-glycerine compound) there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction.

(3) The aforesaid certificate shall ordinarily be valid for six months after date: provided that, in the case of dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds which are not used as propellants as defined in rule 73—

(a) such certificate shall lapse on the 31st July, and

(b) a fresh certificate for each conveyance may, at the discretion of the Railway Administration concerned, be demanded during the period from the 1st April to the 31st July (both inclusive) if the original certificate has not been granted later than the 31st March.

Discretion of Railway to refuse improperly-packed explosives.

107. The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations.

Disposal of consignment on arrival at station of departure.

108. Every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station. These packages should not be allowed to stand in the sun.

Loading.

Maximum quantities to be conveyed in one vehicle.

109. The quantity of explosives conveyed in any one vehicle shall not in any case exceed that specified in rule 86 and shall not (unless the vehicle is specially constructed and approved by the Railway Board for the carriage of explosives) exceed two-thirds of the normal load of such vehicle:

Provided that (in the case of explosives of the kinds specified in rule 114) the quantity of explosives shall not—

(a) where such explosives are stowed in the manner described in clause (1) of that rule, exceed three tons, and

(b) where such explosives are stowed in the manner described in clause (2) of that rule, exceed five tons.

Prohibition of conveyance with inflammable substances.

110. There shall not be conveyed in the same vehicle with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipe-lights, acids, naphtha, parafine, petroleum or any other volatile spirit substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

Condition of vehicle.

111. Vehicles used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-poof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair-cloth, hides or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service pattern boxes.

Stowing of explosives.

112. All packages containing explosives shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

Method of stowing of explosives.

113. Packages containing explosives other than those referred to in rule 114 shall not be stowed in more than three layers one above the other. But if the packages are in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages, and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit) they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service pattern boxes.

Method of stowing of high explosives

114. (1) Packages containing dynamite and other blasting explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) Class, or explosives of the 4th (chlorate-mixture), 5th (fulminate) Classes or of the 1st Division of the 7th (firework) Class shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit:

(2) Provided that, if the packages of explosives are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five.

Locking of vehicles.

115. Vehicles shall in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

Delivery.

Delivery to consignee

116. The consignee shall remove the explosives from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight following its arrival.

Disposal when consignee fails to take delivery.

117. If the consignee does not remove the explosive within the time allowed by rule 116, the Railway Administration may return the explosive to the consignor at his risk and expense.

Protection of explosives pending removal

118. Pending removal by the consignee, or return to the consignor, the explosives shall be kept at a safe distance from the station buildings, and (if unloaded) shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

Power to open packages.

Opening of suspected packages.

119. The Railway Administration may at any time open or require to be opened at the risk and expense of the consignor any package which is upon any railway and which is suspected to contain explosives packed or consigned in contravention of any of these rules.

Disposal of opened packages

120. The Railway Administration may return to the consignor at his risk and expense the contents of any package which is found during transit to have been packed or consigned in contravention of any of these rules.

Precautions to be observed during loading and unloading.

Time of loading and unloading.

121. Notwithstanding anything in rule 80, a small consignment of explosives may be unloaded between sunset and sunrise.

For the purpose of this rule no consignment of more than half a wagon load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment.

Loading and unloading to be continuous

122. Subject to the provisions of rules 80 and 121, the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

Place of loading and unloading.

123. Vehicles containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings at a safe distance from the station buildings.

Loading and unloading of Government explosives

124. All explosives under despatch or receipt by a Government arsenal, depôt or factory shall be loaded or unloaded by Government servants employed in such arsenal, depôt or factory.

Maximum number of vehicles to be dealt with at a time.

125. Not more than five vehicles containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, at any one time.

Time of transhipment

126. All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

Marshalling and Shunting.

Maximum number of vehicles to be hauled in one train.

127. Not more than five vehicles containing explosives shall at any one time be hauled in the same train.

Precaution in the case of high explosives

128. No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) Class or of the 3rd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, or of the 7th (firework) Class shall be carried in the same train with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

Position of vehicle in the train

129. Vehicles containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close-coupled to one another as well as to the adjoining vehicles, and shall be preceded and followed by three vehicles not loaded with explosives or other article or substance of an inflammable nature:

Provided as follows:—

(a) on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, vehicles containing explosives and adjoining vehicles need not be close-coupled to one another; and

(b) on the Nilgiri and Karaikkal-Peralam Railways, only one vehicle need intervene between the locomotive and vehicles containing explosives.

Shunting.

130. When the train is being marshalled, vehicles loaded with explosives shall not be shunted by a locomotive, unless they are separated from the engine by not less than three vehicles containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall apply to the shunting of vehicles specially constructed for the carriage of explosives.

Limit of speed in shunting.

131. During the shunting of vehicles containing explosives the speed of all movements shall not exceed five miles an hour; and loose shunts are prohibited.

Superintendence in shunting

132. No shunting shall be carried on save under the superintendence of a duly-authorised officer, who shall see to the observance of rules 130 and 131.

Brakes.

Brakes.

133. If the vehicles employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes, other than iron brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the vehicles are running with a train, nor shall brakes, other than iron brakes, on vehicles immediately adjoining such vehicles, be worked while such vehicles are so running.

Conveyance by Passenger train.

Conveyance of explosives by passenger train

134. Save as provided in rule 135, no explosives shall be conveyed by passenger train except—

(a) safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety-fuzes (for blasting), and fog-signals for railway use;

(b) explosives of the 3rd (intro-compound) Class other than propellants in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs:

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment:

(c) detonators to the number of 200 if the amount of fulminate of mercury in the package or packages containing the detonators does not exceed in the aggregate 3 oz. (and a certificate to this effect is tendered by the consignor):

Provided that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment;

(d) sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as provided in Schedule IV, so long as the gunpowder is contained in tin canisters containing not more than five pounds each packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Chief Inspector of Explosives. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

Conveyance of explosives by mixed train

135. Any explosive may be conveyed by mixed train on any line or section on which goods trains are not running, subject to the following conditions:—

(1) that not more than one vehicle containing explosives shall be hauled at any one time;

(2) that such vehicle shall be specially constructed and approved by the Railway Board for the carriage of explosives;

(3) that there are not less than three vehicles between such vehicle and the engine and between such vehicle and the passenger coaches;

(4) that such vehicle is close-coupled to the adjoining vehicles; and

(5) that, immediately on entering a section upon which goods trains are running, such vehicle is detached from the train.

Exemptions.

Saving as to cartridges for small-arms.

136. Nothing in rules 109, 125 and 127 shall apply to separate consignments of safety-cartridges for small-arms.

CHAPTER IX.

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Powers of Search and Destruction.

Powers of search and destruction.

137. (1) Any of the officers mentioned in clause (2) may, within the areas [XI of 1878.] specified in that clause, but subject to the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and of any rules for the time being in force thereunder, in cases to which that Act applies—

(a) enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which an explosive is being manufactured, possessed, sold, transported or imported under a license granted under these rules, or in which he has reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being manufactured, possessed, sold, transported or imported in contravention of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), or of these rules and may enter, inspect and examine any magazine or place in which explosives are stored under the provisions of rule 24;

(c) take samples of any explosives found therein, on payment of the value thereof if payment can be made at the time the samples are taken; and

(d) seize, detain, remove and, if necessary, destroy or otherwise render harmless any explosive found therein in respect of which he has reason to believe that any of the provisions of the said rules or Act have been contravened.

(2) The officers and areas referred to in clause (1) are—

Officers.	Areas.
The Chief Inspector and Inspectors of Explosives.	In all parts of British India.
All District Magistrates	Within their respective districts.
All Magistrates subordinate to the District Magistrate	Within their respective jurisdictions.
The Commissioner of Police and all Police Officers of rank not below that of Inspector, or, if the Local Government so directs, of Sub-Inspector, if specially deputed in this behalf by the Commissioner of Police.	In Presidency towns or their suburbs and in Rangoon.
All Police Officers of rank not below that of Inspector, or, if the Local Government so directs, of Sub-Inspector.	Within the respective areas over which their authority extends.

(3) Whenever the Chief Inspector or any Inspector of Explosives, or any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, or any Police Officer seizes, detains or removes any explosive under this rule, he shall report the fact to the District authority.

(4) Neither the Chief Inspector nor an Inspector of Explosives, nor any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate nor any Police Officer shall under these rules destroy or otherwise render harmless any explosive without the previous sanction of the District authority unless the matter appears urgent and fraught with serious public danger.

(5) Whenever any officer destroys any explosive or otherwise renders it harmless, he shall take and keep a sample thereof, and shall, if required, give a portion of the sample to the person owning the explosive or having the same under his control at the time of seizure; and whenever any officer other than the District authority so deals with any explosive, he shall report the circumstance to the District authority.

Penalties.

Penalties

138. Whoever commits any offence mentioned in the first column of the following table shall be punishable with fine which may extend to the amount indicated in that behalf in the second column of that table :—

(1) Importing an explosive in contravention of rules 11, 13, 21, 22, 23 and 24.	Three thousand rupees.
(2) Contravening any of the provisions of rule 18, rule 25, or rule 26 relating to importation of explosives.	One thousand rupees.
(3) Transporting blasting material in contravention of rule 27.	One thousand rupees.
(4) Manufacturing an explosive in contravention of rule 32.	Three thousand rupees
(5) Contravening any of the provisions of rules 33 and 34 relating to the manufacture of explosives.	One thousand rupees.
(6) Possessing an explosive in contravention of rule 35.	One thousand rupees.
(7) Selling an explosive in contravention of rule 37.	Five hundred rupees.
(8) Contravening a condition of a license granted under article 1, article 2 or article 10 of Schedule II.	Three thousand rupees.
(9) Contravening a condition of a license granted under article 4, article 5, article 6, article 7, article 8, article 9, article 16 or article 17 of Schedule II.	Five hundred rupees.
(10) Contravening a condition of a license granted under article 3, article 11, article 12, article 13, article 14 or article 15 of Schedule II.	One thousand rupees.
(11) Contravening any direction given under rule 58, for the disposal of an explosive.	One thousand rupees.
(12) Failing to produce a license (or authenticated copy thereof) or pass when called upon to do so under rule 62.	Two hundred rupees.
(13) Contravening any of the provisions of Chapter VIII relating to the transporting of explosives.	One thousand rupees.
(14) Furnishing a false certificate under rules 17, 21, 22, 98, 103, 106 and 134.	Two hundred rupees.

Exemptions.

Saving as to acts done in emergency, etc.

139. Nothing in these rules shall render liable to any penalty the owner or master of any vessel, or any carrier, or ware-houseman or the person having charge of any carriage for any act done in breach of these rules, if he proves that by reason of stress of weather, inevitable accident, or other emergency, the doing of such act was, under the circumstances, necessary and proper.

SCHEDULE I.

PRESCRIBED TESTS.

[Vide Rule 16.]

I.—Heat Test as applied to Explosives of the Nitro-compound Class.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Apparatus required.

1. A water bath, consisting of a spherical glass or copper vessel [(a) Fig. 1] of about 8 inches diameter, and with an aperture of about 5 inches; the bath is filled with water to within a quarter of an inch of the edge. It has a loose cover of sheet copper about 6 inches in diameter (b), and rests on a tripod stand about 14 inches high (c), which is covered with coarse iron wire gauze (e), and is surrounded with a screen of thin sheet tin or copper (d). Within the latter is placed an Argand burner (f), with glass chimney. The cover (b) has four holes arranged as seen in Fig. II, No. 4 to receive the regulator, No. 3 the thermometer, Nos. 1 and 2 the test-tubes containing the gun-cotton or other materials to be tested. Around holes 1 and 2 on the under side of the cover are soldered three pieces of brass wire with points slightly converging (Fig. III); these act as springs and allow the test-tubes to be easily placed in position and removed.

FIG. I.

FIG. II.

FIG. III.

FIG. IV

* 2. Scheibler's or Page's temperature regulator.

* 3. Two cells of Le Clanché's battery No. 1 } if Scheibler's regulator
* 4. A few yards of insulated copper wire } is used.

5. Test-tubes from 5¼ to 5½ inches long, and of such diameter that they will hold from 20 to 22 cubic centimetres of water when filled to a height of 5 inches.

6. India-rubber stoppers, fitting the test-tubes and carrying an arrangement for holding the test-paper, viz., a narrow glass tube passing through the centre of the stopper, drawn out so as to form a hook, or terminating in a platinum wire hook (Fig. IV).

7. A thermometer, with range not less than from 30° to 212° Fahrenheit.

8. A minute clock.

Materials required.

(a) Test-paper.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white maize starch (cornflour), previously washed with cold water, are added to 8½ ounces of distilled water; the mixture is stirred, heated to boiling, and kept gently boiling for 10 minutes; 15 grains of pure potassium iodide (i.e., which has been re-crystallized from alcohol) are dissolved in 8½ ounces of distilled water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed and allowed to get cold. Strips, or sheets, of best white English filter paper, weighing air dry, from 4·1 to 4·6 grammes per 100 square inches, previously washed with water and re-dried, are dipped into the solution thus prepared, and allowed to remain in it for not less than 10 seconds; they are then allowed to drain and dry in a place free from laboratory fumes and dust. The upper and lower margins of the strips, or sheets are cut off, and the paper is preserved in well-stoppered or corked bottles and in the dark.† The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about $\frac{4}{10}$ inch by $\frac{8}{10}$ inch (10 mm. by 20 mm.)

(b) Standard tint-paper.—A solution of caramel in water is made of such concentration that when diluted one-hundred times (10 cc. made up to 1 litre) the tint of this diluted solution equals the tint produced by the Nessler test in 100 cc. water containing 0·000075 grm. of ammonia or 0·00023505 grm. of chloride of ammonium. With this caramel solution lines are drawn on strips of white filter paper‡ by means of a clean quill pen. When the marks thus produced are dry the paper is cut into pieces of the same size as the test-paper previously described, in such a way that each piece has a brown line across it near the middle of its length, and only such strips are preserved in which the brown line has a breadth varying from ½ mm. to 1 mm. ($\frac{1}{50}$ of an inch to $\frac{1}{25}$ of an inch).

II.—Testing Dynamite, Blasting Gelatine, and other Explosives of the First Division of the Nitro-compound Class.

A.—DYNAMITE, ETC., ETC.

Nitro-glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine can be extracted in the manner described below, must satisfy the following test.

This test, however, though at present looked upon as the most important, as far as testing the purity of the nitro-glycerine is concerned, is in England only one of several which any given sample of nitro-glycerine preparation has to satisfy in order to establish its compliance with the definition in the Authorised List.

* This is not absolutely required, as the temperature of the bath can be kept constant by proper attention to the heating flame.

† When a paper is freshly prepared, and as long as it remains in good condition, a drop of dilute acetic acid, put on the paper with a glass rod, produces no coloration. In process of time, however, the stronger the light to which the paper is exposed, the sooner a drop of acid produces a brown or bluish coloration (a single hour of direct sunlight produces a marked effect), and whenever this is the case the paper should be rejected. After preparation the paper should be kept in the dark for a month before being taken into use. After that, if carefully kept in the dark, it will remain good for 6 months or more, but should be tested from time to time as above.

‡ This paper must be carefully washed with distilled water in the first instance, to remove any traces of bleaching matter, and dried.

Apparatus required.

A funnel 2 inches across (d), a cylindrical measure divided into grains (e) (see sketch).

Mode of operation.

About 300 to 400 grains of dynamite (b) finely divided are placed in the funnel which has previously been loosely plugged by some freshly-ignited asbestos (a).

The surface is smoothed by means of a flat-headed glass rod or stopper, and some clean washed and dried Kieselguhr (c) is spread over it to the depth of about ⅛ inch.

Water is next carefully dropped from a wash bottle upon this Kieselguhr, and when the first portion has been soaked up more is added: this is repeated until sufficient nitro-glycerine has been collected in the graduated measure (e) below.

If any water should have passed through with the nitro-glycerine, it should be removed with a piece of blotting paper, and the nitro-glycerine, if necessary, filtered through a dry paper filter.

Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under I, into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of 160° Fahr.*) to a depth of 2¾ inches. Fifty grains of nitro-glycerine to be tested are weighed into a test-tube in such a way as not to soil the sides of the tube. A test-paper is fixed on the hook of the glass rod so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A sufficient amount of a mixture of half distilled water and half glycerine to moisten the upper half of the paper is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, the cork carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted, so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to such a depth that the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is complete when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper, equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint-paper.

The nitro-glycerine under examination will not be considered to have satisfied the test unless the time necessary to produce the standard tint as above described is at least 15 minutes.

* For explosives supplied for His Majesty's Military and Naval Services the temperature is fixed by the War Office at 180°.

B.—BLASTING GELATINE, GELATINE DYNAMITE, AND ANALOGOUS PREPARATIONS.

Fifty (50) grains of blasting gelatine are to be intimately incorporated with one hundred (100) grains of French chalk.* The mixture is to be gradually introduced into a test-tube of the dimensions prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, with the aid of gentle tapping upon the table, between the introduction of successive portions of the mixture into the tube, so that when the tube contains all the mixture it shall be filled to the extent of 1¾ inches (one inch and three-quarters) of its height. The test-paper is then to be inserted and the heat is to be applied in the manner prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, and the sample tested is to withstand exposure to 160° Fahr. for a period of ten (10) minutes, before producing a discoloration of the test-papers corresponding in tint to the standard colour test which is employed for governing the results of the dynamite heat tests.

(For Exudation and Liquefaction tests for Blasting Gelatine, etc., etc., see Appendix.)

N.B.—Non-gelatinized nitro-glycerine preparations from which the nitro-glycerine cannot be expelled by water, are tested without any previous separation of the ingredients, the temperature being as above (160° Fahr.) and the time being seven (7) minutes.

C.—CORDITE AND BALLISTITE.

1. Apparatus required.

The apparatus necessary for the application of the heat test to cordite is identical with that described above for explosives of the nitro-compound class generally† with the addition of a mill and a nest of sieves‡ similar to those used at Waltham Abbey for preparing the cordite for testing (see instructions below).

2. Preparation of the sample to be tested.

Pieces half-an-inch long are cut from one end of every stick selected for the test; in the case of the thicker cordites, each piece so cut is further sub-divided into about four portions. These cut pieces are then passed once through the mill, the first portion of material which passes through being rejected on account of the possible presence of foreign matter from the mill. The ground material is put on the top sieve of the nest of sieves and sifted. The portion which has passed through the top sieve and been stopped by the second is taken for the test. If the mill is properly set the greater portion of the ground material will be of the proper size.

If the volatile matter in the explosive exceed 0·5 per cent. the sifted material should be dried at a temperature not exceeding 140° Fahr. until the proportion does not exceed 0·5 per cent.

After each sample has been ground, the mill must be taken to pieces and carefully cleaned.

* This can be readily effected by carefully working the two materials together with a wooden pestle in a wooden mortar.

The French chalk should be of good commercial quality, and, after being carefully washed with distilled water and dried in a water oven it should be exposed under a bell jar to moist air until it has taken up about 0·5 per cent. of moisture. It should then be bottled for use; and with ordinary care the limits of 0·5 per cent. can be maintained in keeping.

† In the Waltham Abbey apparatus the cover (Fig. II) has all the holes around the circumference instead of having one in the centre and three around the circumference.

‡ A nest of two sieves with the holes rilled in sheet copper. The holes in the top sieve have a diameter = 14 B. W. G., those in the second = 21 B. W. G.

If too hard for the mill, it may be softened by exposure to the vapour of acetone, or reduced to the necessary degree of subdivision by means of a sharp moderately coarse rasp. Should it have become too soft in the acetone vapour for the mill, it should be cut up into small pieces which may be brought to any desired degree of hardness by simple exposure to air.

Explosives which consist partly of gelatinized collodion cotton and partly of ungelatinized gun-cotton are best reduced to powder by a rasp, or softened by exposure to mixed ether and alcohol vapour at a temperature of 90° to 100° Fahr.

3. Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under paragraph 1, so as to be immersed in the water to a depth of 2¾ inches. The water is maintained at a constant temperature of 180° Fahr. When this temperature is reached, 25 grains of the sifted cordite are put into one of the test-tubes, and collected at the bottom by gentle tapping. A test-paper is fixed on to the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A mixture of equal parts of distilled water and pure glycerine (Price's) is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, in sufficient amount to moisten the upper half; the stopper carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube: the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to the same depth as the thermometer. The lower margin of the moistened part of the paper should then be about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is completed when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the margin between the wet and dry portions of the test-paper, equals in depth of tint the brown line drawn on the standard tint-paper.

4. The time which elapses between the insertion of the test-tube and the completion of the test must not be less than 15 minutes.

N.B.—In the case of ballistite the treatment is the same, except that when it is in a very finely granulated condition it need not be cut up.

III.—Testing Gun-cotton, Schultz's Gunpowder, E. C. Powder, and other explosives of the 2nd Division of the Nitro-compound Class.

A.—COMPRESSED NITRO-CELLULOSE, TONITE, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient material to serve for two or more tests is removed from the centre of the cartridge by gentle scraping, and, if necessary, further reduced by rubbing through a sieve with a clean hard brush.

The fine powder thus p oduced is spread out in a thin layer upon a paper-tray 6 inches by 4½ inches which is then placed inside a water oven, kept, as nearly as possible, at 120° Fahr.

The wire-gauze shelves in the oven should be about 3 inches apart. The sample is allowed to remain at rest for 15 minutes in the oven, the door of which is left wide open.

After the lapse of 15 minutes the tray is removed and exposed to the air of the room for two hours, the sample being at some point within that time rubbed upon the tray with a brush, in order to reduce it to a fine and uniform state of division.

Application of the Test.

The cover of the water-bath is fitted with the gas regulator which is inserted through the centre hole (No. 4). The thermometer is fixed into hole No. 3. The water in the bath is then heated to 170° Fahr., and the regulator set to maintain that temperature. Twenty grains of the sample to be tested are weighed out, placed in the test-tube, and gently pressed down until the specimen occupies a space of not more than $1\frac{1}{16}$ inches in a test-tube of the dimensions specified. A test-paper is affixed to the hook of the glass rod or tube, and moistened by touching the upper edge with a drop of distilled water containing 50 per cent. of Price's glycerine. The quantity of liquid used must be only sufficient to moisten about half the paper. Th corkcarrying the rod and test-paper is then fixed into the test-tube, and th latter inserted into the bath to a depth of 2½ inches, measured fromthe cover, the regulator and thermometer being inserted to the same depth.

The test-paper is to be kept near the top of the test-tube, but clear of the cork, until the tube has been immersed for about five minutes. A ring of moisture will about this time be deposited upon the sides of the test-tube a little above the cover of the bath; the glass rod must then be lowered until the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is on a level with the bottom of the ring of moisture in the tube; the paper is now closely watched. The test is complete when the faint brown line, which makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist parts of the paper, equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint-paper.

The interval of time between the first insertion of the tube containing the sample of gun-cotton in the water at 170° and the production of the standard tint constitutes the test, and this interval of time must be not less than 10 minutes, or the sample will not be considered to have satisfied the test.

B.—GELATINIZED AND SEMI-GELATINIZED NITRO-CELLULOSE PREPARATIONS.*

Twenty-five grains introduced into the test-tube* of the dimensions prescribed for the dynamite heat test, then proceed as for blasting gelatine, etc., taking the temperature at 180° Fahr., and the time as 15 minutes.

C.—NITRO-CELLULOSE NOT INCLUDED IN A. OR B., SCHULTZ'S POWDER, E. C. POWDER, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient of the sample, without further mechanical division, is dried in the oven as above, and then exposed for two hours to the air. The test as directed above for compressed nitro-cellulose, etc., is then applied, the minimum duration of test being the same, viz., 10 minutes.

D.—PICRIC ACID.

(1) The material shall contain not more than 0·3 part of mineral or non-combustible matter in 100 parts by weight of the material dried at 160° Fahr.

(2) It should not contain more than a minute trace of lead.

(3) One hundred parts of the dry material shall not contain more than 0·3 part of total (free and combined) sulphuric acid, of which not more than 0·1 part shall be free sulphuric acid.

(4) Its melting point should be between 248° and 253° Fahr.

E.—AMMONITE, BELLITE, ROBURITE, AND EXPLOSIVES OF SIMILAR COMPOSITION.

These are required to stand the same heat test as compressed nitro-cellulose.

IV.—Testing Chlorate-Mixtures.

The material must not be too sensitive† and must show no tendency to increase in sensitiveness on keeping.

The material must contain nothing liable to reduce the chlorate.

Chlorides calculated as potassium chloride must not exceed 0·25 per cent.

The material must contain no free acid, or substance liable to produce free acid.

Explosives of this class containing nitro-compounds will be subject to the heat test as if they belonged to Class III.

V.—Testing Ammunition (Divisions 2 and 3).

Any explosive made up into ammunition (other than Division 1), for which a test is provided in the schedule, is to be tested as if not so made up.

* If in a compressed form it should be broken up in the same manner as cordite and ballistite.

† They will be considered too sensitive if they can be exploded however partially by means of a glancing blow with a broomstick on soft wood (such as deal).

APPENDIX.

Exudation and Liquefaction Test for Blasting Gelatine, Gelatine Dynamite and analogous Preparations.

TEST FOR LIQUEFACTION.

A cylinder of blasting gelatine is to be cut from the cartridge to be tested, the length of the cylinder to be about equal to its diameter and the ends being cut flat.

The cylinder is to be placed on end on a flat surface without any wrapper, and secured by a pin passing vertically through its centre.

In this condition the cylinder is to be exposed for one hundred and forty-four (144) consecutive hours (six days and nights) to a temperature ranging from 85° to 90° Fahr. (inclusive), and during such exposure the cylinder shall not diminish in height by more than one-fourth of its original height, and the upper cut surface shall retain its flatness and the sharpness of its edge.

Note.—If the blasting gelatine and the gelatine dynamite to be tested be not made up in a cylindrical form, the above test is to be applied with the necessary modifications.

TEST FOR LIABILITY TO EXUDATION.

There shall be no separation from the general mass of the blasting gelatine or gelatine dynamite of a substance of less consistency than the bulk of the remaining portion of the materials under any conditions of storage, transport, or use, or when the material is subjected three times in succession to alternate freezing and thawing, or when subjected to the liquefaction test hereinbefore described.

SCHEDULE II.

Licenses (vide rule 49).

Number.	Form of License. (See Schedule III.)	Purpose for which granted.	Kinds and maximum quantities of explosives for which granted.	Authority entitled to grant license.	Fee.	Period for which license is valid.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
			Importation.
1	1	To import by land ...	Any authorised explosive in any quantity.	The District authority of the district or town to which the explosives are consigned.	Rs. 10.	Such period as the licensing authority deems necessary.
2	1	To import by sea ...	Gunpowder, ammunition (Division 1) and fireworks only—in any quantity. Any explosive re-imported under clause (ii) of the proviso to rule 12. Any other authorised explosive.	The District authority having jurisdiction in the port of importation. The Local Government or such other officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.	Rs. 10; but where the explosives have been re-imported from any port for importation into which a license has been granted under these rules, one rupee only.
			Transport.
3	2	For the general transport of explosives required for blasting purposes by a holder of a license in Form F, Form J or Form K, or by a person storing blasting explosives in a magazine licensed by a Port Trust or Municipality, from the place of storage or the magazine as the case may be to such place or places as the licensing authority may specify.	Any explosive in any quantity.	The District authority of the district or town from which the explosive is to be transported.	Free of charge ...	One year from the issue of the license or such less period as the licensing authority may prescribe.
			Manufacture, Possession and Sale.
4	A	To manufacture, possess and sell at such place as may be approved by the licensing authority. Conditions.

1. The license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder. [IV of 1884.]

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives manufactured, of all stock in hand, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The licensee shall exhibit his stock and his books and records of manufacture and sales to any Magistrate or to any Police Officer duly empowered in this behalf, whenever such Magistrate or officer may call upon him so to do:

Provided that where the license extends only to the manufacture, possession and sale of manufactured fireworks and the quantity permitted to be kept at one time does not exceed fifty pounds, the licensee shall not be required to keep or exhibit records or accounts of the same.

4. (1) The explosive shall be manufactured in a tent or lightly constructed building exclusively appropriated for the purpose and separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place by the distance—

(a) in the case of gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound, of one hundred yards, or

(b) in the case of an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class, or of the 7th (Firework) Class, of fifty yards.

(2) In the case of filling cartridges for small-arms the operation may, if preferred, be carried out in the upper room of a building to which the conditions in clause (1) as to distance need not apply :

Provided that no more than five pounds of explosive (except such as may be contained in safety cartridges) shall be in the room where the operation is being carried on.

(3) In all other cases the manufacture shall be carried on in a one-storeyed building.

5. The number of persons employed at any one time in manufacture in any one building or room shall not exceed six, and only persons actually manufacturing or superintending manufacture shall be allowed inside the place of manufacture.

6. No iron or steel implements shall be used in manufacture. Only copper, gun-metal or wooden tools are permissible.

7. All explosives, as manufactured, shall be removed without delay to a safe place of storage, and no explosive shall be allowed to accumulate in the place of manufacture.

8. Manufacture shall only be carried on between sunrise and sunset.

9. No smoking or lights shall be allowed in or near a room where explosives are being manufactured.

10. All sales of explosives under this license must be effected on the premises shown on the face of the license.

11. An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of fourteen years, nor shall any child under that age be employed in manufacture.

12. (1) The explosives possessed by the licensee shall be kept in one or other or both of the following modes :—

Mode A, that is to say, in a building or excavation, which is detached from any dwelling-house, and is separated by the distances prescribed in condition No. 4* from any highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place, and is made and closed so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto and to secure it from danger from without, and is exclusively appropriated to keeping explosives; and

(a) such a building must be substantially constructed of brick, stone or concrete, or must be a securely constructed fireproof safe; and

(b) such an excavation must be formed in solid rock or earth, or in mine refuse not liable to ignition, and must not open into, from or out of any mine, quarry, tunnel or underground place which is in use for the carrying on of any work or for the employment of any person.

Mode B, that is to say, in substantial receptacle (whether or not a fireproof safe) which is closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto, and is exclusively appropriated to the keeping of explosives, and is placed inside a dwelling-house, or inside a building which is not itself qualified for the keeping of explosives in Mode A :

Provided that a fireproof safe shall not be used for the keeping of any explosive other than gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound and cartridges of the 2nd Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class (not containing their own means of ignition) and made with gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound, such as cartridges or charges for cannon or blasting purposes.

* These distances may be reduced to one-half when the building is surrounded by a traverse as high as the eaves of the building.

13. The maximum quantity of explosives allowed to be kept at the same time shall be the following:—

(1) if the only explosive kept be one or more of the following namely:—

(a) gunpowder;
(b) small-arm nitro-compound; or
(c) ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th Class, the maximum shall be—

	In Mode A. lbs.	In Mode B. lbs.
gunpowder and small-arm nitro-compound, in all ...	Two hundred.	Fifty.
and, in addition, of explosives contained in ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th Class ...	Any quantity.	Any quantity.

(2) if the only explosive kept be manufactured fireworks, the maximum shall be—manufactured fireworks ...	Two hundred.	Fifty.

(3) in any other case the maximum shall be—mixed explosives, including gunpowder, small arm nitro-compound and manufactured fireworks, etc., in all ...	Sixty.	Fifteen.

and, in addition, of explosives contained in ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th Class ...	Any quantity.	Any quantity.

Provided that in each of three cases abovementioned the aggregate quantity kept on the premises in Mode A and Mode B together may not in any case exceed the maximum quantity which may be kept in Mode A.

14. With respect to a building or excavation used in Mode A, and a receptacle used in Mode B—

(a) the interior thereof and the shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed, or so lined and covered, as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, or the detaching of any grit, iron or steel or similar substance, in such manner as to come into contact with the explosive;

and such interior, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean;

(b) in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom;

(c) all articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature, and all lights, shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive, and from any room or part of a building, excavation or receptacle containing the same; and

(d) no person in any such room or part of a building or any such excavation, or any such receptacle, shall have any iron or steel in his possession, or attached to or on his boots or shoes:

Provided that this condition, so far as it relates to the exposure of iron or steel or similar substances, shall not be obligatory in the case where no explosive is kept other than ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class.

15. Any quantity exceeding five pounds of an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class or of the 2nd Division of the 7th (Firework) Class, and of any other explosive exceeding one pound shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping; and, when publicly exposed for sale or when sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely-attached label or other mark:

Provided that two samples of each kind of firework may be exposed for sale without complying with the foregoing clauses of this condition, if such samples be placed in such a position that no light or fire is, or is likely to be, brought near them.

16. (1) Explosives of different descriptions which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other:

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) Gunpowder, small-arm nitro-compound and safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space:

(b) the various explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space:

(c) the various explosives of the 7th Firework Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

17. *The licensee shall affix to his shop or place of business a signboard as required by condition (4) endorsed on Form XI or Form XIII of the Forms prescribed by the Indian Arms Rules, 1909, and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 28 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878. [XI of 1878.]

18. *The licensee shall at the time of purchase endorse upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under Form XVI or XIX of the Forms prescribed by the Indian Arms Rules, 1909, the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the articles sold;

(b) the nature and amount of articles sold; and (c) the date of sale:

and shall append his signature to the endorsement.

19. A similar endorsement shall be made upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under the Explosives Act for the possession of explosives.

(d) no person in any such room or part of a building, or any such excavation, or any such receptacle, shall have any iron or steel in his possession, or attached to or on his boots or shoes:

Provided that this condition, so far as it relates to the exposure of iron or steel or similar substances, shall not be obligatory in the case where no explosive is kept other than ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th Class.

7. Any quantity exceeding five pounds of an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class or of the 2nd Division of the 7th

(firework) Class, and of any other explosive exceeding one pound, shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping.

8. (1) Explosives of different descriptions which may be kept under this license shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other:

(2) Provided as follows:

(a) gunpowder, small-arm nitro-compound and safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(b) the various explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(c) the various explosives of the 7th (Firework) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

9. The licensee shall at the time of purchase have the following particulars endorsed upon his license by the vendor from whom he purchases, and under the vendor's signature, namely:—

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the articles purchased;

(b) the nature and amount of the articles purchased; and

(c) the date of purchase.

[IV of 1884.] 1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder.

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all fireworks manufactured, of all stock in hand, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The licensee shall exhibit his stock and his books of manufacture and sales to any Magistrate or to any Police Officer duly empowered in this behalf, whenever such Magistrate or officer may call upon him so to do :

Provided that where the license extends only to the manufacture, possession and sale of manufactured fireworks and the quantity permitted to be kept at one time does not exceed fifty pounds, the licensee shall not be required to keep or exhibit records or accounts of the same.

4. Fireworks shall be manufactured in such place only as may be approved by the District Magistrate, due regard being had to the public safety.

5. All sales of fireworks under this license must be effected upon the premises shown on the face of the license.

6. Fireworks shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of fourteen years nor shall any child under that age be employed in manufacture.

7. The manufactured fireworks possessed by the licensee must be kept in a building approved by the District Magistrate, due regard being had to the public safety :

Provided that any quantity not exceeding fifty pounds may be kept inside any other building, if placed in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to the keeping of fireworks.

8. The maximum quantity of fireworks allowed to be kept at the same time is two hundred pounds and that of ingredients not more than is necessary for the manufacture of the quantity of fireworks specified in column 4.

9. *The licensee shall affix to his shop or place of business a signboard as required by condition (4) endorsed on Form XI or XII of the forms prescribed under the Indian Arms Rules, 1909, and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 28 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878. [XI of 1878.]

* This condition is to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, in pursuance of rule 63, by an order written on the license, that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act, 1878. [XI of 1878.]

Conditions.

[IV of 1884] 1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder.

2. The explosives shall be kept in a substantially constructed uninflammable building approved by such officer as the Local Government may prescribe, or in a fireproof safe separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place by a distance of 50 yards and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without :

Provided that 50 lbs. of gunpowder may be kept inside a dwelling-house or in any building other than as last aforesaid in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosives.

3. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fireproof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no person entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in his possession or attached to or on his boots or shoes.

4. Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosive, nor the fireproof safe or receptacle referred to above, shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof :

Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a building, fireproof safe, or receptacle in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class is kept.

5. Gunpowder or other explosives exceeding one pound in quantity shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping.

6. The licensee shall at the time of purchase have the following particulars endorsed upon his license by the vendor from whom he purchases and under the vendor's signature :—

Conditions.

1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder. [IV of 1884.]

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives in stock and of all issues in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The explosive shall be kept in a substantially constructed building which is exclusively appropriated for the purpose, and is detached from any dwelling-house, and is situated at a safe distance from any highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place, and is made and closed so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto and to secure it from danger from without.

4. The doors of the building shall open outwards and shall be faced on the outside with iron plating a quarter of an inch thick. They shall be closed by means of a lock or bolt on the inner side of such make or design as shall be approved by the licensing authority, and so placed that it shall be inaccessible from the outside except by means of its own key. The lock or bolt shall be made of some metal other than iron or steel.

5. All windows in the building shall be closed by shutters which open outwards but which cannot be opened from outside. The shutters shall be faced on the outside with iron plating a quarter of an inch thick.

6. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosives and from any building or receptacle containing the same.

7. No building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosives, and no receptacle in which the explosives are kept, shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof.

In the case of any building or work abovementioned which is so screened from the magazine by the natural features of the ground or by good and sufficient artificial mounds of earth as not to be visible from any part of such magazine, the distance assigned above as that to be observed between such building or work and the magazine may be reduced by one-half.

In the case of any building or work abovementioned which is so screened from the magazine by an intervening hill, that a line drawn from any part of such building or work to any part of such magazine would pass through such hill, the distance assigned by this schedule as that to be observed between such building and work and the magazine may be reduced by three-fourths; but if a Government Inspector notifies in writing that in his judgment the intervening hill, in respect of which such reduction is claimed, is not of a character to justify such reduction, this clause, authorising such reduction, shall be deemed not to apply in respect of the said building or work.

* The distances will be required to be kept clear not merely on the first establishment of the magazine but during the continuance of the license.

Conditions.

[IV of 1884.] 1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder.

2. All explosives must be kept in the magazine indicated in this license.

3. The magazine is not to be used until this license is endorsed by the District authority in accordance with rule 48.

4. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives in stock and of all sales or issues in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

5. There shall not be at the same time in the Magazine any quantity of explosives exceeding the quantity specified in the license.

6. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of the explosives specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosives.

7. The interior of the magazine, and the benches, shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substances in such manner as to come into contact with the explosives; and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean; and, in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom:

Provided that so much of this condition as relates to precautions against the exposure of any iron or steel and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substances, shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

8. The magazine shall have attached thereto an efficient lightning conductor, which shall be tested at least once during the currency of the license, and a certificate showing the result and date of the last test shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in the magazine.

9. Before repairs are done to any room or magazine or part thereof, the same shall, as far as is practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosives or mixed ingredients thereof, and the thorough washing out of such room, magazine or part; and after such cleaning these conditions shall cease to apply to such room or part of the magazine until any explosive is again taken into it:

Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a magazine in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

10. Except after such cleaning, all tools and implements used in, or in making any repairs to, any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood, copper or brass or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material:

Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a magazine in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

11. Due provision shall be made, by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, or of suitable shoes, or by searching or otherwise, or by some such means, for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches or any substance or article likely to cause explosion or fire, or of any grit, iron or steel; but this rule shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion:

Provided that so much of this condition as applies to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel, shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

12. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

13. No person under the age of fourteen years shall be employed in or enter the magazine, except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person, and no explosive shall be sold to any such person.

14. (1) Two or more descriptions of explosives which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine may be possessed in the same magazine if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other:

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) the various explosives of Classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound) and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, and such of the various explosives of the 2nd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(b) the various explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition of space;

(c) such of the various explosives of the 2nd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class as contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(d) the various explosives of the 3rd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervenig partition or space;

(e) the various explosives of the 7th (firework) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(3) Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives shall not be kept in the same magazine.

15. The licensee, and every person employed in or about the magazine shall take all due precautions for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the magazine, and for preventing unauthorised persons from having access to the magazine or to the explosives therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

16. (1) Blasting gelatine or any of its kindred gelatinous nitro-compounds shall not be kept in the magazine after the expiration of three years from the date of its, or their, importation into British India, except with the special sanction of an Inspector of Explosives.

(2) When such sanction has been given, a written certificate, showing the period covered by the sanction, must be obtained from an Inspector of Explosives at each inspection and must be kept by the licensee at the magazine.

17. The licensee shall, at his own expense, provide for the safe custody of the magazine, a guard which shall be of such strength as the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, may consider to be sufficient.

18. All losses, shortage of stock and thefts of explosives shall be reported without delay to the nearest police-station.

Conditions.

[IV of 1884] 1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder.

2. The whole vessel, barge or craft in or on board which the explosives are stored shall be deemed to constitute the magazine.

3. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of such explosives as may be specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosives.

4. The interior of the magazine, and the benches, shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel in such manner, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substance in such manner, as to come into contact with the explosives in such magazine; and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean.

5. The magazine shall have attached thereto an efficient lightning-conductor, which shall be tested previous to the storage of explosives.

6. No charcoal, whether ground or otherwise, oiled cotton, oiled rags or oiled waste and no article whatever which is liable to spontaneous ignition shall be take into the magazine.

7. Before repairs are done to or in any part of the magazine, it shall, so far as practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosives, and by a thorough washing out. After being so cleaned, it shall not be deemed to be a magazine until explosives are again taken into it.

8. There shall be constantly kept in the magazine, affixed in such manner as to be easily read, a copy of the license, and of any special rules that may be issued from time to time for the keeping of explosives in a floating magazine.

9. All tools and implements used in any repairs to or in any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood or copper or brass or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material.

10. No fires, lights or lucifer matches, and no substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire, shall be permitted to be at any time in the magazine.

11. Due provision shall be made, by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, or of suitable shoes, or by searching or otherwise, or by some such means, for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches or any substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire; and for preventing the introduction of any grit, iron or steel into any part of the magazine where it would be likely to come into contact with explosives; and in any part of the magazine in which any explosive is kept which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from such part; but this condition shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion; and so much of this condition as relates to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel shall not be obligatory in the case of a magazine in which no explosive other than explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

12. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

13. (1) The licensee shall not employ any vessel, barge or craft to carry an explosive to or from the magazine unless the cabin, hold or other part of the vessel, barge or craft in which the explosive is or is to be carried—

(a) is constructed without any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof,

(b) contains only explosives, and

(c) is closed or otherwise properly covered over:

Provided that clause (a) shall not apply in the case of any vessel, barge or craft which carries no explosive other than explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, or which is specially exempted by an order of the Chief Inspector of Explosives or by an order of the Local Government endorsed on this license.

(2) The licensee shall see that the explosives to be placed on any vessel, barge or craft so employed are loaded, carried and unloaded with all due diligence and with such precautions and in such manner as will sufficiently guard against any accidental ignition.

14. The licensee shall see—

(a) that no fire unprotected light or smoking is allowed while any explosive [other than explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class] is being received or delivered, or while the hatches or door of the magazine, or the hatches or coverings of any vessel, barge or craft alongside containing any such explosive, are open; and

(b) that no receipt or delivery of explosive is carried on, and that the hatches or door of the magazine are or is kept closed, when any vessel, barge or craft having on board a fire (other than engine-fires properly banked up) or an unprotected light is alongside a magazine containing an explosive other than explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class or in its immediate vicinity.

15. A person under the age of fourteen years shall not be employed in or enter the magazine, except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person.

16. In the case of the magazine being approachable at low water by carriages, the words "vessel, barge or craft," in Nos. 13 and 14 of these conditions, shall be taken to include a carriage.

17. (1) Two or more descriptions of explosives, which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine, may be possessed in the same magazine, if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in one compartment from extending to another compartment:

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) the various explosives of Classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate mixture), 3 (nitro-compound) and 4 (chlorate mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, and such of the various explosives of the 2nd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(b) the various explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(c) such of the various explosives of the 2nd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class as contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(d) the various explosives of the 3rd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(e) the various explosives of the 7th (firework) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(3) Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives shall not be kept in the same magazine.

Conditions.

[IV of 1884.] 1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the rules thereunder.

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives in stock, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. Explosives shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of fourteen years.

4. All explosives exceeding one pound in weight, when publicly exposed for sale or sold, shall be in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping; and the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives, with the word "explosive" added thereto in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark.

SCHEDULE IV.

REGULATIONS FOR PACKAGE OF EXPLOSIVES.

(See rule 74.)

Class.	Method of packing.	Amount in any one outer package.	Amount in any one inner package.
Class 1	When the quantity in any one consignment does not exceed 5 lbs. in amount, a single outer package; otherwise A double package, the inner and outer packages being as defined in rule 73.	100 lbs. Provided that where gunpowder and propellant are packed together the amount shall not exceed— 50 lbs.	100 lbs. 25 lbs.
Class 2	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 3, Division 1, other than propellants.	As for Class 1, provided that either the outer or inner package shall be thoroughly waterproof, and both shall be without metal in the construction thereof.	50 lbs.	5 lbs.
Class 3, Division 1, propellants.	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 3, Division 2, other than Picric Acid and Wet Guncotton.	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Picric Acid ...	As for Class 1	Unlimited.	Unlimited.
Guncotton so wetted with water as to be absolutely uninflammable.	As for Class 1, provided that the inner or outer package, or both of them, shall be of such a nature, and so closed, as to prevent any material loss of moisture during conveyance.	Unlimited.	Unlimited.
Class 4, Division 1 ...	As for Class 3, Division 1, other than propellants.	50 lbs.	5 lbs.
Class 4, Division 2 ...	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 5	Packed in water A treble package, the innermost package being a bag permeable to water, enclosed in a case containing sufficient water to ensure the explosive being kept constantly wet; and the outer package containing sufficient water constantly to surround the case. Both the case and the outer package shall be of such construction as will not allow water to escape. If the explosive is of such character that it cannot be packed in a thoroughly wet condition, it shall be packed in accordance with conditions prescribed by the Chief Inspector of Explosives.	200 lbs.	25 lbs.
Class 6, Division 1, other than Pin-fire cartridges for pistols.	A single outer package: Provided that clause (2) of rule 73 shall not apply to explosives of this Division: Provided also that bulleted cartridges of a calibre exceeding 0·5 inch and belonging to this Division shall be packed in such a manner that the point of any bullet cannot come in contact with the cap of another cartridge.	Unlimited.	.....
Pin-fire cartridges for pistols.	(a) Not exceeding 50 in number in any one consignment:—So packed in a single package that the bases lie alternately in opposite directions. The bases and pins shall be so fitted into perforations in millboard or other suitable material as to prevent the firing of any one of the said cartridges by an explosion in any other of the said cartridges.	50 in number.	.....

Class.	Method of packing.	Amount in any one outer package.	Amount in any one inner package.
	(b) Exceeding 50 in number .—In an inner and outer package, the cartridges being packed in inner packages with millboard as above required.	2,500 in number	50 in number.
Class 6, Division 2 ...	Explosives made up into cartridges or charges for cannon, shells, torpedoes, mines, blasting or other like purposes shall be packed in such manner and in such quantity as is required for the same explosive when not so made up; provided that, where a double package is required, the enclosing case of such cartridges or charges may, if it satisfies the conditions required for an inner package, be held to be such inner package.	.....	.....
	Other ammunition of this Division :—A single outer package.	100 lbs.	... ..
Class 6, Division 3, other than Detonators and Electric Detonators.	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	2 lbs. or 10 in number, whichever be the greater.
	Provided that bulleted cartridges of a calibre exceeding 0·5 inch and belonging to this Division shall be packed in such a manner that the point of any bullet cannot come in contact with the cap of another cartridge.
Detonators	(a) Not exceeding 1,000 in any one consignment :—As for Class 1, provided that the detonators and the spaces between the same and between the sides of the inner package and the said detonators shall all be filled, as far as practicable, with fine sawdust or other similar material; a layer of felt or other soft yielding material shall be placed between both ends of all the detonators and the interior of the inner package in which the same are placed, in such manner, and so secured, that both ends of the detonators will rest upon the said cotton wool or other material; every inner package, if of metal, to be lined throughout with paper or other soft material; and	1,000 in number	100 in number
	(b) Exceeding 1,000 detonators :— The detonators shall be packed in inner packages, with sawdust and cotton wool as above described. Such inner packages shall be placed inside a substantial case of wood or metal, made and closed so as to prevent any of the inner packages escaping therefrom, and such case shall be placed inside an outer package in such manner and so secured as to leave a clear space of not less than three inches between the case and every part of the interior of the said outer package, notwithstanding that such clear space may, if preferred, be filled with sawdust, straw, or other similar material, or may contain a light framework or battens of wood to keep the case aforesaid in position in the outer package; and	10,000 in number.	100 in number.
	(c) where the number of detonators exceeds 5,000, such outer package shall be provided with handles or other contrivance, by means of which it can be safely and conveniently carried.
Electric Detonators ...	As for Class 1, provided that where the number in any outer package exceeds 3,000, such outer package shall be provided with handles or other contrivance, by means of which it can be safely and conveniently carried.	5,000 in number	100 in number.
Class 7, Division 1 ...	Double package, the inner package being hermetically closed and contained in an outer package as above defined.	20 lbs.	1 lb.
Class 7, Division 2 ...	Single outer package, provided that clause (2) of rule 73 shall not apply to explosives of this class and division.	100 lbs.	.....

TABLE SHOWING DISTANCES WHICH SHOULD ORDINARILY BE KEPT CLEAR ROUND MAGAZINES.

[See rule 44.]

In any case where any of the items enumerated in the first column of this Table is, in the opinion of an Inspector of Explosives, effectively screened from a magazine either by the natural features of the ground or by good and substantial artificial mounds of earth or mine refuse, of such height that a line drawn from any part of the magazine to any part of the item in question will pass through the intervening ground or mound, the distance from that item (except for quantities of one thousand pounds of explosives and under) will be reduced one-half: Provided that when a natural hill so intervenes as to afford a degree of protection which, in the opinion of an Inspector of Explosives, justifies a further reduction, the distance shown in the Table will be reduced to one-quarter. In no case, however, is the distance from a Viceregal Residence to be less than one mile.

N.B.—The figures in small italics are the distances to be observed when ordinary gunpowder only is to be stored or other explosives up to the equivalent of five thousand pounds of gunpowder, every half pound of such other explosive being reckoned as one pound of gunpowder.

NOTE.—(a) This table furnishes the basis on which applications for licenses will be considered, but is susceptible to modifications under special circumstances on the advice of the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India.

(b) This rule applies to two or more magazines kept on the same premises—

(1) belonging to the same occupier, or

(2) so kept by mutual consent of the respective occupiers.

(c) Detonators may be kept in an annexe near to or adjoining a magazine under the following conditions—

(1) The amount of explosive contained in the detonators must not exceed 100 lbs. reckoned in the proportion of not less than 2½ lbs. of explosives per 1,000 detonators. (This proportion represents roughly about 44,000 detonators of "sextuple" strength; with detonators of greater strength the number would be of course less.)

(2) The detonator annexe must be so constructed that not less than two feet of masonry and three feet of air space shall intervene between any detonators in such annexe and the interior of the main magazine.

REVISED NOTICE.

HER EXCELLENCY LADY HARDINGE of Penshurst has decided to give, out of the funds which have been collected for a Medical College for Women at Delhi, a certain number of scholarships for lady students who may wish to join that institution when it is opened.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto.

W. W. HORNELL,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

1. Name of candidate ... ...

2. Date of birth (the year, and the actual date of the month, if possible, must be stated).

3. Nationality—

   In the case of a pure European candidate the application must be accompanied by a duly authenticated statement to the effect that the applicant is a native of India within the meaning of the Statute, viz., that she was born of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only.

4. Caste ... ...

5. Name of father or guardian ...

   In the case of European or Anglo-Indian candidates the names of both parents should be given and it should be stated whether they are living or not. In the event of both parents being dead, the name of the guardian must be given and his or her relationship to the applicant must be stated.

6. Place of residence ... ...

7. Education ... ...

   The names of the various schools or colleges at which the applicant has studied should be stated with dates in each case. The public examinations passed should be stated, as also any special distinctions gained.

8. Whether the applicant made any special study of any branch of science.

9. Whether the candidate, or her parent or guardian, in case she is still a minor, is prepared to execute a bond to refund the scholarship money. if she fails to abide by the conditions of award of these scholarships as detailed in paragraph 4 of the rules.

10. Names of relatives of position, and the precise relationship each bears to the candidate.

11. Names of two persons of position to whom reference regarding the candidate can be made.

12. Remarks of the Principal of the College at which the candidate is studying at present. / Head of the school at which she last studied.

Arrangements will be made for systematic courses of lectures, tutorial classes, moot courts and exercises. Facility will also be given to students to read in the College Library. Babu Haradhan Nag, one of the Professors of the College, will be present in the Reading Room to assist the students in their studies in the Library.

The College fees will be Rs. 6 per month. An admission fee of Rs. 6 will be charged in the case of first admission to the College.

Sixteen scholarships of Rs. 10 a month, each tenable for one year, have been established. Five of these will be open to competition among students of the First-year Class, six among the students of the Second-year Class and five among the students of the Third-year Class. The scholarships in the First-year Class will be awarded towards the end of September, upon the results of the College test to be held at that time; those in the Second-year Class will be awarded upon the results of the Preliminary Examination in Law, and those in the Third-year Class upon the results of the Intermediate Examination in Law. All these scholarships take effect retrospectively from the beginning of the session. Twenty-four scholarships of Rs. 6 a month, tenable for one year, will also be awarded from the endowment established by the Maharaja Manindrachandra Nandy of Cossimbazar. Students who have graduated from the Krishnath College, Berhampur, will have a preferential claim to these scholarships. But no scholarship will be awarded to a student who has not satisfactorily acquitted himself at the University or College Examination, as the case may be.

Two scholarships of Rs. 32 a month, each tenable for two years, have been established, to be open to competition among students who have prosecuted their studies in the University Law College not less than a year. The award will be made upon the results of the Final Examination in Law and on condition that the recipients do prosecute a course of study for the M.L. Examination under the direction of the Principal.

Provision has been made for the residence of students who do not reside with their parents or bonâ-fide guardians approved by the Principal of the College. There is accommodation for the residence of 150 students in that portion of the College premises known as the Hardinge Hostel. For students in excess of this number, separate houses have been engaged, sufficient to accommodate another two hundred. A separate house has also been engaged for Muhammadan students. As accommodation in the Hardinge Hostel and in the attached messes is strictly limited, students are advised to apply before the 22nd June 1914.

Students are recommended in all cases to take their admission before the 6th July 1914.

To the College is attached an extensive Law Library containing numerous sets of Reports and Text-books. The Library is divided into two sections—(A) for reference, (B) for lending. Books in Section (A) may be consulted by students at any time from 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. Books in Section (B) may be borrowed by students; no deposit is required, if one volume is borrowed. Those who deposit Rs. 5 are allowed to borrow two volumes at a time.

The College is held in the spacious apartments of the Darbhanga Buildings and ample provision has been made for Reading Rooms.

Courses of lectures will be delivered for the benefit of M.L. students. Except by special order, no one will be admitted to M.L. lectures who has not taken his Degree in Law from the University College.

All applications for admission are to be addressed to the Principal, University Law College, Senate House, Calcutta. Further information, as also a detailed programme of the work and rules for residence in the Hardinge Hostel, may be obtained on application to the Vice-Principal, University Law College, Senate House, Calcutta.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1912-13.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

DARJEELING, THE 13TH JUNE 1914.

RESOLUTION—No. 391T.—G.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1912-13.

THE Report deals with the Province of Bengal as constituted on 1st April 1912, the total area being 78,699 square miles with a population of 45,483,077. There was a decrease of 36 educational institutions and an increase of 20,909 pupils.

The total number of pupils was 1,718,623 distributed as follows :—

Collegiate Education	15,738
School Education (General)	1,549,449
Ditto (Special)	97,578
Private Institutions	55,858

Of these the percentages of Hindus, Muhammadans and others were :—

	Hindu.	Muhammadan.	Others.
Collegiate	91	7	2
School Education (General) ...	55	43	2
Ditto (Special) ...	20	79	1
Private Institutions	24	73	3
Total ...	55	43	2

The total expenditure increased by 22 lakhs as compared with the previous year. The proportionate expenditure for the two years under the three main heads is shown in the following table :—

	1911-12.	1912-13.
Public Rates and Taxes ...	38 per cent.	40 per cent.
Fees	44 „	43 „
Subscriptions and Endowments	18 „	17 „
Total ...	100 „	100 „

It is to be noted that fees supply less than half the funds required and that while the proportionate expenditure from public funds shows a tendency to increase, that from other sources tends to decrease. Secondary schools for boys are, however, an exception to this general statement.

It was not possible to make any extensive changes of policy during the year ; the systems prevailing in the two portions of the Province were maintained intact until it could be seen how far amalgamation was possible.

2. Controlling Agencies.—The actual strength of the Indian Educational Service and the old graded Service was 50. This included 47 appointments on the ordinary terms of the service and 3 on special rates of pay. In addition, one post on a personal rate of pay outside the service was held by Mr. Archbold as Principal of the Dacca College.

The cadres of the Provincial Educational Service, Subordinate Educational Service and Lower Subordinate Educational Service during the year may be considered to have comprised 139, 813 and 760 appointments respectively, these being the appointments originally held in the old Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam, minus those transferred to Bihar and Orissa and Assam, plus six posts added to the Eastern Bengal section of the Subordinate Educational Service.

The number of officers outside the grades was 342, of whom 19 were drawing salaries of Rs. 200 and upwards.

Sanction was accorded during the year to the creation of an additional appointment in the Indian Educational Service for an Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education. An addition was made to the Lady Inspecting Staff by the appointment of an Assistant Inspectress for the Rajshahi Division, and proposals for the creation of five additional posts of Assistant Inspectresses have been accepted by Government. The school inspecting staff is reported to be unsatisfactory, and its organization is one of the most urgent problems which the Education Department have to face.

3. Collegiate Education.—There are in the Presidency 34 Arts Colleges, of which 8 are Government colleges and 1 is under the control of a Municipality, 10 are aided by Government. The number of students during the year increased by 1,916. Although Muhammadans form more than half of the total population of Bengal, nine-tenths of the Arts students are Hindus and two-thirds belong to three castes, viz., Brahmans, Kayasthas and Baidyas.

The total direct expenditure on Arts Colleges increased by Rs. 2,02,867 and that on Government colleges by Rs. 1,46,016, while the total of grants-in-aid amounted to Rs. 87,902. In future years Imperial grants to the sum of Rs. 1,29,000 will be available for private colleges.

The number of students in the Presidency College decreased by 71, owing mainly to the fact that admissions to the undergraduate classes were more carefully restricted to the limits fixed.

The new Science Baker Laboratories were opened by His Excellency Lord Carmichael on the 20th January 1913. The opening of these laboratories has set free a number of rooms and thereby done much to remedy the present congestion, but full relief cannot be expected until the College improvement scheme is carried out.

The seminar system, according to which small groups of picked and advanced students work under their tutors in a less formal manner than in the lecture-room, was introduced; and made satisfactory progress considering the large number of students and the inadequacy of the staff. The progress made in tutorial work and the introduction of a complete record of class exercises enabled the college to abolish the formal examinations to test the fitness of candidates to be sent up for the University examinations.

There was a large increase in numbers at the Hooghly, Rajshahi and Sanskrit Colleges and consequent pressure of space. At Hooghly the congestion was relieved by the removal of the Collegiate school to a rented house. Schemes for improvements of the Rajshahi College have been put forward, and the question of providing additional buildings for the Sanskrit College has been engaging the serious attention of Government.

The hostel accommodation at several Government colleges falls far short of present requirements, but substantial progress was made during the year towards removing this defect.

A public Convocation for the purpose of conferring Sanskrit Titles was held for the first time at the Sanskrit College. His Excellency Lord Carmichael presided.

4. Secondary schools.—Secondary schools comprise High and Middle English schools in which English is taught, and Middle Vernacular schools in which English is not allowed even as an optional subject.

The total number of Secondary schools in the Presidency rose from 2,224 to 2,295, and the total number of pupils from 300,319 to 334,149. There was an increase of 30 in the number of High schools; but the marked feature of the year is the steady decline in the number and efficiency of Middle Vernacular schools and the rapid increase in the number of Middle English schools. The popular desire for an English education is clearly reflected in this process of development. School authorities are readily adapting themselves to the popular view and converting middle vernacular into middle English schools.

The total expenditure in secondary schools increased by Rs. 4,65,430, but the contributions by Government and District Boards declined by Rs. 24,003 and Rs. 19,702, respectively. The increase in receipts from other sources is a very healthy sign.

The discontinuation of the examinations at the end of the middle stage is still a subject of adverse criticism on the part of many officers. The matter is under the consideration of Government.

The percentage of successful candidates at the Matriculation Examination increased from 64·6 in 1911-12 to 73·1, the Government schools showing the best results.

The Commercial classes attached to high schools were finally abolished during the year.

The general condition of secondary schools was far from satisfactory. During the year under review the Government of India communicated sanction to a recurring assignment of a lakh and a half for the improvement of existing secondary aided schools and more especially for raising the pay of the teachers. During the first year this amount was devoted to non-recurring expenditure, but the formulation of a definite scheme for its utilization in future was taken in hand. The improvement of secondary schools is not, however, merely a matter of funds and grants.

5. Primary schools for boys.—The number of primary schools for boys fell by 513, viz., 148 upper and 365 lower primary ; and the number of pupils by 11,690.

The loss in upper primary schools occurred in Eastern Bengal and is attributed to the reduction in status of some schools and the growing unpopularity of a purely vernacular education. The loss in lower primary schools occurred in West Bengal, where some such institutions were converted into maktabs, while others, which had previously struggled for existence, disappeared for want of aid from public funds. The main reasons assigned for the decrease in numbers, however, are the rise in the price of food, which compelled many teachers to leave their schools in search of other work, and the insistence upon improved methods of teaching with no corresponding pecuniary advantage to the teachers.

The stipend of untrained teachers has now been raised by Re. 1 a month and that of trained teachers by Rs 3 a month. The introduction of a general scheme of reform has, however, been delayed for want of funds.

The decline in the number of pupils was shared by both Hindus and Muhammadans ; but among the former it amounted to 3·5 per cent., while among the latter it was only 1·5 per cent. Moreover, the decrease in the number of Muhammadan boys in primary schools was counterbalanced by the increase in the number in maktabs. Among boys of school-going age 33·8 per cent. Hindus and 24·1 per cent. Muhammadans are now reading in primary schools ; the corresponding figures for the preceding year being 31·8 and 24·4 respectively.

Out of the Imperial grants assigned for primary education Rs. 2,30,000 was allotted to East Bengal and Rs. 2,31,168 to West Bengal. In East Bengal the grant was expended mainly on the construction of board primary school buildings, the supply of apparatus to primary schools and the deputation of teachers to training schools. In West Bengal the objects to which the grant was devoted were the equipment of guru-training schools, the re-construction and repairs of guru-training school and primary school buildings, furniture and equipment for primary schools and the erection of a cheaper type of primary school buildings.

Provision was made for the construction of 589 board schools in Eastern Bengal and 400 primary school buildings of a cheap type in West Bengal. During the current year it is hoped to construct many more board school buildings in both Eastern and Western Bengal.

6. Training of teachers for Indian schools.—There are in the Presidency 132 training institutions with 2,389 students, the numbers having fallen by 1 and 64 respectively since 1911-12. These institutions comprise 3 colleges, 6 normal schools, 118 guru-training schools and 5 special training classes.

The staff of the David Hare College has been strengthened by the appointment of a Professor of Method, who joined the College in November 1912. The College still lacks accommodation.

The Dacca College admits private candidates as well as educational officers in Government service. The year was marked by the institution of a nature study class for the training of vernacular teachers for the improved type of guru-training schools in Eastern Bengal.

There are three normal schools in each portion of the Province. Those in West Bengal have been greatly improved by the adoption of the recommendations made by the Special Committee appointed in 1909. Music and hygiene have been included in their curricula and thus the full course drawn up by that Committee is now in operation.

The normal schools in Eastern Bengal are not doing so well, for there is a consensus of opinion among the Inspectors of Schools that the quality of their outturn has greatly deteriorated.

The guru-training schools are for the most part badly equipped, but their improvement is being undertaken with the aid of the Imperial grant for truly popular education.

7. Professional and Technical Education.—The Civil Engineering College at Sibpur suffered a great loss in the death of two of its Professors, Mr. W. Tate and Dr. H. deS. Pittard. The subjects of mechanical and electrical engineering have been separated and are now taught by different professors, while the physical subjects have been distributed among the departments of electrical engineering, chemistry and mining. The special mining scholarships were discontinued at the beginning of the year.

The Survey classes in the Dacca School of Engineering are being transferred to Comilla under the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys. A second storey is being added to the hostel building, and new laboratories for the Overseer course in mechanical and electrical engineering are under construction.

Technical and Industrial schools are losing students in the sub-overseer classes, a fact which is said to be due to the superior attractions of the University courses. The Rangpur Technical School was provincialised, and sanction was accorded to the provincialisation of the Chittagong School. The future of these schools in both East and West Bengal will, however, have to be carefully considered before any further steps are taken in this direction.

The ex-students of the higher classes of the Serampore Weaving Institute have been generally successful in obtaining employment and their employers give very satisfactory reports of their work.

The popularity of the City and Guilds of London Technological Examination is increasing, and altogether 69 candidates offered themselves for examination in 1912 at the two centres—Calcutta and Serampore.

The Commercial Institute of Calcutta has been greatly encouraged by a circular of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce recommending that passed students of this institute should be given preference by commercial firms when making clerical appointments. The Committee appointed by Government to consider certain questions connected with technical education sat during the early part of 1912. Its main recommendations were the removal of the Engineering College from Sibpur, the establishment of a Technological Institute in Calcutta, and the creation of a separate residential Civil Engineering College. The proposal for a Technological Institute in Calcutta has since been worked out in detail by Messrs, Nathan, Küchler and Everett in consultation with employers of labour and others. All these important questions are still under the consideration of Government.

8. The education of Indian girls and women.—There was an increase of 306 in the number of institutions of all kinds for girls; but the number of girls, including those reading in mixed schools, rose by only 173. It is, however, interesting to note that the number of Muhammadan girls increased by 1,423.

Two colleges are affiliated to the University, the Bethune College in Calcutta and the Diocesan College at Ballygunge. The class at Loreto House is allowed to send up private students for the I. A. Examination and has now applied for regular affiliation. The Bethune College still lacks accommodation, but its re-organization and improvement are now being considered by the Education Department.

With the exception of those under Mission management, secondary schools are hampered by lack of trained teachers and suitable buildings.

Primary schools also suffer from similar defects, but a hopeful sign is the increasing readiness on the part of the public to repair and erect school houses.

Zenana education has made fair progress, and the question of its expansion and development will be carefully considered in connection with the distribution of the grants for female education.

The training of lady teachers is carried on in two Government and five Mission Training Schools which prepare candidates for the junior and senior teachership certificate examinations. There are also training classes for Hindu widows in Calcutta and Dacca and two "Widows' Homes" at Orakandi and Dacca. These homes are of great importance; for widows are reported to be more satisfactory teachers than married women, as they have not the same domestic responsibilities.

The total number of women who passed the teachership examination was 65.

The value of scholarships awarded decreased by Rs. 2,084; but it is proposed to make a substantial increase with the aid of the Imperial grant.

A Committee for the whole Province was constituted to advise Government in matters relating to the education of girls and women. The recommendations included the establishment of a general Training College and school for lady teachers at Calcutta.

The amount allotted for the education of girls from the Imperial grant was devoted to objects of capital expenditure, among which may be mentioned the improvement of the Bethune College, Calcutta, and the Vidyamoyi Girls' School at Mymensingh, the completion of some urban schools in Eastern Bengal and the purchase of sites for primary schools in the Dacca and Mymensingh Municipalities.

9. The Education of Europeans.—The number of European schools is 76, including 16 special schools, i.e., commercial, technical or training institutions. The number of pupils on the 31st March 1913 was 9,087, of whom 8,360 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. Only two of the schools are under direct Government management, viz., the Victoria and Dow Hill Schools, Kurseong.

The system of examinations in force in these schools is not altogether satisfactory and will require careful investigation.

The Imperial allotments for European education were devoted to non-recurring objects of expenditure pending the formulation of suitable schemes for their utilization.

The work done in the agricultural class at the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, was of an admirable and practical kind. The Young Men's Christian Association Commercial Classes were closed during the year. That of the Young Women's Christian Association has been greatly developed.

There was a great improvement in the efficiency of the cadet corps, the efficient and extra efficient cadets numbering 181 and 1,218, respectively.

10. Muhammadan Education.—The Muhammadan population of the Province is 52·7 per cent. of the total population, but the percentage of Muhammadan students in educational institutions of all kinds for Indians is only 42·8. It is, however, satisfactory to notice that the increase of the last few years in Muhammadan pupils in colleges, secondary schools, girls' schools and miscellaneous schools has been well maintained. The rate of increase among Muhammadans has been considerably greater than among Hindus. The number of Muhammadans attending private schools has decreased by 369, a fact which is ascribed to the conversion of Koran schools into recognised maktabs.

The number of madrasahs increased by 11, and the number of pupils by 584. A scheme for the reform of madrasahs has been worked out and is at present being considered by Government. Orders will shortly be issued.

11. The Education of Special Classes.—The Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad which provides for the education of boys of the Nizamat family is the only institution in the Presidency where special provision is made for the education of the sons of chiefs and nobles.

The number of pupils of aboriginal descent or drawn from depressed classes increased by 1,599. Proposals for the expansion and development of education among the Sonthals in Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore, were put forward during the year, and a complete scheme will shortly be formulated.

The expenditure from Provincial Revenues, on the education of children of tea-garden labourers in Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri, amounted to Rs. 8,829. The number of such schools was 105 with 2,172 pupils.

12. Private Institutions.—The acceptance by many private institutions of standards recognised by Government has led to a decrease in schools of this class. At the same time the number of pupils reading in such schools has increased from 54,729 to 55,858.

13. Physical and Moral Training.—Hostel and boarding-houses for boys increased by 51, but the need of well-managed hostels is still keenly felt. In Calcutta and Dacca, where adequate hostel accommodation cannot be provided, the excess has to be accommodated in messes under the supervision of a Special Inspector. The messes at Dacca are under the control of the "City Educational Council" whose executive officer, the "Proctor," exercises general supervision.

Football and Cricket continue to be the most popular games. The whole subject of physical exercise is now being investigated by a committee appointed by Government.

It is satisfactory to note that, so far as reported, serious breaches of discipline were few in number. The general discipline of the schools leaves, however, much to be desired.

14. Conferences.—Several important conferences were held during the year. Among the subjects discussed the most important were the distribution of the Imperial grants for primary education, the question of religious and moral training and Sanskrit education. Conferences were also held in connection with the training of gurus.

15. Text-Book Committees.—There are two such committees—one at Calcutta and one at Dacca. Active measures were taken by the latter to suppress the use of "keys."

16. Mr. Küchler, who was in charge of the Department throughout the year, has since retired from the service of Government, and the report has been prepared by the present Director of Public Instruction, the Hon'ble Mr. W. W. Hornell. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Mr Küchler for his careful administration of the Department and to Mr. Hornell for the interesting account which he has presented of the year's progress.

There has been considerable progress in education both in West and East Bengal during recent years, and His Excellency in Council trusts that, under Mr. Hornell's able guidance and with the help of the liberal Imperial subsidies, a marked advance will be made towards the consolidation and expansion of all branches of education and also towards the unification, wherever desirable, of the different systems prevalent in the two parts of the Province.

ORDERS.—Ordered that the Resolution, together with the Report,* be published in the Calcutta Gazette; that a copy be submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Education and copies be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and to all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

* Will be published in the next Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. F. SAMMAN.
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1913-14.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th June 1914.

No. 86 Marine.—The following Annual Reports on the working of the Shipping Offices in Bengal for the year 1913-14 are published for general information.

A. C. J. DE LOTBINIÈRE, LT.-COL., R.E.
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3098., dated Calcutta, the 21st May 1914.

From—COMMANDER C. J. C. KENDALL, R.I.M., Shipping Master of Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Marine Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the Annual Report of the Shipping Office for the year 1913-14.

The statement below shows the number of seamen shipped and discharged during the year under European and Indian foreign articles, together with the figures for the previous year :—

Articles.	1912-13.	1913-14.	Increase.	Decrease.
Shipped—
European ...	851	832	...	19
Indian ...	15,127	17,315	2,188	...
Total ...	15,978	48,147	2,188	19
Discharged—
European ...	1,229	1,018	...	211
Indian ...	41,406	43,536	2,130	...
Total ...	42,635	44,554	2,130	211

Fuller particulars of the above figures are shown in Appendix I. It will be observed from this statement that the number of seamen shipped and discharged on European articles is decreasing, while that employed on Indian articles shows large increases and is due to the great demand nowadays for the employment of Indian seamen.

The number of Eurasians shipped on European and Indian articles is 76 and 484, respectively, being a decrease of 20 under the former and an increase of 113 under the latter articles in comparison with the figures of the previous year.

The following figures represent the number of seamen shipped and discharged at the various Consulates with the nationalities specified, detailed particulars of which are given in Appendix II. These figures are not included in Appendix I :—

Nationalities.	Shipped.	Discharged.
Javanese	7	...
British	11	6
Germans	46	39
Chinese	10	8
Scandinavians	7	19
Russians	9	16
Arabs	25	22
Danes	17	10
Greeks	2	6
Americans	1	1
Japanese	4	2
Austrians	15	11
Malays	18	2
Italians	3	24
Total	175	166

The number of European and Indian seamen that deserted and failed to join their vessels during the year was 72 and 849. The majority were, however, replaced by substitutes.

Repatriation of Distressed Seamen.—Ninety-eight seamen were repatriated for the following causes :—Sickness and injury 45, paucity of employment 53.

Relief to Seamen.—The number of seamen afforded relief in the Workhouse during the year was six at a cost of Rs. 68-8. Of these, four obtained employment and two absconded. Nineteen seamen were relieved in the Alms House by the District Charitable Society at a cost of Rs. 1,224-8. Twenty-four destitute seamen were admitted into the Sailors' Home from Consuls and other Societies. A loss of Rs. 836 was sustained by this institute owing to seamen not being able to pay their board. The number of distressed native seamen assisted from the Shipwrecked Mariners' Fund was 48 at a cost of Rs. 970-12.

Complaints.—No reports of any importance were made during the year.

European Seamen's Money-orders.—A sum of £473 was remitted by seamen to their relatives in England compared with £317-5-6 of the previous year.

Administration of Trust Funds.—The transactions of funds held in trust during the year under different heads is shown in Appendix III ; stamped papers to the value of Rs. 27-6 were used on account of securities in disposing of estates of deceased seamen. The balance of accumulated funds at the commencement of the year was Rs. 15,731 and the receipts Rs. 61,548. The payments were Rs. 56,919, and Rs. 2,625 having lapsed to Government, a balance of Rs. 17,735 is left at the close of the year.

Transactions with the Board of Trade.—The sum of Rs 15,589 represents the transaction with the Board of Trade, and compared with the figures of the previous year, shows a decrease of Rs. 9,524.

Financial Results.—The figures below give the financial results of the office for the last five years :—

Year.		Receipts.	Disbursements.	Savings
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1909-10	...	88,759	51,932	36,827
1910-11	...	95,802	57,463	38,339
1911-12	...	1,05,571	62,475	43,096
1912-13	...	1,16,739	65,009	53,730
1913-14	...	1,23,047	69,875	53,172

It will be seen from the above figures that there is a decrease of Rs. 558 in the savings in comparison with the figures of the previous year, which may be ascribed to the increased expenditure in the cost of forms.

Detailed particulars of the receipts and expenditure appear in Appendix IV, which shows an increase of Rs. 4,750, chiefly under the heading of shipping and discharging fees, which is the result of increased demand for Indian seamen.

Expenditure.—On referring to Appendix IV it will be seen that there is an increase of expenditure of Rs. 5,231 under the head of cost of forms, which is chiefly due to the supply of a large number of discharge certificates and other forms, and also to the inclusion of the cost of forms supplied in the previous year being met during the year under review.

Changes in Officers.—During the year Commander C. J. C. Kendall, R.I.M., Port Officer, was on leave from 14th August 1913 to 12th October 1913, during which time Commander G. N. Forteath, R.I.M., Deputy Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master, carried on the duties of the above officer in addition to his own. Lieutenant O. Goldsmith, R.I.M., Assistant Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master, whose tenure of service expired on the 29th December last, was relieved by Lieutenant J. C. Ward, R.I.M.

APPENDIX No. III.—Balance sheet of funds held in trust for the year ending 31st March 1914.

No. 148., dated Chittagong, the 8th May 1914.

From—COMMANDER B. H. JONES, R.I.M., Shipping Master, Chittagong,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the Annual Administration Report of the Shipping Office for the financial year 1913-14, together with appendices (I to III).

2. Financial Results.—The amount received during the year was Rs. 905 and that expended was Rs. 756, leaving a surplus balance of Rs. 149. The accompanying Statement I shows the required particulars of the receipts and expenditure of the last two years, with explanation of the principal fluctuations.

3. Trust Funds.—The opening balance of the year under review of the funds was Rs. 251 and the receipts Rs. 45,431, or Rs. 30,948 less than that of the previous year. The payments were Rs. 45,218 and Rs. 8 lapsed to Government during the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 456 at its close, as shown in Statement II annexed.

4. Seamen shipped and discharged.—The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged during the year under review was 197 and 644, respectively, against 145 and 988 in the previous year, as shown in Statement III annexed. The increase of 52 in the number shipped is due to a greater number of crew being engaged by the masters of vessels, and the decrease of 344 in the number discharged is due to the smaller number of vessels having paid off their crew at this port.

5. Inspection of Vessels.—The number of ships which arrived at this port during the year 1913-14 was 130 (excluding regular coasting steamers) against 122 in the previous year. Of these, four ships were manned by Europeans, 86 ships were manned by mixed crew of Europeans, Asiatics and Indian lascars, and 40 ships were manned exclusively by Indians. All the foreign-going ships were inspected by the Port Health Officer.

6. Condition of Seamen.—There were 30 seamen admitted into the Chittagong General Hospital against 14 during the preceding year. Of the total admissions, 24 were discharged as cured, one as relieved, two discharged otherwise and three died. There were no cases of scurvy or death resulting from bad or insufficient food on boardship during the year under report.

7. Seamen's Money-orders.—No remittances of wages were made to the United Kingdom by means of seamen's money-orders.

8. Deserters.—There were eight deserters during the year under report against 14 in the previous year. There were no deserters among European seamen.

9. Deaths.—Three seamen died in the Chittagong General Hospital during the year under report. Of these, two died of malarial fever and one of dysentery.

10. No case was tried by the Magistrate under the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, I of 1859, during the year 1913-14.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR MAY 1914.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review general rain fell throughout the Province accompanied, in some places, by hail and high winds. The fall for the whole month was in excess of the normal in all the districts excepting Jalpaiguri, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts and Cooch Behar. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—The harvesting of boro paddy and other rabi crops was completed. The ploughing for, and sowings of winter rice, were proceeding briskly. The weedings of jute and autumn rice were continuing.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of standing crops was reported to be fair.

IV. The prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of aus paddy and jute were lowered to some extent owing to heavy rain and storms.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Slight damage was caused to ripe boro paddy and to young plants of aus paddy and jute by the heavy rain and hail-storms.

VI. Condition of Agricultural Stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was fair. Cattle-disease was prevalent in Nadia, Murshidabad, Khulna, Burdwan, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Darjeeling, Rangpur, Malda, Cooch Behar, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Chittagong, Tippera, Noakhali and Chittagong Hill Tracts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The scarcity of fodder was reported from parts of Midnapore and Tippera only.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the prices of common rice rose in eight districts, fell in three, and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from 7 seers per rupee at Faridpur to 9 seers 8 chitaks a rupee at Bankura.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people was reported to be fairly good.

NOTE.—The statements are compiled in the Statistical Department of the Government of India from statistics supplied by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

The remarkable fluctuations in the trade compared with the figures for 1912-13 are—

Under Imports there is decrease in wheat, wheat-flour, gram and pulse and other food-grains, due to the famine conditions in parts of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. The increase in the imports of cotton (raw) and linseed is due mainly to larger importations of the articles from the Central Provinces and Berar and Bihar and Orissa, respectively.

There is a decrease in the exports by sea of rice, paddy, wheat, and gram and pulse. Less demand from Madras and foreign countries, other than the United Kingdom, explains the deficit in the trade of rice, while the unusually large imports of Indian paddy by Burma in 1912-13 accounts for the discrepancy in the export trade in paddy. There was a great demand for wheat in Europe in 1912 and 1913 owing to adverse climatic conditions in Europe, the railway strike and war conditions in the Balkans. In 1913-14 the normal conditions were restored and shipments declined. The decrease under gram and pulse is due to less demand from foreign countries other than the United Kingdom.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 5925 Regn.—The 20th June 1914.—The following revised rules for the appointment of Sub-Registrars in the Registration Department are published for general information, in supersession of those published under General Department Notification No. 3771, dated the 15th July 1912, at pages 1181 and 1182 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th idem.

The rules will come into force from the 1st July next.

RULES FOR APPOINTMENT IN THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

1. The number of probationers to be appointed in the Registration Department will be determined each year by the Governor in Council. The number of appointments to be made and the authorities by whom nominations for these appointments will be made will be notified in the Calcutta Gazette as soon as possible after the 1st August of each year.

2. Ordinarily 60 per cent. of the appointments will be made on the nomination of the Commissioners of Divisions, and 20 per cent., on the nomination of the Inspector-General of Registration. The Governor in Council will retain the remaining 20 per cent. of these appointments in his own hands.

3. Candidates nominated by the Commissioner of a Division must ordinarily fulfil the following conditions :—

(a) they must belong to families resident or domiciled in the division ;
(b) they must be of good character and sound health ;
(c) they must not be over 25 years of age ·

(d) (i) they must have passed the I.A. or the I.Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University or the corresponding examination of any other recognized Indian University, or have qualifications declared by Government to be equivalent to passing such examinations; or

(ii) they must have passed the higher standard or the final examination of the Arabic Department of a recognized Madrasa, and have sufficient knowledge of English for the proper performance of the duties of a Sub-Registrar;

(e) they must be able to read with facility documents written in Bengali.

4. Candidates nominated by the Inspector-General of Registration must fulfil the conditions (b) to (e) in rule 3.

5. The Commissioners of Divisions and the Inspector-General of Registration are not precluded from nominating persons who may not be eligible under rule 3 (c) and (d), but whose claims appear for particular reasons to deserve special consideration, and who have sufficient knowledge of English to enable them to discharge efficiently the duties of a Sub-Registrar.

6. (a) For each appointment allotted to the division, every District Registrar will submit to the Commissioner, on or before a date to be fixed by the latter, the names of two candidates belonging to families resident or domiciled in his district. In submitting these he will give in Form I, appended to these rules, a brief statement of the grounds of his recommendation in each case. Form I should be accompanied by a certificate of character and conduct from the principal of the institution at which the candidate last studied for not less than one year, or from some responsible officer of Government, a medical certificate in Form II, appended to these rules, and evidence of the candidate's age and educational qualifications.

(b) The Commissioner and the District Registrars in his Division will meet on a date to be fixed by the Commissioner, and will consider the claims of all the candidates nominated. They will also call the candidates before them and see and converse with them so as to form an opinion regarding their suitability. The Commissioner will then select two names for each of the appointments to be made on his nomination and submit them in order of preference to Government by a date not later than the 1st October, stating his reasons for the preference given. With his report submitting these names the Commissioner will submit Forms I and II for all candidates, entering in each case in the last column of Form I his own opinion as to the suitability of the candidate.

(c) In making nominations special attention should be paid to social qualifications and family status and influence, as well as to services rendered by the candidate's father or his family.

7. The Inspector-General of Registration will submit to Government, in Form I, on or before the 1st October in each year, two names for each appointment to be made on his nomination.

8. Each probationer will get an allowance of Rs. 30 per month. Appointments in grade V of Sub-Registrars will be given to approved probationers as vacancies in the cadre occur. Probationers will, as far as possible, be posted to offices in the division to which they belong, but after confirmation they will be liable to transfer at any time to any office in the province at the discretion of Government.

9. The Governor in Council may, in special cases, declare the period of probation to be unnecessary and may also make direct appointments to the higher grades of Sub-Registrars.

FORM I.

No. 4016—4050-91, dated Simla, the 22nd May 1914

RESOLUTION—By the Govt. of India, Dept. of Commerce and Industry.

IN the Resolution of the Government of India in this department, No 4519—4554-47, dated the 29th May 1907, it was decided that in view of the satisfactory financial position of the Post Office Insurance Fund, the sums eventually payable in respect of existing policies in the Life Branch of the Fund should be increased by 10 per cent., and that the premia payable in respect of sums assured under policies issued on and after the 1st April 1907, should be correspondingly reduced. A recent investigation made into the past experience and present position of the Fund has shown that there is still a substantial surplus on the total operations connected with it, and that it is possible to make a distribution of a considerable portion of the surplus without affecting the financial stability of the Fund. His Majesty's Secretary of State has accordingly sanctioned the grant to holders of policies, on the valuation date 31st March 1912, of a bonus at the rate of 2 per cent. in the case of Whole Life Assurances, and 1 per cent. in the case of Endowment Assurances, in respect of each year's premium paid since 31st March 1907 up to that date.

Revised tables have been drawn up showing the new premia rates applicable to future entrants and are annexed hereto.

ORDERED—that this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to all Local Governments and Administrations, to all Heads of Departments subordinate to this Department, and to the Accountant.General, Post Office and Telegraphs.

Ordered, also, that a copy be forwarded to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, for necessary action.

Ordered, further, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

REVISED NOTICE.

HER EXCELLENCY LADY HARDINGE of Penshurst has decided to give, out of the funds which have been collected for a Medical College for Women at Delhi, a certain number of scholarships for lady students who may wish to join that institution when it is opened.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4 Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto.

W. W. HORNELL,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

1. Name of candidate ... ...

2. Date of birth (the year, and the actual date of the month, if possible, must be stated).

3. Nationality—

   In the case of a pure European candidate the application must be accompanied by a duly authenticated statement to the effect that the applicant is a native of India within the meaning of the Statute, viz., that she was born of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only.

4. Caste ... ...

5. Name of father or guardian ...

   In the case of European or Anglo-Indian candidates the names of both parents should be given and it should be stated whether they are living or not. In the event of both parents being dead, the name of the guardian must be given and his or her relationship to the applicant must be stated.

6. Place of residence ... ...

7. Education ... ...

   The names of the various schools or colleges at which the applicant has studied should be stated with dates in each case. The public examinations passed should be stated, as also any special distinctions gained.

8. Whether the applicant made any special study of any branch of science.

9. Whether the candidate, or her parent or guardian, in case she is still a minor, is prepared to execute a bond to refund the scholarship money, if she fails to abide by the conditions of award of these scholarships as detailed in paragraph 4 of the rules.

10. Names of relatives of position, and the precise relationship each bears to the candidate.

11. Names of two persons of position to whom reference regarding the candidate can be made.

12. Remarks of the Principal of the College at which the candidate is studying at present. / Head of the school at which she last studied.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta,

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or
the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1912-13.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

Area and population dealt with in the report.

THE area with which the review is concerned is the new Presidency of Bengal as constituted on the 1st of April 1912. It comprises five divisions, viz., the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions.

The Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

9. On the 31st March 1912 the Lower Subordinate Educational Service for the Province of Bengal contained 760 appointments. Of these, 373 were transferred to Bihar and Orissa in the course of 1912-13, and 1 appointment in class II was abolished with effect from the 28th June 1912 on account of the discontinuance of the "C" classes in the Calcutta Madrassah. The Lower Subordinate Educational Service of the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency contained, on the 31st March 1913, 374 appointments. No appointments in this cadre were transferred to Assam, where there was not at the time, nor, so far as this office is aware, is there at present, any Lower Subordinate Educational Service. The combined Lower Subordinate Educational Service cadre in the Presidency of Bengal may thus be considered to have contained, on the 31st March 1913, 760 appointments (386 + 374).

Officers not within the classified list.

10. On the 31st March 1913 there were 11 officers serving in the Western Bengal section of the existing Presidency, who were not included in the classified list. These 11 officers were drawing salaries ranging from Rs. 200 a month to Rs. 1,400 a month, and in addition to them there were 121 miscellaneous officers outside the grades on salaries ranging from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month. From the latter figure, viz., 121, artizans in the Civil Engineering College, pandits in guru-training schools and in model primary schools for girls are excluded. The total number of posts outside the grades in the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency on the 31st March 1913 was 210 including the post of the Principal of the Dacca College, which was held by Mr. Archbold on a salary of Rs. 1,250—50—1,500. Of these 210 officers, 8 draw salaries of Rs. 200 a month and upwards, while the salaries of the remainder (viz., 202) range from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month. The number of officers outside the grades in the Bengal Presidency, on the 31st March 1913, included therefore 19 officers drawing salaries of Rs. 200 a month and upwards and 323 drawing salaries which range from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month.

Direction.

11. Orders were received during the year sanctioning the creation of an additional appointment in the Indian Educational Service for an Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education in Bengal. The post of Additional Assistant Director of Public Instruction in the Provincial Educational Service was discontinued at the same time.

General Inspecting Agencies.

12. The table below shows the strength of the inspecting agency as it stood on 31st March 1913 :—

Division.	Inspectors and Additional Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectors.	Deputy and Additional Deputy Inspectors.	Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectresses.	Inspectresses.
Burdwan ...	3	4	21	73	17	1	1
Presidency (excluding Calcutta).	4	3	11	44	9	1
Calcutta (special staff)	...	...	2	3	...
Dacca	3	3	17	54	7	1	1
Chittagong ...	2	2	9	34	2	1
Rajshahi	1	2	14	41	2	1

In addition to the inspecting officers shown in the above table there were 11 Assistant Sub-Inspectors and 144 inspecting pandits or guru-instructors who do not render any qualifying service under Government.

Only one addition—an Assistant inspectress for the Rajshahi Division—was made to the female inspecting staff during the year, but preposals have been accepted by Government for the creation of five additional posts of Assistant Inspectresses.

The school inspecting staff of the Presidency is not satisfactory. How to reorganise it, so that it may really contribute to the evolution and maintenance of a sound system of secondary and primary schools, is one of the most urgent problems with which the Education Department is now faced.

CHAPTER III.

Collegiate Education.

Arts Colleges.

Colleges and Students.

13. The number of arts colleges in Bengal as now constituted is 34, of which 8 are under the direct control of Government and 1 is under the control of a municipality. Of the remainder 10 are aided by Government and 15 are unaided. The number of students on the rolls on 31st March 1913 was 12,896 as compared with 10,980 on the same day in 1911-12.

Expenditure.

14. The total direct expenditure rose from Rs. 13,56,372 in the year previous to Rs. 15,59,239 in 1912-13. The expenditure on Government colleges alone rose from Rs. 6,53,128 to Rs. 7,99,144. A sum of Rs. 87,902 was expended as grants-in-aid to private colleges.

Imperial grants.

15. As in previous years, a sum of Rs. 1,10,000 was contributed from Imperial revenues for the assistance of private colleges in Bengal. This is now a permanent contribution. Owing to the transfer of the divisions of Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa to a new administration the amount now available for Bengal colleges is Rs. 89,000. In addition to this allotment an annual Imperial grant of Rs. 40,000 for collegiate education was brought over with the three eastern divisions of Bengal. The total sum which will therefore be in future available for the Presidency under this head will be Rs. 1,29,000.

Government Colleges.

Presidency College.

16. There were 902 students on the rolls of the college on the 31st March 1913 against 973 on the corresponding date of the year before. The decrease is reported to be due partly to a more careful restriction of admissions to the undergraduate classes to the limits fixed and partly to the effect of the greater activity on the part of the University in the teaching of the M.A. and M.Sc. courses to those who have taken B.A. and B.Sc. degrees.

The new science laboratories, begun in 1910, have been completed and occupied. The new building, called the Baker Laboratories, was publicly opened by His Excellency Lord Carmichael on 20th January 1913. The removal of the physical, physiological and geological laboratories from the main building of the college has set free a number of rooms, the majority of which it is proposed to utilize in giving much-needed relief to the chemical department, and the remainder have been assigned to general purposes, i.e., for class-rooms, offices, reading-rooms for the professors, etc. The Principal indicates that it will be necessary before long to consider the question of a complete reorganization of the chemical laboratory. Attention has also been drawn to the inadequacy of the existing common-room for students and, pending the full realization of the college improvement scheme, the Principal suggests that the shed built in 1908 for the histology room might be adapted to serve as an extension of the common-room. One of the rooms in the Baker Laboratory buildings has been converted into a science library. The organization and arrangement of the library have been the special care of the Principal and the library committee.

The Principal reports that there has been sound progress in the work of the seminars. The chief difficulty is the inadequacy of the staff. Seminar study implies small groups of picked and advanced students working with their tutors in a less formal manner than in the lecture-room. The number of students of the college is so large that only a beginning is possible; nevertheless the interest of M.A. students in the seminars is steadily developing and the work actually done is creditable.

The system of tutorial work and class exercises is being steadily developed, and sufficient advance has been made to enable the college to abolish the formal test examination and to substitute a system of complete record of class exercise work on the basis of which it can be decided whether a student should be sent up for his University examination without further formal test.

Under present conditions it is found impossible for the Principal to discharge with entire satisfaction to himself the multifarious duties and responsibilities of the post. The matter is under consideration.

Dacca College.

17. The year was one of quiet progress. The number of students on 31st March 1913 was 767 as compared with 675 in the previous year. The staff consists of 43 members. The college hostel, which provides accommodation for Hindus and Muhammadans alike, was filled, 160 of the residents being Hindus and 34 Muhammadans. Mr. J. M. Bottomley and Babu Haridas Saha are resident superintendents of the hostel.

Hooghly College.

18. The numerical strength of the college rose to 190, the highest number attained for many years. The chief feature of this increase was the recovery of the strength of the B.A. classes which had been steadily declining since 1908-09.

The solution of the pressing question of accommodation which has been engaging the attention of the educational authorities for many years past is at last within sight. The removal of the Hooghly Collegiate School to a rented house, which has been carried out since the close of the period under review, should ease the problem as regards the more pressing requirements of the college and the madrassah; but the needs of these institutions are continually growing, and the question of accommodation will not be completely solved until a small building is constructed for the physical laboratory and an additional room for the chemical laboratory, which will become all the more necessary if any extension of the affiliation of the college in physics and chemistry up to the B.A. and B.Sc. pass standards and in mathematics up to the B.Sc. honours standard is granted. The University has been addressed in this regard.

During the year under report a project for constructing a building for the Muhammadan students' hostel was administratively sanctioned. The land has been acquired and the work of construction commenced. The question of extending the hostel for Hindu students is under consideration.

Krishnagar College.

19. The number of students remains practically the same, 143 against 144 in the previous year. The numerical strength of the college is reported to be adversely affected by the proximity of the Berhampore College, which offers a wider choice of subjects.

During the year under report the question of the provision of adequate hostel accommodation was settled. As mentioned in previous reports, the continuance of the institution as a first-grade Government college was made conditional on the provision by the local people of a sum of Rs. 40,000 for the purpose of constructing a hostel. A sum of about Rs. 27,000 only was collected, but, on the recommendation of the Commissioner, Government decided that the local effort was sufficient and sanctioned the construction of a hostel in the college compound at a cost of about Rs. 38,000. The amount of the local contributions will be merged in the general fund of the college, the interest of which will be devoted to the general improvement of the institution.

The physical and chemical laboratorities have been rearranged and reorganized in accordance with the requirements of the University.

Rajshahi College.

20. The numbers rose from 522 in the previous year to 656 in the year under report. The Principal reports that owing to the want of accommodation both in the class-rooms and in the boarding-houses a considerable number of students were refused admission.

The college has outgrown its present habitation. Notwithstanding the removal of the library to another building great difficulty was, it is reported, felt in providing accommodation for the various classes. A scheme for the improvement of the buildings of the college was under preparation at the close of the year and will be considered in due course.

A sum of Rs. 30,000 was sanctioned for the construction of a new Hindu hostel during the year. A donation of a similar amount has been promised by Raja P. N. Ray and Kumar B. K. Ray of Dighapatia for the construction of another Hindu hostel. The question of combining the projects and constructing one large hostel from funds available from different sources is under consideration. A new physical laboratory is in course of construction, and, when it is completed, it is intended that the present laboratory building should be used for hostel purposes. A fairly large number of students at present live in messes in the town.

Chittagong College.

21. The average monthly number on the rolls declined from 147 in the preceding year to 127 in the year under report. This decline is attributed to the system of periodical test examinations throughout the year, on the results of which students are allowed to enter for the University examinations or to proceed to the next higher class.

A new hostel at a cost of Rs. 34,000 is in course of construction. It will afford accommodation for 40 Hindu students. The present Hindu hostel will eventually be made over for the use of the Muhammadan students.

The question of the provision of a residence for the Principal still remains to be settled.

Sanskrit College.

22. The number of students on 31st March 1913 stood at 115 as against 99 in the preceding year. The question of the reorganization of the Sanskrit College and the restoration of the M.A. classes remain to be settled. It is felt that until the reorganization has been carried out the number of students will remain low and its reputation will remain behind that which the foremost oriental institution of the Presidency should enjoy.

The college is labouring under the serious disadvantage of inadequacy of accommodation. Improvement in this respect is bound up with the much larger scheme for the provision of buildings for the educational institutions in College Square—a matter which has been engaging the serious attention of Government.

The year under review is memorable in the history of Sanskrit education in Bengal for the new departure of a public convocation for the purpose of conferring Sanskrit titles. The first convocation held at the Sanskrit College was presided over by His Excellency Lord Carmichael and attended by a large and distinguished assembly.

Bethune College.

23. This college is considered in Chapter VIII, which deals with the education of Indian girls and women.

CHAPTER IV.

Secondary Education for Indian Boys.

Secondary Schools for Boys.

Schools and Pupils.

24. Secondary schools of all classes in the Presidency increased from 2,224 to 2,295 and the number of pupils rose from 300,319 to 334,149 during the period under review. The increase was confined to high and middle English schools, which showed an increase of 30 and 82, respectively. The number of middle vernacular schools on the other hand declined from 514 in the preceding year to 473 in 1912-13, and the number of pupils in them fell from 32,876 to 30,082. These figures are indicative of the ever increasing demand for English education. The position of the middle vernacular schools in the existing scheme of education is dealt with in paragraph 28 of this report.

Expenditure.

25. The total expenditure on the maintenance of secondary schools during the year 1912-13 was Rs. 47,72,918 or Rs. 4,65,430 in excess of the expenditure incurred under this head in 1911-12. A noteworthy feature in this respect is that while the total expenditure has increased considerably there has been a reduction in the expenditure from Provincial revenues by Rs. 24,003. This is due in some measure to increased fee-receipts in Government schools and partly to the suspension or withdrawal of grants from inefficient and badly managed schools. The expenditure from District Board funds likewise declined from Rs. 1,88,218 in 1911-12 to Rs. 1,68,516 in 1912-13. The increase in the total expenditure referred to above is therefore due entirely to an increase in fee-receipts and income from other sources.

General Character of Secondary Schools.

26. Secondary schools are of two classes—English and Vernacular. The first is subdivided into high English and middle English schools; the second comprises only middle vernacular schools. In the western divisions of Bengal high and middle English schools have a common curriculum up to the middle stage, which only differs from the middle vernacular school curriculum in that in the latter English is not taught. In the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions, while the high and middle English schools have the same course of studies up to the middle stage, the curriculum is quite distinct from that of middle vernacular schools. Thus in Eastern Bengal the high English school course extends over 10 years, the first 6 of which are covered by the middle English school course, and the middle vernacular schools follow an entirely different course extending over 7 years, the first 5 of which are covered by the course followed in primary schools. English is not allowed to be taught even as an optional subject in a vernacular school.

High Schools.

27. The general condition of high schools is far from satisfactory. Most of the schools are handicapped by want of funds, notwithstanding the additional grants which it has been possible to allot from the funds placed at the disposal of the Department for the improvement of aided secondary English schools. The conditions under which Government schools work are more conducive to efficiency, but even in regard to these institutions there is room for a great deal of improvement.

The teaching of drawing, geography and hygiene receives a certain amount of attention in Government institutions, but there is ground for believing that these subjects are neglected in most private schools owing to the fact that they are not included among the compulsory subjects for the Matriculation examination, and also that the schools are not in a position to employ qualified teachers or to provide the necessary apparatus.

The teaching of English is generally very unsatisfactory.

Middle Schools.

28. The growing popularity of middle English schools and the gradual extinction of the middle vernacular schools are but evidences of the popular desire for what is known as English education, and a strong feeling is rapidly growing up that there is no longer a place in the educational system for the purely vernacular middle school. The exclusion of English, even as an optional subject, from the curriculum of middle vernacular schools is responsible for this attitude, and parents and guardians have come to look upon the years spent by their sons and wards in vernacular classes beyond the primary stage as so many years wasted. This view gains support in the public mind in consideration of the fact that a middle English school serves the same purpose as a middle vernacular school so far as vernacular education is concerned, besides affording opportunities for the study of English. School managers are rapidly adapting themselves to the popular view and middle vernacular schools are fast transforming themselves into middle English schools. The few that are still being returned as middle vernacular schools are reported to be weak and inefficient. The whole matter of the future of these schools requires careful consideration.

Circle Schools.

29. Intimately connected with the question of the future of purely vernacular middle schools is the question of the continuance or otherwise of the circle school system which was described in paragraph 81 of the report for the year 1909-10. The system is generally believed to have outlived the purpose for which it was instituted, and a proposal is now before the Department for the conversion of the central schools into middle schools on an aided basis and the reduction of the ancillary schools to the status of ordinary primary schools on the same basis.

Improvement of Middle English Schools.

30. Middle English schools form an important link in the scheme of secondary education and the question of their improvement is an item which must necessarily be in the forefront of any scheme for the improvement of secondary education. An appropriate portion of the allotment from Imperial revenues for the improvement of secondary education will be devoted to the improvement of this class of schools.

Examinations.

31. There is a general demand for the restoration of the departmental examinations at the end of the middle stage. It has been urged that its abolition has not been attended, so far at any rate, with the results which this step was intended to secure but that it has generally brought about a lowering of standards, the primary certificate being no longer a fixed measure of attainment. A more important consideration is the alleged influence which this deterioration exercises on the training of vernacular masters, for it is to middle vernacular schools that we have to look for recruits for the first grade vernacular training schools. It is a matter of frequent observation that the attainments of the vernacular teachers now turned out by the normal schools are of an inferior order because the candidates who join these institutions are badly equipped for study in these schools. Complaints have also been brought against the prevailing system of examinations for the award of scholarships on the ground that the preliminary selection of candidates is determined according to different standards of examination and that the examinations are frequently perfunctory and the judgments hasty. The whole question of the middle school examinations is one which must sooner or later be thoroughly reconsidered. The results of these examinations conducted in the course of the last two years call for no comment.

There has been a rise in the proportion of successful candidates at the Matriculation examination held in March 1913. Out of a total number of 6,802 candidates who appeared at this exammination, 4,977 or 73·1 per cent. were successful. In 1912, 4,131 candidates passed out of 6,393 or 64·6 per cent. The Government schools as usual show the best results, having passed 81·3 and 79·5 per cent., respectively, in the last two years; the aided schools stand next in order of merit with 73·05 per cent. in 1913 and 63·5 per cent. in 1912; the unaided schools have 70·8 and 60·3 per cent., respectively.

From Bengal schools 37 candidates passed the "B" class final examination out of 56 sent up, the average of the three previous years being 48·7 passed out of 94·3 sent up.

"C" classes were finally abolished at the end of this year, the "C" class final examination being held for the last time in 1913.

The question of a school final or school-leaving certificate examination is in abeyance. Any such scheme must be preceded by a considerable strengthening of the superior inspecting agency.

Improvement of Secondary Education.

32. The general scheme for the improvement of secondary education is still in suspense pending the allotment of the requisite funds to give effect to it. During the year the Government of India communicated sanction to a recurring assignment of Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of aided high and middle Engligh schools. The object of the grant was specifically to improve the condition of secondary aided English schools subject to the condition that the grant was expended on the improvement and not on the multiplication of privately-managed secondary English schools, and largely on the raising of the salaries of the teachers of those institutions. Pending the formulation of a definite scheme it was decided that during the first year the grant should be devoted to non-recurring expenditure. The amount was accordingly spent on the improvement of school buildings, libraries and general equipment. The question of the utilization of the grant in future years was under consideration at the close of the year.

CHAPTER V.

Primary Education for Indian Boys.

Primary Schools for Boys.

Schools; causes of their decrease.

33. The number of primary schools for boys decreased from 28,602 in 1911-12 to 28,089 during the year under review, i.e., by 513. Of the 28,089 schools, 3,378 were returned as upper primary and 24,711 as lower primary On comparison of these figures with the corresponding figures of the previous year, it appears that there was a loss of 148 upper primary and 365 lower primary schools in the year. The loss of upper primary schools took place in Eastern Bengal and was attributed to the following causes :—

(1) reduction in status, and

(2) unpopularity of a purely vernacular education.

The loss of lower primary schools was reported from the western divisions and was said to have been due to one or other of the following causes :—

(1) the disappearance, for want of help from public funds, of a number of unaided schools that had previously struggled for existence ;

(2) the conversion of a number of lower primary schools into maktabs in some of the districts ;

(3) the increasing prices of food-stuffs, which have forced a number of teachers to leave their schools in search of other work ;

(4) the insistence upon improved methods of teaching without any corresponding pecuniary advantage to the gurus.

Pupils ; causes of their decrease.

34. The total number of pupils attending primary schools for boys on the 31st March 1913 was returned at 1,045,400, of which 994,316 were boys and 51,084 girls. A comparison of these figures with those of the previous year shows that during the year under review there was a falling off of 17,292 boys and 2,974 girls in the number of the Hindus, and of 5,421 boys and 1,588 girls in that of the Muhammadans. The decline in the number of Muhammadan pupils was counterbalanced by a corresponding rise in the number of those attending maktabs, and the explanation for the decrease in the number of Hindus was to be found in the loss of schools noted above. Of the total population of a school-going age 28·4 per cent. of boys and 6·1 per cent. of girls received primary education, against 29·1 and 6·2 per cent., respectively, of the preceding year.

Expenditure.

35. The total direct expenditure on primary schools for Indian boys during the year was returned at Rs. 27,97,957, of which Rs. 1,29,100 or 4·6 per cent. was contributed from Provincial revenues, Rs. 6,43,550 or 23·1 per cent. from district funds, and Rs. 52,486 or 1·8 per cent from Municipal funds. The remainder Rs. 19,72,821 or 70·5 per cent. was derived from private sources. In 1911-12 the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 26,85,154, of which Rs. 1,32,760 or 4·9 per cent. was met from Provincial revenues, Rs. 5,89,039 or 21·9 per cent. from District funds, and Rs. 50,467 or 1·8 per cent. from Municipal funds, and Rs. 19,12,888 or 71·4 per cent. from fees and other sources.

Pupils in Primary stages of Instruction.

36. The total number of pupils in the primary stages of instruction in primary and secondary schools for boys was at the close of the year 1,242,118, of which 1,045,394 were reading in primary schools and 196,724 in the primary classes of secondary schools. The figures for the preceding year were 1,253,808, 1,073,825 and 179,983, respectively. There has thus been a decrease of 11,690 pupils in the primary stages of instruction during the year due to the loss of primary schools noticed in paragraph 33.

Progress of Primary education among Hindus and Muhammadans.

37. Of the total number of pupils in primary schools for boys, 567,214 were Hindus and 459,037 were Muhammadans. It appears that during the year under report the number of Hindu pupils declined from 587,480 to 567,214, i.e., by 20,266 or 3·5 per cent. and that of the Muhammadans from 466,046 to 459,037, i.e., by 7,009 or 1·5 per cent. The decline is, as already remarked, due to the general fall in the numbers in primary schools. The Hindus have now 33·8 per cent. of their boys of school-going age in primary schools and the Muhammadans 24·1 per cent. The figures for the previous year were 34·8 and 24·4 per cent., respectively.

Teachers and their Remuneration.

38. Of the 33,895 teachers employed in primary schools for boys, 5,111 held no certificates whatever, 4,894 had passed the lower primary and 9,628 the upper primary standards. The rest possessed higher qualifications, while only 3,684 teachers had been trained in guru-training schools. The low qualifications of the gurus and the poor standard of teaching in primary schools have been the natural consequence of the want of restriction as to the class of men who were to be allowed to start primary schools, while the remuneration was too low to attract men of the right type. During the year under review there has been no appreciable change in the renumeration of primary school teachers from public funds. But provision has been made to increase the stipend of untrained teachers by Re. 1 and of the trained teachers by Rs. 3 a month with effect from the beginning of the current session. It is hoped that with the help of the Imperial grant available for primary education some advance may be made towards improvement in this direction.

Syllabus.

39. In the two western divisions of the Presidency the whole course under the revised syllabus from standard I to standard IV was in full operation in the year under report, but the results were not satisfactory, and cannot be so until the condition of the gurus is improved.

The new curriculum introduced in East Bengal from January 1912 is an improvement on the one it replaces, but any discussion of its merits and demerits would be premature at this stage.

Scholarships.

40. Inspectors of schools are unanimously of opinion that the existing number of such scholarships is not sufficient, and proposals for increasing the number of such scholarships are under consideration.

Model Rules for Administration of Primary Grants.

41. The revised model rules for the administration of primary grants were adopted with slight modifications by all district boards in West Bengal except that of Midnapore. It is being considered whether these rules are applicable to the Eastern Bengal divisions. Some modifications will be necessary to facilitate the co-ordination of the rules obtaining in both parts of the Presidency.

Buildings and Equipment.

42. The defective accommodation and poor equipment of primary schools have been a matter of frequent comment, but during the year under review it was possible to effect some improvement with the help of a part of the Durbar grant. Of the Imperial grant assigned for primary education, Rs. 2,30,000 was allotted to East Bengal for the following purposes :—

(a) construction of board primary school buildings ;
(b) supply of apparatus to primary schools ; and (c) deputation of training school teachers.

The allotment for West Bengal, which amounted to Rs. 2,31,168, was made under the following heads :—

(b) reconstruction and repairs of guru-training school buildings ;
(c) reconstruction and repairs of primary schools erected with a previous Imperial grant ;
(d) furniture and equipment of primary schools ; and (e) erection of a cheaper type of primary school buildings.

Out of these allotments provision was made for the construction of 589 board schools in East Bengal and for 100 upper primary and 300 lower primary school buildings of a cheaper type in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. In these two divisions 158 primary schools having buildings constructed with a previous Imperial grant were also converted into board schools. It is proposed to construct a large number of board schools this year, both in Western and Eastern Bengal, with the help of the current year's Imperial grant.

CHAPTER VI.

The Training of teachers for Indian Schools.

Introductory.

43. This chapter deals with institutions for the training of masters for Indian schools, those for mistresses being dealt with in Chapter VIII along with the general question of the education of Indian girls and women.

During the year under review there has been no change in the character and scope of the training of teachers described in the last Quinquennial Reports of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam in so far as they relate to the two portions constituting the new Presidency of Bengal. The distribution of the training institutions in the two portions remains almost the same, but their number and attendance have declined from 133 and 2,453 to 132 and 2,389, respectively. In the Province there are now, for the training of the members of the subordinate inspecting staff and of secondary and primary teachers, 3 colleges, 6 normal schools, 118 guru-training schools and 5 special training classes.

Training Colleges.

44. The three training colleges in the Province are the David Hare Training College at Calcutta, which trains pupils up to the B. T. degree, the Dacca Training College, which prepares candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Teaching and for the diploma of Licentiate in Teaching and the L. M. S. Training College at Bhawanipur, which teaches up to the L. T. standard only. The first two are maintained by Government while the third is an aided institution.

David Hare Training College.

45. The college has now completed the fifth year of its existence. The staff has been strengthened by the appointment of Mr. West as professor of method, who after appointment, underwent a year's special training in England and joined the college in November 1912.

Twenty-five students were deputed to the college during the year under review. They were all recommended by the divisional inspectors of schools and were already in Government service. Six of them came from Bihar and Orissa. Of the 25 students, 1 was the headmaster of a high school, 9 were assistant masters, 1 a deputy inspector and the remaining 14 sub-inspectors of schools, twenty-four students sat for the B. T. examination and of these 22 were successful.

The total direct cost of the college was Rs. 32,332, the whole of which was met from Provincial revenues. The average cost of training each pupil was Rs. 1,347-2-8 against Rs. 1,409-4-9 in the preceding year.

The defects pointed out in the last Quinquennial Report as to want of sufficient class room accommodation, playground and laboratories continue.

Dacca Training College.

46. This college has been in existence since 1910-11. The staff consists of 9 members, of whom the Principal and the Vice-Principal are Europeans. Unlike the David Hare Training College it receives for training not only existing teachers and members of the inspecting staff but also candidates for teaching employment either in Government or in other recognized secondary schools.

It was originally intended that the college should accommodate 100 students of whom it was proposed that as many as 59 should be private candidates. As, however, this number proved too great for the existing accommodation and as the number of private candidates applying for admission was disappointingly small, the number was reduced to 55 during the year under report—24 being allotted to B. T. students and 31 to L. T. students. Of these, 7 in the B. T. and 11 in the L. T. classes are reserved for candidates from Assam.

During the year under review there were 47 students under training, 23 in the B. T. class and 24 in the L. T. class. Of the 23 students in the B. T. class, 12 were Government school teachers, 5 were inspecting officers and 6 private candidates, and of the 24 students in the L. T. class, 12 were Government school teachers, 7 inspecting officers and 5 private candidates. At the B. T. examination 23 students appeared and 22 passed, and at the L. T. examination, 8 candidates of the 2nd-year class appeared and 7 passed. Besides the regular students, one of the lecturers of the college obtained the B. T. degree this year, being placed in the first division.

The total cost of the college was returned at Rs. 56,982 against Rs. 44,523 of the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 12,459 in the year. The increase was due to a non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 2,899, increase in the number of students of higher pay over that of the preceding year, and increase in the amount of allowances paid to the teachers and the inspecting officers.

The deputation allowance which Government officers under training enjoyed was limited to ¾ of their salary. But as these officers complained of the hardship consequent upon this limitation, Government sanctioned the grant to them of an allowance equivalent to their full salary from the commencement of the session 1912-13. The allowance paid by Government to the aided or board school teachers was also raised from one-quarter of their pay to three-quarters for those whose pay did not exceed Rs. 50 a month.

A noticeable feature of the year was that a nature study class was attached to the college for the training of vernacular teachers for the improved type of guru-training schools in Eastern Bengal. Dr. N. M. Gupta, Ph. D. (Vienna), who was specially appointed superintendent of nature study in the college, took charge of the class. It was opened on 10th July 1912 and it provides for both a theoretical and a practical course of instruction. The number of vernacular teachers received was 19, and all of them successfully passed through the course which is of one year's duration. Although the class was attached to the training college it was under the control of the local normal school. This dual system has proved somewhat unsatisfactory, and it has been proposed that the class should be independent of the normal school.

London Missionary Society College, Bhawanipur.

17. The aided college at Bhawanipur under the London Missionary Society had six pupils on its rolls on 31st of March 1913. Government contributed to this institution Rs. 1,620, by way of stipends to the students-in-training. A special feature of this class is the attention given to the teaching of geography, for which purpose the college is well equipped. It is anxious to do more in this respect, and with further encouragement from the Department, may do much for the teaching of geography all over the Presidency.

Training Schools for Vernacular Masters.

48. The six normal schools for vernacular masters are the first grade training schools at Calcutta, Hooghly and Krishnagar in West Bengal and the normal schools at Dacca, Chittagong and Rangpur in Eastern Bengal. Five of these are maintained by Government and one (the school at Krishnagar under the management of the Church Missionary Society) is aided. On the 31st March 1913, there were altogether 443 pupils as compared with 457 on the same date of the year before. The total expenditure on these schools was Rs. 80,736, of which Rs. 75,516 was debited to Provincial revenues.

In consequence of the adoption of the recommendations of the special committee appointed in 1909 in connection with the revision of the training school curricula, the first grade training schools in West Bengal are much improved. During the year under review Government sanctioned the inclusion of music and hygiene in the curriculum of studies so that the full course drawn up by the committee is in operation in these schools. The normal schools in Eastern Bengal follow a different course and no co-ordination has yet been effected in the two systems. There is a consensus of opinion among the inspectors that the quality of the outturn of these normal schools has greatly deteriorated. The reasons assigned by one of the inspectors for this deterioration are (1) the shortness of the normal school course, which formerly used to extend over three years, (2) the inferior quality of the pupils turned out from our middle schools, and (3) the weakness of the majority of the teaching staff of the normal schools in the special knowledge of the art of teaching. To remedy these defects it has been suggested (1) that the normal school course should be of three years' duration, (2) that public examinations for middle schools should be revived to improve the quality of work in them, and (3) that none but picked teachers of experience, specialists, if possible, should be on the normal school staff. The other inspectors share this view.

The results of the examinations at all the training schools except that at Rangpur from which only 7 out of 29 candidates passed were on the whole satisfactory. The number of students who passed out of these schools with final certificate during the year was 149.

Since January 1912 the rate of stipends has been raised to Rs. 7 and Rs. 6 in the Calcutta and Hooghly Training Schools, respectively. In Eastern Bengal the rate is Rs. 6.

Of the five Government training schools for vernacular masters, the Calcutta school has no house of its own, and is held in a rented house which is altogether unsuitable. The Dacca school also is insufficiently accommodated and, owing to this, as well as the absence of a middle English practising school, work is carried on here with considerable difficulty. The want of a suitable house for the Rangpur school has long been felt, and a scheme for providing better buildings is now in the course of preparation.

Guru-training Schools.

49. The total number of guru-training schools was 118, of which 78 were located in the two divisions of Western Bengal and the rest in the Eastern Bengal districts. Classified according to management, 116 of them were under Government while 2 only were under missionary societies. Of the 116 Government schools, 6 were intended for the training of mianjis, 3 in the Presidency, 2 in the Burdwan and 1 in the Chittagong Division. On the 31st March 1913 there were 1,797 pupils who were receiving instruction in these institutions. The total direct expenditure for the year 1912-13 on account of all these schools was Rs. 1,74,172, of which Rs. 1,58,366 was paid from Provincial revenues.

Out of the allotment of Rs. 9,25,000 made by the Government of India during the year for truly popular education a sum of Rs. 1,00,000 was set apart for guru-training school buildings in Eastern Bengal and the construction of certain schools was taken up. Very little, however, was done during the year under review. For the general equipment of the guru-training schools in West Bengal, a grant of Rs. 3,900 was also made. This money was spent in the supply of furniture, reference books and other teaching appliances.

CHAPTER VII.

Professional and Technical Education.

Law Colleges and Classes.

50. The institutions for the study of law consists of the University Law College, Calcutta, the law departments of the Dacca and the Ripon Colleges, and the pleadership classes attached to the Hooghly, Krishnagar, Rajshahi, Chittagong, Midnapore, Metropolitan and Berhampore Colleges. The total number of law students attending these colleges on the 31st of March 1913, was 1,712 against 1,157 on the corresponding date of the year before. The total direct expenditure on these institutions amounted during the year to Rs. 1,66,935, of which Rs. 39,593 was paid from Provincial revenues. At the B. L. Final examination 472 candidates appeared, of whom 254 passed.

Pleader's Survey Examination.

51. Classes for training pleaders in surveying were held at Sibpur (with 15 students), at Dacca (with 8) and at Bankipore (with 7). At the second examination under the new rules, in February 1913, 9 passed out of 41.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

52. The college suffered the loss by death in February 1913 of two professors, Mr. W. Tate and Dr. H. deS. Pittard, the former from paratyphoid fever and the latter from typhoid, apparently contracted at Sibpur. The general health of the college appears to have remained about the same for the last three years, the average daily number of patients treated being 20·7 in 1910-11, and 18·1 and 19·2 in the succeeding two years. In the Engineer Department the number of students attending was 97, an increase of 2 on the previous year. In the Apprentice Department the number of students was 184, viz., 157 in the civil engineering branch, 17 in the mechanical and electrical engineering branch, and 10 in the mining branch. The numbers in the previous year were 181, 156, 14 and 11. The new course in the mechanical and electrical branch of the overseer course was opened in April 1912, with 8 students, of whom 4 were Europeans. There are now separated professors for mechanical engineering and electrical engineering, instead of one professor for the two subjects. The duties undertaken by the former professor of physics have been divided, electricity being allotted to the electrical engineering department, the remaining physical subjects to the chemical department, and geology and mineralogy to the mining department. The special mining scholarships for men who are employed in mines were discontinued by order of Government at the beginning of the year, as the results were not considered commensurate with the expenditure involved. In the industrial chemistry class there were 7 students 3 in the 1st year and 4 in the 2nd-year class. The elaborate equipment of the practical dye-house is approaching completion. Every encouragement is given to all students to take part in games and athletics. The industrial class for training young artisans is doing useful work. The average attendance was 30, of whom the majority were engaged in the fitting and machine shop. The gross expenditure on the college during the year was Rs. 2·99 lakhs, of which 2·66 lakhs was met by Government, and the balance from fees and other receipts. For the previous year the figures were 2·33 and 1·93. In 1912-13, the expenditure included nearly half a lakh from Imperial revenues, spent mainly on equipment. The first local audit of the college accounts was carried out by the Accountant-General's staff in May and June 1912, and the report thereon was received in November 1912.

Dacca School of Engineering.

53. The average monthly number of students was 276, as compared with 299 in the previous year, of whom about 90 were in the two-year survey classes. The survey classes will now be transferred from the Education Department to the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, who is starting a survey school near Comilla. In the 1st-year sub-overseer class the admissions fell to 20. During the year houses had to be hired for the accommodation of student boarders, but a second story is being added to the hostel building. Laboratories are being prepared for teaching the new overseer course in mechanical and electrical engineering. The gross expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 81.956, of which Rs. 71,161 was met by Government, the figures for the previous year being Rs. 64,190 and Rs. 52,618. The increase is due to (1) improvement in workshop equipment, for which a sum of Rs. 10,376 was sanctioned from the Imperial grant (2) expenditure on apparatus for the mechanical laboratory (Rs. 4,000), (3), a new teacher for mechanical and electrical work, and (4) rent of houses temporarily required as hostels. The games and sports include football, cricket, tennis, badminton and swimming.

Joint Technical Examination Board.

54. In the Overseer examination of 1913, 78 candidates passed out of 105, or 74·3 per cent., and in the Sub-Overseer examination 133 passed out of 237, or 56·1 per cent., as compared with the percentages of 62·3 and 56·9, respectively, in 1912. The amount received as candidates' fees, viz., Rs. 8,920, more than covered the cost of the examinations. The number of students reading for these examinations is diminishing generally.

It may be explained that the figures shown here include the statistics of the candidates from Bihar and Orissa.

Technical and Industrial Schools.

55. The number of applicants for admission to the sub-overseer classes has seriously fallen off at most schools, the alleged cause of this falling off being the superior attractions of the University courses. The provincialization of Rangpur Technical School was carried out and that of Chittagong was sanctioned. But it is intended to consider carefully the future of such schools, both in West and East Bengal, before anything further is done.

Mining Classes.

56. As a result of the reconstitution of Bengal, the two mining lecture centres at Sijua and Jherria were transferred to Bihar, though their supervision remains in the hands of the Mining Educational Advisory Board. Courses of lectures were givin at Charanpur and Deshergarh, and a third Bengal centre was opened at Raniganj from January 1913. Out of 74 students eligible for the sessional examination from four centres, only 25 actually appeared, of whom 16 passed. A sum of Rs. 2,000 was allotted from the Imperial grant for the purchase of apparatus for the lectures.

Serampore Weaving Institute.

57. At the reopening in November 1912, there were 31 students in the higher class and 31 in the artisan class. In January 1913 there were 100 applicants for admission to the higher class: of these 20 Bengalis, 1 Madrassi, 2 Muhammadans and 2 Christians were selected, but many of the Bengalis withdrew and finally, after fresh admissions and withdrawals, 17 students remained in the class. The attendance in the artisan class averages 40 to 50. Nearly all the ex-students of the higher class have secured employment or opened small factories Few of them have remained in Bengal, where prospects appear to be worse than elsewhere in India, and some have gone to places as remote as Nepal, Assam, Burma and Ceylon. Employers give very satisfactory reports. Of 44 students entered for the City and Guilds of London examinations in textile subjects, 24 passed, of whom 8 passed in 1st division. The demand for artisan students is growing, but many of them give up employment in factories and return to their villages. They command about Rs. 15 per mensem. Games are encouraged.

City and Guilds of London Technological Examinations.

58. The examinations in April and May 1912 were held locally at two centres—Serampore for textile subjects (44 candidates), and Calcutta for the others (25 candidates). Many enquiries are received about these examinations, and their popularity is increasing.

Manual Training.

59. The officiating Superintendent of Industries, after inspecting the manual training classes at a number of European schools, convened a small committee to discuss the question. This committee recommended that, to improve the supply of teachers, a training class for teachers should be held at Kurseong for about a month in the hot weather.

Commercial Institute, Calcutta.

60. A circular has been issued by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce recommending that passed students of this institute be given the preference by commercial firms making clerical appointments. The hours of the day classes, which were previously 11 A.M. to 2-45 P.M., have now been extended to 4 P.M. The number of day students was 21 in the 1st-year and 14 in the 2nd-year; and the evening students totalled 56, the great majority of whom took shorthand, typewriting, or book-keeping. The expenditure in the year was Rs. 24,560 and the income Rs. 4,456. A close interest in the institute is now taken by the Advisory Board.

School of Art, Calcutta.

61. The total number of students on 31st March 1913 was 273, against 280 in the previous year, of whom 13 were Muhammadans. The lithography wood-engraving, modelling and draftsman classes had 9, 8, 12 and 33 students, respectively. In the Fine Art Department many paintings in the Indian style were executed, some of which were publicly exhibited. Three advanced students were under training as teachers. Employment was obtained by 28 students on pay ranging from Rs. 20 to Rs. 70 a month.

Proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta.

62. A representative committee appointed by Government sat during the early part of 1912 to consider certain questions connected with technical education. Their main recommendations were to the effect that the engineering college should be removed from Sibpur, that a technological institute should be established in Calcutta, and that a residential and well-equipped civil engineering college should be created independently of this institute. That portion of their report dealing with the question of a technological institute for Calcutta was further discussed and elaborated by Messrs Nathan, Küchler and Everett, in consultation with employers and others, and the resulting report was completed in March 1913. They recommended that the institute should comprise departments for engineering, textiles, chemistry, printing, commerce and women's subjects, and they proposed that it should be housed in the Imperial Secretariat Building.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Education of Indian Girls and Women.

General Statistics.

63. The number of public institutions of all classes for girls increased from 6,957 to 7,263 and the number of girls including those reading in mixed schools from 222,576 to 222,749. The increase in the number of schools occurred chiefly under the heads of primary schools and special schools which rose from 6,572 to 6,779 and from 315 to 427, respectively. A pleasing feature of the year's progress is that the number of Muhammadan girls attending schools increased by 1,423.

Controlling Agency.

64. On the constitution of the Presidency of Bengal it was decided to assign to one Inspectress, with headquarters at Dacca, all the Indian schools for girls in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions and to allot to the other Inspectress, who is to continue to have her headquarters at Calcutta the charge of the Indian schools for girls in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions as well as such work in connexion with European schools for girls throughout the Presidency, as is under present conditions entrusted to an inspectress. The post of Inspectress of Schools of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions was held by Miss E. H. Crawford for the whole year during the absence of Miss Brock, on leave. There are two Assistant Inspectresses for the Western Divisions—one for the Presidency and one for the Burdwan Division. The number of schools which the Assistant Inspectresses have to supervise is far too large for so limited a staff, and proposals were accordingly submitted by the Inspectress for strengthening her staff by the appointment of two additional Assistant Inspectresses.

Miss Garrett, the Inspectress of Schools of the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions, was on leave during the whole of the year under review. The work was carried on during her absence by Miss Chamier. An additional post of Assistant Inspectress was sanctioned in April 1912 for the Rajshahi Division. In the Eastern Bengal Divisions also the need of further additions to the female inspecting staff has been pointed out, and the whole question of strengthening the female inspecting agency is now under the consideration of Government.

Collegiate Education.

65. The Bethune College is affiliated up to the degree course in English, Sanskrit, History, Vernacular and Philosophy. The college and the collegiate school occupy the same building, and the inadequacy of the present building both in the matter of class-room and hostel accommodation, which has been commented on in previous reports, still remains. The whole question of the reorganisation and improvement of this college is now engaging the attention of the Education Department.

The Diocesan College at Ballyganj is affiliated for the B.A. degree in English, History, Political Philosophy and Economics, Mathematics, Vernacular and Botany. It is rendering excellent service tothe higher education of Indian women, as is the less ambitious class at Loreto House, which, though not technically affiliated, is permitted by the University to send its students in for the Intermediate Arts examination as private students. The institution has applied for regular affiliation up to the Intermediate Arts standard.

Secondary Education.

66. Of the 14 high schools referred to in paragraph 578 of the last Quinquennial Review of Education in Bengal, 3 have gone over to the new Province of Bihar and Orissa. Three Government high schools for girls have, however, come over with the divisions of Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong. The Inspectresses report that these schools are doing creditable work, but little can be accomplished in the direction of real progress until trained women teachers are available for secondary schools. This want can only be met by the provision of adequate arrangements for the training of women teachers for secondary schools. A new building has been provided for the Mymensingh High School. The girls' high schools under mission management have generally maintained a high level of work. They have the advantage of the superintendence of European graduates, and are staffed for the most part by trained teachers.

There are several excellent boarding middle schools under mission management. These are nearly all for the benefit of the poorer classes, and in one or two institutions the girls are trained to do their own cooking and household work. In Calcutta the attendance at middle vernacular schools is extremely good, and the Inspectress thinks that certain of the schools might profitably be converted into middle English schools. School buildings in most cases are defective and ill-suited to school purposes. This defect, coupled with the lack of trained teachers, is the chief obstacle in the way of progress.

There are three middle English schools under Brahmo management—two in the Burdwan and one in the Presidency Division. Of these, that at Contai (Burdwan) is flourishing, and it is proposed to raise it to the high school status.

Primary Education.

Model Primary School.

67. There are 47 model primary girls' schools in the Presidency, 22 in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and 25 in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions. Miss Crawford reports that these schools received special attention, and that many of them are doing good work, but that they badly need trained female teachers, as pandits are generally unsuitable for the work. The school buildings are generally unsatisfactory. This is due chiefly to the fact that under the original scheme the local people were required to provide school buildings and to keep them in repair. This obligation has never been satisfactorily fulfilled. The only course seems to be to provide these schools with good buildings at Government expense. Something must clearly be done, for without satisfactory buildings and quarters for female teachers it is impossible to make these schools really effective.

Peasant Girls' School.

68. These schools are intended to reach the peasantry, who have not before been reached by any educational agency and who are generally backward and indigent and averse from female education. The scheme is at present confined to the Presidency Division. The schools, 22 in number, are more elementary in character and less expensive than model primary girls' schools. They do not go beyond the lower primary stage, and the total cost is Rs. 13 a month each.

District Board and Municipal Schools.

69. There is little of note to record with regard to District Board and Municipal schools. Much remains to be done in the matter of improving school-houses. There are signs, however, that the people are becoming more alive to the need of female education, and there is an increasing readiness on the part of the public to repair, extend and erect school-houses. These schools also labour under another and perhaps greater disadvantage, in that they are unable to maintain whole-time teachers. At present their teachers are employed for the greater part of the day in boys' schools and give merely their spare time to the girls' schools. The remedy is to provide for grants on such a scale as will enable the schools to employ qualified whole-time teachers.

Zanana Education.

70. Zanana-teaching is carried on departmentally by the system of central gatherings and of house-to-house visitation. In West Bengal the former is not popular, and two centres were closed during the year 1912-13. On the other hand, the house-to-house visitation system has been successful. Besides missionaries, who work on these lines, there are 18 peripatetic zanana teachers in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. In the three divisions of Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi the central gathering system seems to have met with success. There are 10 such centres, 2 having been started in 1912-13. There are zanana agencies at Hooghly and Midnapore under mission superintendence, the former receiving aid from Government.

There is considerable room for expansion in this important branch of female education, and the question of extending the work will be considered in connexion with the scheme for the utilisation of the Imperial grants for female education.

Muhammadan Education.

71. There seems to be a marked desire for increased facilities for female education in the Muhammadan community. An interesting school has recently been started in Calcutta by a Muhammadan lady. It has a large number of pupils and it gives every promise of success, but a great difficulty is that it is at present impossible to find well-qualified Muhammadan female teachers in Bengal. The Sakhawat Memorial School at Calcutta, which has moved into a more extensive building, also promises well.

In the mufassal there are indications of an awakening to the need of opening schools. With the funds recently allotted by the Government of India there will be no difficulty in giving effect to a scheme which has for some time been before the Department of establishing special primary schools for Muhammadans on the lines of the model primary school scheme.

In West Bengal zanana-teaching for Muhammadans is steadily improving, and the centres at Margram and Murshidabad are making great progress. There is room for increased zanana work in Calcutta—a need which it will be possible to meet with the additional funds at the disposal of the Department.

Training of Teachers.

72. The training of teachers for girls' schools in Bengal is carried on mainly by missionary agencies. There are in all two Government and five mission training schools which prepare candidates for the junior and senior Teachership Certificate examinations. The mission training classes train teachers mainly for their own service though a few of their pupils enter Government service or accept posts in non-mission schools.

The Government training class for Hindu widows at Calcutta, which has moved into a larger house, is making good progress. There are at present 11 students on the rolls. There are also training classes attached to the Eden Female School at Dacca. Of the 10 candidates, who passed the teachership examination from this institution, 2 were Muhammadans, the first of their community. The total number of women who passed the teachership examinations in Bengal during 1912-13 was 65.

In addition to the above classes there are two "Widows' Homes" at Orakandi and Dacca, the former for Namasudra widows and the latter for widows of better castes. Good progress is reported to have been made in both localities. These homes are of great importance, furnishing as they do educational facilities and therein a means of livelihood for a section of the community which has great claims to the sympathy and care of Government. The Inspectress reports that widows are more reliable as teachers than other women with whom the responsibilities of married life make professional work a second consideration.

Scholarships.

73. The number of scholarships at present available for the girls in the Presidency are :—

	West Bengal.	East Bengal	Total
Senior	2	6	8
Junior	3	6	9
Middle English	...	4	4
„ Vernacular	...	5	5
Primary	8	75	83
Total ...	13	96	109

During the year under review the provision for girls' scholarships decreased by Rs. 2,084.

It is proposed to provide for a substantial increase under this head out of the Imperial grant for female education.

The girls' primary and middle scholarships are open to competition only to pupils reading in girls' schools. They are in addition to the open scholarships provided under the East Bengal Government Notification No. 2712 E. of the 5th November 1908, for which girls reading in girls' schools will not be permitted to compete, but for which girls reading in boys' schools or mixed schools will still be eligible. It is proposed that a limited number of the open lower primary scholarships should be specially reserved by Boards for girls reading in boys' lower primary schools.

Chief features of the year.

74. The most important feature in the history of female education for the year 1912-13 was the constitution of a Female Education Committee for the whole of the Province to advise Government in matters relating to female education. A committee for the advancement of female education had already existed in Eastern Bengal and Assam, and its labours had been attended with great success. The first session of the Committee took place on the 18th and 19th March 1913, and the results of its deliberations form a document which deals with the subject of the education of Indian girls and women in all its phases. The important question of the training of teachers received special consideration, and it was decided to recommend that a general training college and school for female teachers should be established at Calcutta. The school would be mainly a day-school with some boarding accommodation and would comprise two departments—an English Department training for the B. T. and L. T. examinations and a Vernacular Department for teachers of vernacular schools. This Committee recommended the appointment of a sub-committee to work out details of the scheme.

Another matter of equal importance was the allotment of special funds from Imperial revenues for female education. At the Coronation Durbar it was announced that the Government would devote at once 50 lakhs to the promotion of truly popular education. Of this sum the amount allotted to Bengal for 1912-13 for the education of girls was Rs. 1,07,000. The Government of India considered that the bulk of the allotment under this head should most fitly be expended upon elementary education and training, but that it was not intended to fetter Local Governments in this matter. The grant is a recurring one, but in view of the impracticability of formulating a scheme of recurring expenditure at a short notice it was decided to expend the grant during the first year on capital objects and the grant was distributed as follows :—

	Rs.
For the provision of class-room accommodation for the Bethune College	60,000
For the improvement of the Vidyamoyee (Alexander) Girls' School at Mymensingh ...	20,000
For completion of some "Urban Schools" in East Bengal	15,000
For the purchase of sites for primary schools in the Dacca and Mymensingh municipalities ...	12,000
Total ...	1,07,000

For various causes the bulk of this allotment remained unexpended during the year under review.

A scheme for the distribution of the grant in future years was submitted to Government towards the close of the year under review. This scheme has however had to be revised in view of an additional grant of Rs. 1,07,000 made in 1913-14, and the whole question will be dealt with in a subsequent report.

CHAPTER IX.

The Education of Europeans.

Institutions.

75. The number of European schools in Bengal is 76, including 16 institutions for special instruction. With the re-union of the two sections of Bengal and the creation of the new Province of Bihar and Orissa, 17 schools, formerly under the jurisdiction of the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, were handed over to the Education Department of the latter Province, while 5 schools came over with the eastern districts. Of the European schools in this Province, 11 are graded as higher secondary, 10 permanently, and 1, the Calcutta Girls' School, temporarily for two years ; 11 are graded as secondary, 9 permanently, and 2 provisionally ; 13 are recognised as higher elementary, all provisionally, and 20 are recognised as elementary. Of elementary schools, 14 are incomplete elementary schools. The remaining schools are special schools, i.e., commercial, technical or training institutions.

The five Eastern Bengal schools have not yet been graded. One is working as a secondary school, one as a higher elementary school and the rest as elementary schools.

During the year under report one school was removed from the list of recognised schools and two were admitted. The Young Men's Christian Association commercial classes were temporarily closed after working for the first five months of the year.

Pupils.

76. The number of pupils in the 60 secondary and elementary schools on the 31st of March 1913 was 8,097 as compared with 8,082 on the 31st of March 1912. Of these 8,097 pupils, 7,484 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. On the 31st of March 1912 the number of Europeans and Anglo-Indians under instruction in European schools was 7.527.

The 16 special schools had 990 students on their rolls on the 31st March 1913. On the 31st March 1912 there were 401 pupils receiving special instruction. Of the 990 students, 876 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians.

The total number of pupils in the European schools on March 31st, 1913, was therefore 9,087, of whom 8,360 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. The number of non-Europeans was 727. Of these 727 non-Europeans, 398 were males and 329 were females.

Of the total number of pupils under instruction in secondary and elementary schools, 3,933 or 49 per cent. approximately were in attendance at secondary schools ; 2,411 of these were boys and 1,522 girls.

Management.

77. Of the 60 secondary and elementary schools Government directly manages only two schools—the Victoria School, Kurseong, and the Dow Hill School, Kurseong. On the 31st of March 1913 there were 300 pupils attending these two schools as compared with 304 on the same date in 1912. The other 58 schools are under private management, of which the majority are controlled by the various denominations. One or two are undenominational, and 10 belong to railway companies.

Examinations.

78. With regard to the system of examination now in force, Mr. Maclear, Inspector of European Schools, suggests that it requires careful reconsideration. The Cambridge Local examinations are not by any means ideal examinations for secondary schools, and the Preliminary and the Junior are in many ways actively prejudicial to real education. The division of secondary schools in Bengal into higher secondary and secondary is meaningless, in so far as the secondary schools which teach up to the Junior Local cannot be regarded as giving even an approximation to a real secondary education. From what he has seen of the secondary schools of the Province, he is of the opinion that the Cambridge syllabus dominates the curriculum to an extent that is positively harmful. The Elementary School Certificate examination works harshly. The same papers are set for schools at varying stages of advancement, and only in three of the subjects of the curriculum has a definite standardized syllabus been prescribed by the Department. The position in a nutshell is that the principals of elementary schools know that they must teach certain definite subjects, but with regard to the majority of those subjects they are left in ignorance as to degree of proficiency expected of their pupils. It is regrettable that the original scheme for an in situ examination has not materialised. The supplementary class examination is equally unsatisfactory. A thorough ventilation of the question is essential.

Scholarships.

79. The total value of scholarships and stipends paid in 1912-13 amounts to Rs. 15,150. This amount includes the cost of some extra provincial scholarships which were paid in Bengal in accordance with the procedure sanctioned for the payment of scholarships transferred from one province to another.

There is one State scholarship of £200 per annum tenable in Europe for the male members of the domiciled European and Anglo-Indian community throughout India.

The State scholarship for women had not been sanctioned before the close of the year under review.

Grants-in-aid.

80. The Inspector does not advocate the renewal of the free scholar grant of Rs. 2 for each free day-scholar in average attendance in view of the allotment of the Imperial grants of Rs. 40,000 and Rs. 50,000 to the indemnification of schools for the giving of free tuition, nor for the same reason does he advocate the raising of the free boarding grant. Effect was given to some slight extent to the provisions of article 48 of the Code which provides for the education of the children of Europeans and Anglo-Indians dwelling in remote districts

The various grants-in-aid given under the Code of Regulations for European Schools are described in paragraphs 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673 and 674 of the last Quinquennial Review.

Imperial Grants for European Education.

81. During the year under review the Government of India sanctioned the following recurring allotments for European education :—

(1) Rupees 50,000 as part of the grant of Rs. 9 lakhs sanctioned in Government of India's letter No. 380, dated 13th February 1912.—It was the desire of the Government of India that a portion of this grant should be devoted to increasing the number of free pupils or reducing fees in the elementary classes. Pending the working of a suitable scheme, the grant was devoted to capital expenditure during the first year of its incidence. The main difficulty in the way of the preparation of a suitable scheme of distribution was the inadequacy of the allotment to the estimated requirements of the Presidency. A supplementary grant from Imperial revenues having been foreshadowed, it was considered expedient to wait and work up proposals on the basis of a fuller allotment of funds.

(2) Rupees 40,000 for the education of the poorer classes of the domiciled community in the city of Calcutta.—As in the case of the general grant, the first year's allotment was expended on non-recurring objects, pending the consideration of proposals for the utilisation of the grant in future years.

In addition to this expenditure a further sum of Rs. 11,000 was devoted to capital expenditure on European schools out of the supplementary grant of

Rs. 25,000 sanctioned by the Government of India in their letter No. 2469, dated 19th November 1912.

Teachers.

82. There were 538 teachers for 8,097 pupils in the various elementary and secondary schools in the Bengal Presidency. That is, one teacher was employed on an average for every 15 pupils. This is satisfactory numerically [vide article 17 (b) of the European Schools Code]. But the quality of the personnel of these 538 teachers leaves much to be desired from the point of view of training, and of pedagogic and academic attainment.

Qualifications of Teachers Examined.

83. Of the teachers employed in European schools, 45 only or 8 per cent. were graduates, while the number of teachers who have received training was only 185 or less than 35 per cent. Against this paucity of trained teachers it should be borne in mind that many of the schools in this Presidency are managed by the Jesuits, the Loreto Nuns, the Irish Christian Brothers, the Daughters of the Cross and the members of other religious orders, about 80 per cent. of whom have passed examinations prescribed by their respective orders.

This Presidency has no special facilities for the training of European male teachers, nor did it send any male teacher to be trained at Sanawar during the year 1912-13.

Dow Hill Training Class.

84. The total cost of the training class attached to the Dow Hill School, Kurseong, was Rs. 14,891 for the year under review. Twenty students were trained free of charge, and the cost of training per head amounted to Rs. 745 approximately.

The annual examination of the training class was held in November 1912 by the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, and the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. Four senior and 15 junior students sat for the examination. All the senior and 14 of the junior candidates passed.

Manual Training.

85. Manual training (i.e., wood work) is conducted at nine schools in the Presidency. The immediate impediment to the general introduction of this subject is the difficulty of securing competent teachers. With a view to the removal of this impediment, a committee was formed under the presidency of the Officiating Superintendent of Industries to discuss the question and draw up a scheme for the formation of a class for training manual instruction teachers. A scheme was propounded and arrangements made for the holding of an instruction class at the Goethal's Memorial Orphanage, Kurseong. The class was to meet in Kurseong in May 1913 under the direction of Mr. A. C. Atkinson of La Martinière, Calcutta.

Agriculture.

86. There is an agricultural class at the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, for boys who intend to emigrate either to Canada or to New Zealand. There were four boys in this class in 1912-13, all of whom have since been sent to New Zealand. The work done is of a very admirable and practical kind.

Commerce.

87. There were two pupils in the continuation class at the Dow Hill School, Kurseong, during the year 1912-13. A revised and extended course was sanctioned in November 1912. At present the class is in abeyance, owing to lack of pupils and the resignation of the teacher-in-charge.

Commercial Classes in Calcutta.

88. The Young Men's Christian Association commercial classes at 125, Dharamtala Street, Calcutta, were closed after working for about five months, for which period they received a grant of Rs. 250 at Rs. 50 a month.

The commercial class of the Young Women's Christian Association at 134, Corporation Street, Calcutta, has been greatly developed. According to the managers' returns for 1912-13 there were 775 young women on the rolls of this department. Of these 775 persons, 255 were returned as studying type-writing, 181 shorthand, 18 nursing, 22 Hindustani, 18 dress-making, 23 hygiene and ethics, 174 physical culture, 9 cookery, and 75 other subjects.

Supplementary Classes in Higher Elementary Schools.

89. Ten schools maintained supplementary classes, teaching one or other of the courses or a course comprising subjects selected from two or more of the courses prescribed in appendix III of the Code.

The courses and the supplementary examination up to which they lead are not completely satisfactory. The question of the value of these classes requires consideration.

Sub-Overseer Classes.

90. On the 31st of March 1913 there were at the Victoria School four students—two in the 1st-year and two in the 2nd-year class. At the Sub-Overseer examination held in 1913 two were presented, of whom one was successful. In 1912-13 for the first time the survey work required of the class was done in the neighbourhood of the school. The upkeep of this class for 1912-13 was about Rs. 7,563, of which about Rs. 660 was realised from fees.

The Sub-Overseer class at Göethal's Memorial Orphanage had 8 students on its rolls on the 31st of March 1913. The cost of maintaining this class was Rs. 5,918, towards which Government contributed Rs. 1,100.

Apprentices' Night School, Kharagpur.

91. There were 50 students on the rolls of this school on the 31st March 1913. The average monthly number on the rolls during 1912-13 was 51 and the average daily attendance 44. It has four classes, A, B, C and D, and teaches machine-construction, drawing, steam, applied mechanics, geometry and practical mathematics (advanced and elementary). It employs a staff of four European teachers. The upkeep of the school for 1912-13 was Rs. 2,348, towards which Government contribution was Rs. 520.

Calcutta Technical School.

92. This school has no building of its own, and its sessions are held in the evening at St. Joseph's School, Bow Bazar Street, Calcutta. The number of students on the rolls on the 31st of March 1913 was 58, and the average monthly number and the average daily attendance for 1912 were 61 and 54, respectively. The upkeep of the school cost Rs. 5,111, the Government contribution towards which amounted to Rs. 2,000.

Domestic Training of Girls.

93. This subject is stated at some length in paragraphs 736 to 739 of the last Quinquennial Report.

At present full and complete instruction in this subject is confined to St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong. Domestic training is given in the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, and a domestic science class is about to be formed. A proposal to teach this subject in the three senior classes at Dow Hill has been sanctioned by Government.

Volunteering.

94. During the year 1912-13 the expenditure upon the cadet corps of the European schools for boys amounted to Rs. 11,634. The efficient and extra-efficient cadets numbered, respectively, 181 and 1,218. There was great improvement in efficiency during the year 1912-13, as these figures show.

CHAPTER X.

The Education of Muhammadans.

Review of the progress made during the year.

95. The Muhammadan population of the Presidency as at present constituted is 23,989,719, or 52·7 per cent. of the total population, and the number of Muhammadan pupils in institutions of all kinds for the education of Indians is 731,490, or 42·8 per cent. of the total number of pupils under instruction in such institutions. In the Eastern Bengal divisions, where the Muhammadans preponderate, these percentages are, respectively, 66·3 and 58·6, the corresponding figures for the Western Bengal divisions being 31·9 and 23·7, respectively. Thus the Muhammadans do not as yet represent that proportion of the total number of pupils in educational institutions which by their numerical strength they should represent, but they have made some progress. The increase of the last few years in Muhammadan pupils is well maintained in colleges, secondary schools, girls' schools, and miscellaneous schools, but there has been a slight falling off in the number of Muhammadan pupils in primary schools for boys. The total decrease is 7,009, which amounts to about 1·5 per cent. of the total. The decrease is general, the corresponding figure for Hindu pupils being 20,266. The probable cause of the decrease is discussed in the chapter which deals with primary education. The number of Muhammadan students in training, medical, technical and industrial schools has also declined from 1,780 to 1,584. During the year under review the Muhammadans in colleges and schools of public instruction amounted to 690,728 as against 676,058 in the previous year, which represents an increase of 14,670, or 2·1 per cent. The corresponding figures for Hindu pupils show an increase in the figures for the year under review as compared with those of the previous year of 4,901 only. The position is therefore that as regards pupils in public schools the increase in the number of Muhammadan pupils has been comparatively large, the rate of increase being considerably greater than in the case of Hindu pupils. This of course is what one naturally expects seeing that the Muhammadans are making their appearance later in the educational field.

The figures for private institutions tell another storey. While the number of Hindus attending these schools has risen from 11,411 to 13,402, an increase of 1,991, that of the Muhammadans has fallen from 41,131 to 40,762 i.e., a decrease of 369. This decrease is said to be due to the conversion of some of the Koran schools into recognised maktabs. On the 31st March 1913 the proportion of Muhammadan pupils to the total number of pupils in public institutions was 41·8 per cent. as against 56·4 per cent. for the Hindus. Muhammadan pupils provided 7·2 per cent. of the strength of colleges, 19·9 per cent. of the strength of high schools, 34·5 per cent. of the strength of middle schools, 43·3 per cent. of the strength of primary schools, while the Hindus contributed 90·5 per cent. to the total number of pupils in colleges, 78·9 per cent. to the total number of pupils in high schools, 63·9 per cent. to the total number of pupils in middle schools and 54·7 per cent. to the total number of pupils in primary schools. It thus appears that it is in primary schools only that the Muhammadans have made any real advance, and moreover that it is in these institutions alone that the proportion of Muhammadan pupils bears any real relation to the numerical position which they hold as a constituent factor of the general population. At no other stage of instruction do the figures of pupils attending schools approximate to the numerical strength of the community. Some advance has been made during the last few years, especially in Eastern Bengal, at every stage of instruction, but when the figures for the higher stage of instruction are examined, it is found that the proportion of Muhammadans declines as the higher stages are approached. The figures quoted above must therefore be read with caution or they may mislead as to the real position of the Muhammadan community in the educational field. It must also be remembered that when Muhammadan boys are found in high schools and other institutions, the majority of them are usually to be found in the lower classes. What is wanted is the analysis of the position of Muhammadans in the several stages of instruction, and it is to be regretted that the Divisional Inspectors with the exception of the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, have omitted to supply this information. The figures returned by the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, where, as in Eastern Bengal generally, the bulk of the population is Muhammadan, show that the Muhammadans reading in the first four classes of high schools represent 16·3 per cent. only of the total, while those reading in the middle stage represent 30·9 per cent. of the total, those in the upper primary stage 37·02 per cent. of the total and those in the lower primary stage 57·4 per cent. of the total.

Success in Examinations.

96. During the year under review one Muhammadan student passed the M.Sc. examination, while 10 passed the M.A. examination, 12 the B.L. examination, 68 the B.A. examination and 6 the B.Sc. examination. If these figures are compared with the examination successes secured during the same period by Hindus, the result is startling. During the year 1912-13, 34 Hindus passed the M.Sc. examination, 152 the M.A. examination, 242 the B.L. examination, 923 the B.A. examination and 242 the B.Sc. examination. During the period under review 503 Muhammadan pupils passed the Matriculation examination as against 4,157 Hindus.

Madrassahs.

97. The returns show that on the 31st March 1913 there were 160 madrassahs with an enrolment of 13,155 pupils as against 149 institutions with an enrolment of 12,571 at the end of the previous financial year. Of the Government madrassahs those at Calcutta, Dacca, Chittagong and Hooghly are senior madrassahs, while that at Rajshahi teaches the junior course only. The madrassahs at Calcutta, Dacca and Chittagong include Arabic and Anglo-Persian Departments. At the end of the year there were 1,355 and 1,226 pupils reading, respectively, in the two departments of these madrassahs.

From the Anglo-Persian Departments, 71 pupils appeared at the Matriculation examination of 1913, of whom 47 passed. The Hooghly Madrassah, which has no Anglo-Persian Department, had 143 pupils on its rolls on the 31st March 1913. The total direct expenditure on all the Government madrassahs for the year 1912-13 was Rs. 1,06,868, towards which Provincial revenues contributed Rs. 51,410.

Maktabs.

98. The system of maktab education differs in the two parts of the Province. In Eastern Bengal the maktabs that conform to the departmental regulations and adopt the departmental primary course are returned as primary schools, but since the introduction of Sir A. Earle's scheme recognised maktabs in Western Bengal are not returned as primary schools, but are classed under the head of "Special Schools—Miscellaneous." There are now 3,841 maktabs—1,650 in the eastern divisions and 2,191 in the western divisions of Bengal, and these institutions had on their rolls 56,684 and 63,176 pupils, respectively, at the end of the year. During the year under review a sum of Rs. 5,469 was allotted for grants-in-aid to maktabs in non-board and municipal areas in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and in the district of Darjeeling, but the amount was found to be inadequate. It is therefore proposed to make further provision for this purpose for the year 1914-15. The amount paid for maktabs in board areas was also found to be inadequate, and the question of giving them increased grants in future is under consideration. In Eastern Bengal the maktabs which have adopted the primary school course are, as already stated, treated as primary schools and receive aid accordingly. In 1912-13 these institutions received Rs. 30,862 from public funds.

CHAPTER XI.

The Education of Special Classes.

Scope of the Chapter.

99. This chapter deals with the following subjects :—

(a) The education of Chiefs and Nobles.

(d) The education of children of tea-garden labourers.

Education of Chiefs and Nobles.

100. There are no separate schools in the Presidency for the education of the sons of Chiefs and Nobles. The only institution which calls for mention is the Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad, which makes special provision for teaching the boys of the Nizamat family, 26 of whom were under instruction during the year.

Education of aborigines and other backward classes.

101. The number of pupils of aboriginal descent and of the depressed classes shows an increase of 1,599 over that of the previous year, and stood at the close of the period under review at 48,171. The only measure that deserves mention here so far as the western divisions are concerned is the submission to Government during the year of certain proposals for the expansion and development of education among the Sonthals in the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore. A complete scheme for the purpose will shortly be formulated on the lines suggested in these proposals. A sum of Rs. 2,732 was sanctioned by Government for the establishment of five Burmese lower primary schools for the education of Mughs in the Cox's Bazar subdivision of the Chittagong district. No further noticeable steps in advancement were taken in the Eastern Bengal districts, but proposals were mooted for providing adequate hostel accommodation for the boys of the Namasudra, Rajbanshi and Yogi communities.

Education of defectives.

102. The most important of the institutions for the education of the physical defectives are the deaf and dumb schools at Calcutta and Barisal. At the close of the period under review the Calcutta school had 58 pupils on its rolls, and that at Barisal 14 only. On the former Government spent Rs. 150 and the Corporation of Calcutta Rs. 200 per month, while the District Board of Barisal paid Rs. 15 per month to the latter as a grant-in-aid. There is another important school at Calcutta which undertakes the education of the blind and deserves mention, It taught 49 pupils during the year, and received Rs. 960 from Government and Rs. 1,250 from the municipality towards its maintenance.

Education of the children of tea-garden labourers.

103. There were 105 tea-garden schools working at the end of the year in the districts of Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri with 2,172 pupils. The total expenditure on these schools out of Provincial revenues was Rs. 8,829. A capital grant of Rs, 2,500 was made during the year for starting 15 of these schools in the Jalpaiguri district.

CHAPTER XII.

Private Institutions.

104. The purely indigenous education of the country is carried on in unrecognised (1) tols, (2) maktabs or Koran schools, (3) kyoungs or monastic schools conducted by Budhist teachers and (4) other schools that do not conform to any recognised system of public instruction. The number and attendance of these indigenous schools are subject to fluctuation, as most of them open and close spasmodically. From the divisional reports it, however, appears that there is a tendency of this class of institutions to accept standards recognised by Government; hence the decrease in the number of institutions dealt with in this chapter. In the course of the year 1912-13 the number of schools declined from 2,379 to 2,217, but that of the pupils attending them increased from 54,729 to 55,858, of which 40,762 were Muhammadans and 13,402 were Hindus, while the rest belonged to other races.

The most conspicuous of this class of institutions is the "Santiniketan Brahmacharyya Asram" at Bolpur in Birbhum, founded by Mr. Rabindra Nath Tagore.

CHAPTER XIII.

Physical and Moral Training.

Hostels.

105. The number of hostels and boarding-houses for boys increased from 470 to 521 and of boarders from 13,759 to 15,018. Besides these there were 65 boarding-houses for girls with 3,840 inmates. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 16,98,500 as against Rs. 14,67,806 in the previous year. The Government contribution increased from Rs. 2,79,056 to Rs. 2,93,578, while the contributions from District and Municipal Boards decreased from Rs. 4,419 to Rs. 2,121. The receipts from fees and other sources increased from Rs. 11,84,331 to Rs. 14,02,801. As the result of the Imperial grant allotted for the purpose it was possible to effect considerable improvement in college and school hostels in the Presidency, and it is hoped that with the help of the grants now available for this purpose further improvement will be possible in this direction in near future. During the year under review the following Imperial grants were available for expenditure on hostels :—

(a) the unspent balance of the Imperial grants of 1911-12 amounting to Rs. 12,33,000 ;

(c) the new non-recurring grants of (1) Rs. 10,00,000 for hostels in the city of Calcutta and (2) Rs. 2,00,000 for hostels in areas other than Calcutta and Dacca out of the grant of 4 lakhs announced by the Government of India for this purpose.

It was not, however, possible to spend the whole of these grants during the year. Out of the balance of the grants of 1911-12, Rs. 2,53,741 were spent on college hostels and Rs. 1,10,868 on school hostels. Pending the formulation of a suitable scheme for its general utilisation, the recurring Durbar grant of Rs. 1,32,000 was set apart for expenditure on non-recurring projects during the year under report. The amount which it was practicable to spend out of this grant was, however, Rs. 63,419. The bulk of the new allotment of Rs. 12,00,000 remained unexpended during the year, the actual expenditure under this head being Rs. 90,459 only.

Messes.

106. In large towns like Calcutta and Dacca, where adequate hostel accommodation cannot be provided, the excess has to be accommodated in messes. The Calcutta mess scheme was described in the last Quinquennial Report. The messes which it embraces are under the supervision of an inspector of messes. The messes at Dacca are under the control of the "City Educational Council." The 'Proctor,' the executive officer of this body, exercises general supervision over all the messes at Dacca. The scheme is said to be fairly successful. The mess system, which exists more or less in other towns, is far from satisfactory. The whole problem involved in the residence of college students and school boys is one the seriousness of which it is not possible to exaggerate.

Physical Training.

107. Physical exercise increases yearly in popularity and some facilities for games exist in most centres, where college students and school boys are to be found. The most popular games are football and cricket ; tennis is also played. The whole physical exercise movement, excellent though it is in every way, needs organisation and guidance. All the various problems which are concerned with what may be called the physical side of school and college education are now being considered by a committee appointed by Government.

Moral Training.

108. In December 1912 a conference was held under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan to discuss the question of religious and moral training. The deliberations of this conference are under the consideration of the Government.

Discipline.

109. Serious breaches of discipline are becoming fewer, but what is observed in Mr. Prothero's Quinquennial Review is still probably true, that though there is acquiescent discipline everywhere, there is not very much of the true spirit of discipline manifesting itself in active co-operation with authority.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conferences.

110. The most important of the educational conferences held during the year under review were :—

(1) the conference of Inspectors held by the Director of Public Instruction in July 1912 to discuss the question of the distribution of the Imperial grants for primary education ;

(2) that held in December 1912 under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan in connexion with the question of religious and moral training ;

(3) that on Sanskrit education also held under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan in February 1913 ; and

(4) that for the constitution of a Female Education Committee for the Province which sat for the first time in March 1913.

Conferences of Inspectors and Deputy Inspectors of Schools were held to discuss various educational problems connected with the areas concerned. Gatherings of gurus at convenient centres were also held under the supervision of Sub-Inspectors of Schools ; the principal object of these gatherings is the instruction of the gurus in new methods of teaching.

CHAPTER XV.

Text-Book Committees.

111. There are at present two separate text-book committees in the Province—one at Calcutta and the other at Dacca. These two bodies continue to examine books and periodicals intended for use in schools in West and East Bengal, respectively. The work of the former increased during the year owing to the fact that after the recent territorial redistribution the work of examining books in Urdu, Persian and Arabic, which was previously done by the Bankipore Committee, devolved on it. Books in Hindi are also required for use in schools in Calcutta and the Darjeeling district. The Text-Book Committee at Dacca had to carry on a regular campaign against the sale and use of "keys." It took initial steps to open at Dacca a book-shop recognised by the Department, which would both refrain from selling keys and also be in a position to supply text-books without difficulty. During the year of report 222 books were approved by the Calcutta Committee, while the Dacca Committee examined 146 books out of 184 sent by the Director of Public Instruction for consideration.

The future of the text-book committees is under consideration.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1913.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

POLICE.

DARJEELING, THE 18TH JUNE 1914.

RESOLUTION No. 1193 P.—D.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1913.

SIR FREDERICK HALLIDAY held charge of the office of the Commissioner of Police throughout the year with the exception of a period of three months, when Mr. Clarke, Deputy Commissioner, officiated as Commissioner. Of the changes made in the force in response to various administrative needs, the most noteworthy was the abolition of the old Calcutta Armed Police consisting of constables under European Sub-Inspectors, and its replacement by two companies of regularly constituted Armed Police.

2. The discipline of the force as indicated by the punishments inflicted appears to have been maintained at the same standard as in the previous year. A smaller sum was expended on rewards, partly owing to the uncertainty of the Commissioner's power to grant them in certain cases ; but instructions are being issued which will define the Commissioner's power to reward the good work of his officers and men. Though recruitment has been discontinued at Nathnagar in Bihar since April 1913, more recruits were enlisted, and the number finally left to complete their training was 100 more than in the previous year. The Dullunda buildings, which have been selected for the location of the new training school, will shortly be vacated by the Forms Department ; and funds have been provided in the budget of 1914-15 for the alterations required in the structure and for the equipment of the school. The construction of the block in the Lal Bazar compound for the accommodation of the European Sergeants is in progress and will be completed this year. Barracks for the Armed Police at Paikpara were completed, and numerous minor projects carried out ; but much remains to be done before the Calcutta Police are housed in their own buildings. The building programme cannot keep pace with the demand for accommodation : the bill for house rent for officers and men has increased by over Rs. 36,000 since 1911, and now amounts to over 1¾ lakhs of rupees. Two new Courts were opened in the northern and southern portions of the town ; and the central Courts at Lal Bazar will shortly be removed to a more suitable habitation in Bankshall Street.

3. The criminal record of the year was comparatively uneventful till September, when Head Constable Haripada Deb, who was engaged in the investigation of political crime, was shot dead in College Square. The details of the liberal provision which Government has made for the family of the deceased officer has already been made public. Serious offences against property, especially burglaries, increased in number ; and the large increase in the number of these offences in the suburbs calls for the notice of the Commissioner. The value of the property stolen in the town and suburbs increased by over 1 lakh of rupees, and the percentage of recovery was less. It is reported, however, that 41 per cent. of the amount stolen consisted of cash or unidentifiable currency notes, and that in more than 50 per cent.

of the burgalaries the value of the property stolen was under Rs. 50. Six river dacoities were committed during the first six months of the year; but it is satisfactory to record that the discovery and conviction of a gang stopped these offences during the remaining half of the year. His Excellency in Council, however, thinks that the decrease in the number of cases in which old offenders are committed to the Sessions is not a matter for congratulation. It is possible that Magistrates are unwilling, if the theft is petty, to commit an old offender to the Court of Session, so that he may receive a sentence beyond their own power; but, in the case of an irreclaimable thief, a prolonged term of imprisonment is often the only remedy left to the State to prevent him preying upon the public.

4. The number of true cognizable cases increased by 2,500, chiefly on account of prosecutions for the obstruction of public thoroughfares; of cases of public nuisance; and of breaches of the excise law, mostly for the illegal possession and sale of cocaine. Prosecution is still the only satisfactory method of dealing with road obstruction; and to facilitate the suppression of this nuisance Government have under consideration a proposal to establish a Court of Honorary Magistrates at a convenient place in the locality where the evil is most prevalent. A fall in the number of prosecutions for cruelty to animals was accompanied by an increase of nearly 25 per cent. in the amount of fines imposed for such offences. The Courts not only imposed more deterrent sentences, but also ordered a larger number of horses to be sent to the Belgachia Infirmary for treatment. It is satisfactory that the number of ownerless and diseased pariah dogs has considerably decreased in the last two years; but the Commissioner is confronted with the difficulty that stray dogs from the surrounding areas find their way into the town. His Excellency in Council considers that co-operation in this matter is desirable, and invites the attention of the Suburban Municipalities to the powers conferred on them by the Bengal Municipal Act which will enable them to deal effectively with this evil.

5. The work of the Courts continues to increase, and the rise of non-cognizable cases was mainly due to prosecutions under the Municipal Act and the Hackney Carriage Act. The number of cases disposed of also increased; but the number pending at the close of the year, especially in the Courts of the Presidency Magistrates, was excessive compared with the figures of the previous two years. The Honorary Presidency Magistrates rendered less assistance than in the previous year, and disposed of 6·4 per cent. of the total number of cases of all descriptions. The unpaid magistracy has shown commendable public spirit in the past in bearing a share of the burden of judicial work in spite of difficulties of accommodation. As the Courts have been rearranged and provided with more ample accommodation and an increased number of Honorary Magistrates has been allotted to each of them, the Governor in Council anticipates that the assistance rendered by Honorary Magistrates will be even more substantial than in the past.

6. The report of the Commissioner discloses a remarkable increase in motor traffic in recent years. The number of motor vehicles in and around Calcutta increased by 640 cars and taxi-cabs and 173 motor-cycles: the total number at the close of the year was 2,462 cars and taxi-cabs and 592 motor-cycles. Up to the end of 1913 nearly 4,000 licenses have been granted for driving motor-cars and riding motor-cycles. Greater activity was shown in prosecuting for offences under the Motor Car Act and Statutory Rules: 674 persons were prosecuted as compared with 376 in 1912, while 630 persons were warned for breaches of minor rules. The number of persons killed or injured by motor-cars and in other conveyance accidents increased, but it compares favourably with the number of similar street accidents in many other large towns. The expansion of motor traffic and the possibility of the introduction of steam and petrol motor tractors for the carriage of heavy goods demanded an examination of the existing rules, and a representative committee was appointed by Government to suggest amendments. The committee has finished its labours, and its report is under consideration. As a Motor Vehicles Act applicable to the whole of India has been passed superseding the local Act, the new rules will be issued under the provisions of that Act.

7. The "Refuge" continued to extend its humanitarian work of giving shelter to the destitute and infirm. Disabled beggars who are convicted in Calcutta and the suburbs may be sent to that institution by the order of the Magistrate, and Government gives a grant of Rs. 8 a month on certain conditions in respect of every such person admitted. Last year 561 convicted beggars were received in the institution as compared with 122 in the previous year. A similar capitation grant has been sanctioned in respect of disabled blind persons admitted after conviction to the "Calcutta Blind School." A proposal to acquire the premises occupied by the "Refuge" was sanctioned during the year. The expenditure involved will amount to over Rs. 1,37,000, including a Government grant of Rs. 50,000; the rest has been raised by subscriptions. These two non-official charitable institutions, which depend largely on voluntary contributions for their existence and continued success, form valuable auxiliaries to official agencies in dealing with the problem of vagrancy. Rupees 4,371 were paid from the Claude Martin Fund to 903 released offenders, and a further sum of Rs. 3,000 from the same fund was similarly distributed by the Inspector-General of Prisons. The fund owes its origin to a bequest of Rs. 1,50,000 made by General Claude Martin. The annual income, amounting to Rs. 6,000, is administered by the Visiting Justices of the Presidency Jail. Released convicts whose conduct during imprisonment has been creditable and who are deserving of help receive sums of money from the Commissioner of Police in order to provide themselves with the necessaries of life. This system of granting subsistence allowances, while productive of a certain amount of good, only touches the fringe of the problem of dealing with released prisoners. Success in this matter has been found in other countries to depend chiefly on the efforts of private philanthropic bodies. The Calcutta Prisoners' Aid Society has done very useful work in making a beginning in this direction; but the scope of the activities of such societies must be commensurate with the extension of private charity.

8. His Excellency in Council notes with satisfaction that the Calcutta Fire Brigade are now housed in a more suitable building in Corporation Place, and that a new fire station has been opened for the protection of the congested area near Harrison Road. During the year excellent work was done by the Brigade, which answered 224 calls, 89 more than the average of the last ten years. Against this maximum number of calls has to be recorded the minimum loss of property, which was 4 lakhs of rupees less than in the previous year.

9. Among the features of the year's administration may be mentioned the more extensive use of the Finger Print Bureau and the help afforded by it; an increase of the importation and sale of arms and certain incidents of illegal dealing in weapons, which demonstrate the necessity of continued vigilance in the administration of the Arms Act; and the grant of certificates and medals by the Royal Humane Society to those persons who distinguished themselves in the disaster at Sibpur Ghat in 1912.

10. The Governor in Council is pleased to observe the Commissioner's commendations of the officers who have performed their duties with credit during the year, and desires to thank Sir Frederick Halliday for his efficient administration of the Department.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta; the Commissioner of the Presidency Division; the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta; and the General (Municipal) Department of this Government, for information.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW AND IMPROVED BRIDGE BETWEEN CALCUTTA AND HOWRAH.

No. 2151 Mne

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th June 1914.

READ—

1. Letter from the Port Commissioners, Calcutta, No. 4545, dated the 4th August 1913, representing the necessity for the construction of a new and improved bridge between Calcutta and Howrah, and submitting designs and specification for the same.
2. Letter No. 732, dated the 20th September 1913, and enclosures, from the Chairman of the Howrah Municipality making the same suggestion, and requesting that the Howrah Municipality may be given an opportunity of putting forward their views before the matter is finally settled as the interests of Howrah will be greatly affected by the new bridge.
3. Report of the Committee recently appointed by the Government of Bengal to investigate the trade and other facilities of Calcutta in which they also recommend the construction of an improved bridge on the present site.

THE existing Howrah Bridge is 40 years old and has outlived its span of life, and there is a consensus of opinion that it is necessary to construct a new and up-to-date Bridge at an early date. The matter has recently been taken up by the Port Commissioners to whom the execution of the project will probably be entrusted, and they have already dealt with some of the preliminaries leading up to the preparation of the plans and estimates. After inviting competitive designs on a preliminary specification giving the particular features required for the new Bridge from selected British, American, Continental as well as local firms, they submitted the designs received for the examination of a Committee of Experts, consisting of Mr. R. S. Highet, Chief Engineer, East Indian Railway, Mr. R. R. Gales, Engineer-in-Chief, Lower Ganges Bridge, Mr. W. McCabe, Chief Engineer to the Corporation of Calcutta, and Mr. J. Scott, Chief Engineer Port Commissioners, Calcutta. The Committee submitted the designs to a full and close scrutiny and eventually determined upon a modified specification which would in their opinion meet the requirements of all the interests concerned. This specification was forwarded to Government with the letter from the Port Commissioners cited in the preamble.

2. On receipt of this letter and the specification, the question of the site of the new Bridge was referred to the Port Facilities Committee, while the scheme was simultaneously examined by this Government with reference to the difficulties which arose as to the legislation necessary before the Bridge could be constructed and the methods by which that construction should be financed. The Port Facilities Committee have informed the Government of Bengal that they approve of the present site of the Howrah Bridge as suitable for the construction of the new Bridge. The question of legislation has been considered, but it cannot be determined until the method of financing the scheme has been decided.

3. It is proposed to construct the new Bridge on the same site as the present one and the specification forwarded by the Port Commissioners appears to the Governor in Council to be suitable, in that it provides for greatly improved gradients in the Bridge and its approaches, for an effective increase in the roadway which is designed to carry tram lines, and for footpaths of double the present width. It is also proposed to abolish the present railway level crossing, the Port Trust Railway being taken under the Calcutta approach to the Bridge by means of a subway.

4. The total estimated cost of the new Bridge is about one crore of rupees, and to meet this expenditure the only assets actually available are the reserve fund of the existing Bridge amounting to six lakhs of rupees, and the value of the materials of the Bridge and of the two Bridge ferry steamers, viz., the Buckland and the Howrah which will no longer be needed, amounting to about four lakhs. The ferry steamers will be purchased by the Port Commissioners for the purpose of their regular ferry service. This leaves a sum of ninety lakhs to be raised by means of a loan or otherwise.

5. The cost of constructing a subway for the Port Trust Railway, to which allusion has been made in paragraph 3 of this Resolution, has not been specifically included in the estimate of one crore of rupees for the construction of new Howrah Bridge. It is estimated that the cost of this subway will be nearly four lakhs of rupees. This work is urgently required and the Governor in Council is of opinion that it should be undertaken at once by the Port Trust. The law on the subject of such work is contained in section 14 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, which empowers the Government of India to apportion the cost between the Railway Administration concerned and the local authority, if any, which maintains the road. In the present case the Commissioners of the existing Bridge are the "local authority" in question. If it be decided by the Government of India that the Commissioners of the existing Bridge should pay a portion of the cost of the subway the reserve fund of six lakhs of rupees, which is mentioned in paragraph 4 of this Resolution, will be proportionately reduced and the balance to be raised by a loan will be proportionately increased. The estimate of one crore for the new Bridge is, however, only approximate. Whatever be the orders of the Government of India as to the incidence of the cost of the subway, the sum to be raised by a loan for the construction of the new Bridge will be in the neighbourhood of ninety lakhs, and this figure may fairly be taken as the basis of the present discussion.

6. It has been suggested that the cost of the loan should be shared by the interests benefited by the Bridge, and it may be stated here that the Government of Bengal do not consider that it would be justifiable to construct the new Bridge for Calcutta at the expense of the general taxpayer, and are consequently not prepared to take upon themselves the whole cost of providing it, although their interest in Calcutta is so great that they are prepared to bear a reasonable proportion of the expenditure to be incurred.

7. It has also been suggested that the imposition of tolls on the Bridge would provide an equitable method of raising the loan required, but tolls are admittedly inconvenient and wasteful, and the Governor in Council does not favour the adoption of this course.

8. The actual sum to be provided per annum would appear to be the following :—

		Rs.
2 per cent. on a loan of 90 lakhs for 30 years for Sinking Fund payment	... ...	1,80,000
4 per cent. on the same loan for interest	...	3,60,000
Total	...	5,40,000
To which must be added for maintenance	...	1,25,000
GRAND TOTAL	...	6,65,000

9. To meet this annual outlay, it has been suggested that the following annual contributions should be made :—

		Rs.
Terminal tax on goods now levied at Howrah	...	2,00,000
Government grant	...	1,00,000
Track rent to be paid by the Calcutta Tramways Company	...	25,000
Port Commissioners' grant ...	...	75,000
Terminal tax on railway passengers to and from Howrah within 30 miles radius ...	...	75,000
Howrah Municipality's grant ...	...	40,000
Calcutta Corporation's grant ...	...	1,50,000
Total	..	6,65,000

10. Before however arriving at a final decision in the matter, the Governor in Council will be glad to be favoured with the opinion of the general public, and of the bodies chiefly interested in the scheme. These opinions should reach Government by the end of July 1914.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that copies be forwarded to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades Association, the Port Commissioners, Calcutta, the Agents, East Indian Railway, Eastern Bengal State Railway and Bengal-Nagpur Railway, the Calcutta Corporation, the City Improvement Trust, Calcutta, and the Howrah Municipality for information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. C. J. DELOTBINIÈRE, LT.-COL., R.E.,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 22nd June 1914.

Summary.—During the week under review general rain fell nearly throughout the Province. The fall was heavy in Jalpaiguri and Chittagong, but moderate elsewhere. Ploughing for winter rice and weeding of aus paddy and jute are nearly finished. Sowing of winter rice in nurseries is going on briskly. Transplantation has begun in places. The prospects of standing crops are fairly good. Cattle-disease is reported from nine districts. The average price of common rice remains stationary as compared with that of the previous week.

CALCUTTA,
The 20th June 1914.

D. N. MOOKERJEE, for Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

THE following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of May for all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-reporting stations in each district.

The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of past years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slighty different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal :—
